"Tolerance, reverence, humility, sense of humor, courage, and patriot-ism-all are the necessary qualifications of an educated man or woman." The character of the person to whom we have chosen to dedicate this book embodies these qualities. She is known throughout Ohio as a leader in the scientific field. Today, more than ever before, the sphere of science has gained prominence and significance. For these reasons and because she is worthy of the honor, we are proud to dedicate the '+2-'+3 Delphian to Miss Leila Helmick.

$F_{\text {OREWORD }}$

Throughout the following pages, the objective has been to portray school life in its true simplicity and informality. The youths of today are surrounded by a strange war-torn world. The past, too, offers only the ragings of terrible wars. It is therefore imperative that high school and high school life will be so recorded that it will afford pleasant memories for all.

The values of high school are inestimable. The general knowledge and education here acquired are of unquestionable worth; the friendships and acquaintances here formed are priceless. To insure and protect these inheritances is the reason for our fighting today. Annuals such as this one personify true democracies. Thus it is our sincere effort to publish this annual to reflect the glory of the present for the appreciation of today and the admiration of the future.

The Class of 1943 Marches On

1939-40-FRESHMEN

The chartered history of the class of " +3 " started back in 1939 when our class became freshmen. Our heads swelled with pride as we were acclaimed leaders of Joseph Welty Junior High School. As freshmen, we had no serious thoughts or troubles, only those concerning the courses and subjects which we tried to master. As the year drew to a close. we had our first class day-a day of picnicking, skating, and noise-making. Then came the day of graduation, which took us into the unfamiliar portals of senior high. We left junior high for the last time in 1940 feeling very confident, having high ideals about life, and ready for what awaited us in the strange world of upper classmen.
1940-41-SOPHOMORES

The sophomore year in senior high was confusing, and somewhat discouraging as we had very few activities and more hard and complicated studies. But the class of " +3 " showed its true colors. We had a large honor roll and a high scholastic record. For the first time in many years the sophomores enjoyed a lovely spring dance with a gayly decorated auditorium. Thus a truly fine year ended in a truly fine way.

$$
19+1-42-\mathrm{JUNIORS}

We entered school in the fall of " +1 " feeling gay and anticipating another school year full of fun and frolic. But, on December 8, 19+1, war was declared. Instantly changes, adjustments in living, and new duties sprang up. The school started to sell war savings stamps and bonds. This we junior took in our stride, shouldering our small part of the war effort with a smile.
Though the world was at war, the spring brought our love-bugs, club activities, school dances and assemblies, and above all, the Junior Prom, which climaxed our school year. Too finance this we presented a very successful and entertaining "Junior Revue."
Again vacation was before us; only during this one we pledged ourselves to buy more stamps and bonds and to do our part in contributing to the war effort.
19+2-43-SENIORS

For the school term of $19+2-+3$ we seniors walked into the doors of senior high with reluctant feet, as we knew this would be the last time for most of us to be a part of Central High School. We wanted this term, however, to be our most memorable and enjoyable one.
A number of the students participated in the Senior Scholarship test. A senior jamboree was given to raise money for the senior class fund. Class dues had to be paid. Class rings and pins were given out. With the coming of spring, the problem of the class play appeared. The play-casting committee had trouble choosing the characters. The prom and banquet then made their appearance. Again soft lights, music, laughter, swirling dresses, and tweeds were prominently displayed.
Now, at last, comes commencement. All traces of gayety have disappeared. We seniors will march solemnly and quietly down the aisle to receive our displomas. We know we are facing a troubled, war-torn world, but we have a fierce determination in our hearts to fight our enemies so that our democracy will shine above all others, enabling future generations to go to a democratic school as we have had the privilege of doing.

The senior play choosing committee chose for this year's production a recent Broadway success, Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's comedy, "You Can't Take It With You."
In the home of Grandpa Vanderhof, just around the corner from Columbia University, lives a family of individualists. The brood presided over by Grandpa goes about the business of living in the fullest sense of the word. Penny writes plays, but she never gets one finished. Pau! and Mr. De Pinna, who came to the house one day to deliver the ice and stayed eight years, are manufacturing firecrackers in the cellar. Essie breaks into a dance at the slightest provocation. Ed, her husband, gets the whole household jailed for a night just because he likes to print. The Internal Revenue Department comes for Grandpa Vanderhof, who hasn't paid any income tax for twentyfive years because he doesn't believe in it; but Grandpa happily proves that he has been legally dead for eight years. Rheba, the colored maid, Donald, her man, Kolenkhov, the wild Russian, and the Grand Duchess Olga Katrina, his friend, all add their bit to the happy madness of the household.
Alice is the only member of the family who seems to have escaped the tinge of mild insanity that pervades the rest of them. She falls in love with her boss's son, and when he brings his family to the Sycamore home for dinner, a clash ensues between the conventionality of the Kirbys and the amusing laxity of the Sycamores. In the end Grandpa tells God that Alice is going to marry Tony, and it looks as if they are going to be very happy.

CLASS PROPHECY

Abstract

In davs of old, a prophet bold, Gruesome futures to some foretold. Though the wrath of the gods fell on his head, He cared not what he wrote or said. But woe is me; if the things I say Fail to come true, this gal will pay! So this is it, as the gods decreed; If it turns out wrong, your sympathy I'll need.

What an opportunity lies within the grasp of our class today! From among our number will be made heroes about whom history will be written. A grave responsibility rests upon each of this year's graduates to mold the future for a peaceful world. That is serious now; but if we do the job well, out of it will come happiness and fun and joy in living. After the war clouds have lifted, sit down some day with your Delphian and look over the names of the $19+3$ class. Have the stars steered me aright in my predictions? Check on these prognostications; are they not true?
There's John Ryszka in the diplomatic service of his country in Central Europe. (Incidentally he's happily married to a Washington society belle!)
And Barbara Price, bless my soul, as if keeping house for Dewey were not a job in itself! She is art editor for "Mademoiselle." What a break, but "Babs" really deserved it.
Carl Waddington and Eugene Overholt (imagine that!) are running against each other for county treasurer. I never dreamed they were good at figures!
Bonnie Calhoun-Yes, sir, it is Bonnie-a Powers' Model. I saw her modeling in Lazarus' Tea Room the other day. However it's only a pastime with Bonnie. Being the wife of a prominent business man keeps her busy most of the time.
Bob Fawcett-My, my, what the army has done for him! Why, he's streamlined and full of pep. He's a living advertisement for the New Vitamin Enriched Horlick's Malted Milk Tablets which he sells.
Victor (Jive Boy) Jenkins is now leader of a dance band. Known as "King of the Kettles," he still beats it out on the drums.
Take note, all businessmen! Helen Riggle is now a private secretary, and she's as charming and efficient as ever. By the way, she was recently hired by the "Sloe Motion Picture Company" of Los Angeles.
Have you heard that "Connie and Gibby" are featured as roller skaters at Madison Square Garden? 'There's quite a future for those girls, and the names of McIntosh and Gibbs will go down in history for their skill in "tripping the light fantastic" on wheels.
The impossible has been accomplished! Thorald (Duck) Alexander has discovered the secret of perpetual motion.
Well, 'pon my word, our own Tom Whitman is representative from the 16 th District. He's famous for his filibustering, and recently talked for two and one-half days on "Lengthening the Working Day for Women."
Following World War II, Regina McGill remained as a Red Cross nurse in the Philippines. Just to look at her is the best medicine any soldier could want.
"Gintz and Sturm"- Why it's Jane and Mary Lou! They're in business together selling the very latest styles in ladies' wearing apparel. They specialize in glass and plastic bathing suits.

Eileen Green is living high these days. Remember? She married that fellow in the Air Corps, and they now have three little pilots and a stewardess. Some crew, ei what, but just the same Eileen never seems to be up in the air about anything.
We found out the other day that Raymond (Bud) Bair is a crack pilot on a coast-to-coast air line. You just can't keep a good man down!
Remember "Vic" Mattevi? They say he was among the first to enter Berchtesgaden in a Commando raid. Small but mighty, "Vic" surely had what it took.
You might be glad to know that the 1950 Pulitzer Prize play was written by the Mantho Coordinators (Coleman and Thomas), prominent playwrights.
Why, I never expected to see this. Vaughn Erb is nationally known as a connoisseur of music and a master of the violin.
Of course, we all knew what Pat Dienst's future held for her ; and we were right. Ted Reese's wife she is, and what more could you want!
Harold Maurer is the silent partner of the Zimmerman law firm. Need I say why he is silent?
I hear that Jim Timpe is now chief cartoonist for "The Daily Times." Yes, sir, the "Central News" can still be proud of Jim.
What a brilliant future Gypsie Lee Billups has. As a prima donna of opera she has traveled widely, pursuing her career on the concert stage. Yes, we're proud of Gyp. Bob Spring is the proprietor of a famous New York restaurant whose specialty is roasted rattlesnake. This popular dish swept the country during the meat shortage in ' +3 .
Two internationally known industries are owned by members of our class, the "Cicconetti Spaghetti Company" and the "Maloney Baloney Company, Inc."
We find John and Mary Frances now united under the name Mathias. Theirs was a touching senior romance.
And, say, did any of you notice Nadine Click's picture in all the latest magazines? "She's engaged. She's lovely. She uses Ponds" was inscribed below her picture. We always wondered what her secret was.
Rea Ritter is now the owner of a large sports goods store in New York. He carries a complete line of basketball equipment, but then we expected that of Rea since he always had a pretty good line when we knew him.
As we all suspected, Bill Watkins has undertaken the undertaking business. Bill never has a shortage of customers, since he is in "cahoots" with Dr. Junior Byers.
Well, well, there's Gordon Singhaus. Believe it or not, he is a professor of Latin at an Eastern university. They say there was a shortage of teachers that year.
Was I surprised to read that Kirkwood Glauser was autographing copies of his latest book entitled "Capitalism and Its Inevitable Economic, Socialistic, and Political Effect upon the New World Order"! (I wonder if even he knows what all that means.) Next time you're in Hollywood, look up Jim Dadisman. He's now talent scout for all-girl shows of the Ziegfeld variety. Jim always could pick 'em.
Sure enough, there's Henry Patterson still in the laundry business. Now under the name of "Hank's Hang-Out" his business is thriving, due to the fact that clothes washed at "Hank's" stay clean for two days longer than clothes washed at other laundries.
We find that Gene Barker is now employed with the Intelligence Department in Washington, D. C. She is an interpreter of Spanish and other foreign tongues.

On February 12, the Junior Class presented "What a Life," a comedy in three acts. The play was under the direction of Miss Warner. The setting is the principal's office in the school which Henry Aldrich attends. Since he is always in trouble, that is where he usually is found. There are two main episodes in the plot. Henry wishes to take Barbara to a dance but cannot unless he makes the highest grade in a history test. He copies and gets into trouble over it. Then he is also accused of stealing a number of band instruments and "hocking" them. George Bigelow, however, is found guilty of this crime. As the curtain falls, Henry has straightened out most of his troubles for a time.

SENIOR WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1943, in possession of full mental faculties, do hereby bequeath our following most prized and cherished accomplishments and precious property to be divided as stated in this document:
Article I To the Junior and Sophomore Classes we leave Room 32 with its beautiful etchings of hand-carved artistry of years gone by, and do appoint them as the guardians of the gum thereon. (You'll be lucky if we don't take the gum with us.)
Article II-To Johnny McKnight, "Kork" Kirk leaves his beautiful, brawny musclebound body.
Article III - To Margie Edie, Lois Browning wills her ever-ready smile.
Article IV-Thorald "Duck" Alexander bequeaths his quietness and self-sontrol to Sam Urfer.
Article V-Bill Neiger wills his speedy legs and football career to Bob Ed Harris.
Article VI-Dan Stafford bequeaths his ability to translate Latin to Bob Cope. (Witnessed by M. Tullius Cicero.)
Article VII - Dewey Brannon wills his leadership as Senior President to any worthy Junior with intestinal fortitude to carry on.
Article VIII - Bill Moffit and Butch Yarnell leave their wonderful bands to any two Juniors brave enough to fight it out.
Article 1X-Maryan Fatig wills her armload of Indian jewelry to Sara Graff.
Article X-To Wilma Renneckar, Marjorie Jackson leaves her musical ability and skill.
Article XI-To some amateur intramural basketball player, Glenn Van Fossen leaves his high scoring honors.
Article XII-To one right honorable Herman Bergman, we leave Forrest "Foo" Miller's ability to cut carpet capers.
Article XIII-Margaret Morgan leaves her powerful cornet to Martha McNeely.
Article XIV - Libby Findley, our "Who's Who" girl, bequeaths her charm, demureness, and ability to make friends and keep them to Mary McIntosh.
Article XV "Rus," Patrick, "Stub" Miller, and Jim Maloney all will their graceful tumbling skill to any other three guys who are slap-happy enough to take it.
Article XVI - To Frankic Ginnetti, Lloyd Didinger bequeaths his towering structure.
Article XVII - Jim Timpe, the little dictator of Schoenbrunn, leaves his masterful military strategy and "lab" experiments with $\mathrm{H}^{2}$ S gas to anyone that Miss Helmick doesn't sit on.
Article XVIII - To Nina Hinson are left the adorable dimples of Mary McCullough.
Article XIX - To the Junior Class, we leave our good looks, our winsome ways, our wonderful personalities, and our bad habits.
Article XX To N. P. H. S. we leave the weary faculty - they have had quite a struggle with us.
We do here on this day of graduation, the Twenty-fifth day of May, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-three, affic our seal of gratitude. It is truly with a feeling of sorrow that we leave the old school, but our country calls us into its ranks and we answer.

COLOR GUARD AND DRUM MAJORS

Row 1-Thomas Whitman, Dewey Brannon, Gerald Harstine, Byron Seabrook, James Dadisman.
Row 2 - Donald Allensworth, Junior Byers, Rea Ritter, Dean Stevens.

The color guard and drum majors have done much to add to the attractiveness of the band.

Many an eye has danced with excitement watching our able drum majors "strut their stuff."

The color guard also has a job to be proud of. It has had the honor of bearing not only our school flag but also the flag of our nation.
This year the band is one of the best in the history of the school. Under the masterful direction of Mr. Bliss, the band put on many flashy shows for the benefit of the football fans. It also made several out-of-town trips.
Besides playing for civic affairs, it played for several assemblies. The band played a big part in the bond drives that were sponsored. This year's band may well be proud of its musical accomplishments.

ORCHESTRA

Row 1 - Keith Ables, Janice Hiller, Helen Kaderly, Lillian Edwards, Bobbie Edwards, Shirley Mitchell, Eleanor Marsh, Nancy Sever.

Row 2 Colleen Williams, Margaret Schneider, Jeanne Fritche, Marjorie Jackson, David Leading, Donald Rutledge, Jeane Utterback, Jeanne Kappeler.

Row + Mary Buchanan, Treva Graff, Mr. Bliss, Thelma Stevens, Margaret Morgan, Regina Mc(iill, James Fishel, Dick Soulsby, Mary McCullough.
Not in picture Robert Seibert.

The orchestra, under the capable direction of Mr . Bliss, has been very active this year. Its first important engagement was to play for the dedication of the new Central School on November 8. From then on it was kept busy playing for assemblies, the Jurior Class play, the G. R.-Hi-Y play, the Senior Class play, Commencement, and Baccalaureate.

THE DANCE ORCHESTRA

This organization is two and a half years old and may well be proud of its achievements. Their music is something to marvel at when you consider that they are just high school students.

The aim of this organization is to provide the high school with good dancing music. Much of its success is due to the able leadership of Bill Moffit.

Due to the restrictions on travel the 19+2-43 Debate Squad was limited in the number of activities it was able to participate in. The question that was used this year is Resolved: That a federal world government should be established.
The squad entered tournaments at Canton McKinley High School and at Massillon High School. The team defeated Kent State, Wadsworth, Wooster, and Ravenna.
With the cooperation of Carrollton High School two practice debates, one at Carrollton and one at New Philadelphia, were staged for the benefit of both teams.

The Latin Club is composed of students who are studying advanced Latin. The club meetings are held once a month. At one meeting this year, skits were presented which showed glimpses of the life of Julius Caesar. The members have the opportunity to delve more deeply into mythology, and this year they have learned to sing several songs in Latin.
The Junior Classical League is a chapter of the National organization of the same name. Its purpose is to hand on the torch of classical civilization in the modern world. An acquaintance with the civilization of Greece and Rome will help the members to understand and appraise this world of today which is indebted to ancient civilization for its government, laws, literatures, languages, and arts.

SPANISH CLUB

Row 2 - William Moffit, Gene Barker, Mary Lou Sturm, Marjorie Snyder, Lillian Edwards.
Row 3-Henry Patterson, Robert Fawcett, Dale Ranft, Arthur Cicconetti, Miss Wicks, Robert Sloc.

OFFICERS

"E! Cerculo Espanol" is the official name of the Spanish Club which is composed of students who are in their second year. Their aim is to learn more about the language and the customs of the Spanish people.
During the second semester several interesting travel talks were given by persons recently visiting South America.
At Christmas, the club enjoyed a party held at the home of Nadine Click. Those on the committee were Nadine Click, Chairman, Marjorie Snyder, Jean Brown, and Dale Ranft.

HI-Y

OFFICERS

The Hi-Y is the club of our high school which is under the supervision of the Young Men's Christian Association, and whose purpose is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character."
The meetings of the club were conducted in a religious manner, and speakers talked to the members on timely and interesting topics. The Hi-Y and Girl Reserves produced the play, "June Mad," which was a big success. The members of the club sold score cards at the football games and thus were of service to the school. Everything, however, was not serious, and the Hi-Y banquet and dance was the major social event enjoyed by the members.

The Handicraft Triangle is composed of a group of girls who lite to do craft-work. In previous years they have made various articles for their own personal pleasure, but this year they have been curtailed in their raw materials and have turned their abilites toward helping the Red Cross. They have made scrap books for our boys in the service, and they have helped a great deal by folding pamphlets put out by the Red Cross. Plans were made to do knitting, but they were unable to get yarn.

The Dramatic Triangle forms an outlet for the vim and vigor of the budding young performers of our school. This year they have studied makeup, directing, and back stage work; and, of course, each girl has been given the opportunity to display her talents. It might be added that several of the group have attempted playwriting with a very successful outcome.

The Music-Arts Triangle interests those girls who are artistic and musical. Their meetings lean toward these fields. One discussion this year attempted to broaden their knowledge of antiques, while others touched the subjects of music ad art, both classical and of the present day.

CENTRAL NEWS STAFF

Row 1-Anna Scardino, Mary Frances Myer, I.eatha Stillwell, Mary Strimbu, Barbara Price. Irene Wells.
Row 2-Martha Kaiser, Eselyn Deitrick, Kos Browning, Wilma Brown. Eileen Linard, Betty Rapport.
Row 3-Evelyn Stither, Shirley Harris, Carmela Altier, Retty Metzger, James Patrick, James Timpe

Kow 5-Jane Gintz, Pathl Freese, Dennis Rady, John Mathias
Kow 6 - Miss Shmmaker, Brenton Kirk, Neal Burke, Janes Dadisman, Stanley Fisher. Xot in picture-Gloria Sherrels and Bonnie Haines.

The Central News keeps the students informed of school affairs by publishing a school paper tri-weekly. It reports school activities weekly in the Daily Times column entitled "Quaker Highlights." It has been a special project of the staff this year to help with the war situation. Among various things the most outstanding accomplishment was the magazine drive for the Denmison Canteen.

CANDY STAND

The Candy Stand is an important source of income for the Delphian. The girls donate their time during the noonhours, after school, and at the basketball games. The two managers are Margaret Gibbs and Dorothy Arend. They have encountered great difficulty this year in obtaining enough candy to supply the demand.

Dorothy Arend, Margaret Gibls, Martha Walters, Dora MeIntyre

Dorothy Sopinski, Jean Willis, Betty Metzser

DELPHIAN TYPISTS

All of the written material of the Delphian must be typed before it is sent to the printers. The girls chosen for this work have a great task to do. Without their time and work there could not be a Delphian.

GIRL'S INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLASS

Row 1-Irene Griffey, Jeane Utterback, Betty Kail, Connie McIntosh, Martha Kaiser, Betty Diehl, Faith Pake.
Row 2 - Isabelle Reif, Leatha Stillwell, Ruth Shores, Bonnie Haines, Mildred Miller, Lillian Edwards.

This sear our high school has opened a new field of training for girls by establishing two industrial arts classes for them. These twenty-eight senior girls are under the supervision of Mr. Pugh and Mr. Glover, and meet in the industrial arts department every day. They are learning the fundamentals of printing, welding, forging, operating a lathe or drill press, blue print drawing, and woodworking. They are learning to recognize and use the tools, precision instruments, and machines common in a machine shop. This training will not, however, enable them to go out and obtain a job in a machine shop; but it will prove a great asset to further training and future work, and also help the girls discover just where their interests and abilities lie in this type of work.

PRE-FLIGHT AERONAUTICS

Row 2-Russell Patrick, Forrest Miller, Jack Marsh, Charles Porterfield, Joseph Ball.

Row 4-Loyd Didinger, Jack Anderson, Robert Gray, John Ryszka, Mr. Howey.
Row 5-Kaye Kislig, Eugene Overholt.

The Aivation Course made its timely arrival into our school this year. The course deals with the same type of problems dealt with in pre-flight aeronautical courses that are taught while the pilots are being instructed in their flying. Therefore, the boys who take this course in high school will be able to progress at a more rapid rate through their preliminary course. Two of the boys in this year's class, Jack Marsh and Donald Zimmerman, already have students' training licenses and are flying planes.

This organization is made up of Girls of Brothers in Service. The purpose of this group is to sell War Bonds and Stamps. There are one major and five lieutenants as the leaders, and the remaining girls are grouped under these five lieutenants. Each group canvassed a certain territory and any of their friends for bonds and stamps. It is a very patriotic club because the girls are helping our country to win this war more quickly and are also hastening the day when their brothers can come home again, safe and sound.

OCTOBER

Dear Diary,
5.9: Jeeps! getting all the scrap collected in Phill: is no easy job. We also had a hundred per cent sale of houds and stamps today. I guess J. B. thought we needed some im after that, for he threw a jive party for us tonight.
19: The sophomores ad all the others who wished to join were supposed to listen in on the $G$. $R$ Code meeting today. We ancients attended also.
21: Study, study study, that's all I hear at home this evenine since I presented my report card
27: Today is Xasy Day, and a little more than usual I thought of all those great big wonderful sailors.
30: Ah, joy! The teachers were actablly the canse of a day's vacation, for they had a convention somewhere.

Signing off. Agnes

NOVZMBER

Dear Diary,
2: Henry gave me the dope on the meeting to organize a Victory Corps which just the seniors a'tended. After school he told me (over a chocolate sodia) that the organization is to prepare us for what we wish to do after we linish school.
3: This evening: Mrs. Sammel Warr spoke to us at the G. R. Recognition Service.
9: Tom Craig, a sollor, kave us some first band news on the war in the Pacitic at our assembly todity. Eien thonkh his ship was sunk, he looked arey good
11: All the school kids marehed in the Armistice Day prarade this morning. We must hate looked weary, for there was no brain session this afternoon.
13: He wouldn't do it for the serap drive but llenry thinks he will hate to junk Bessie (his jallop:) now. Anyhow we ket out of school at I:t5 lor this gas rationing.
26 Daver, 10 Phila, 0 Enoumb said.

Dear Diary.
3-4: I ushered for the grand performances of our operetta "South in Sonora."
1: The teachers presented us with a surprise of four hours of Every Pupil Tests today. I hope a sailor gets the Christmas package I wrapped for the Cantecn in the G. R. group meeting the fifth period.
11: After we saw our team defeat Zanessille in our first basketball game, Henry and I went to the dance which the band mothers sponsored. Moffit's outfit swung out to our satisfaction as usual.
22: After an extra special Christmas assembly, we students were given a furlough till December 28.
28: I returned to the old grind again. Everyone doesn't look too worse for the vacation.
Till the New Year.

JANUARY

Dear Diary.
11-15: Every night this week it is the same thing: cram! cram! cram! Exams never did agree with me. 12: Dover, 39-Phila, 33. Enough said.
$20:$ After receiving our exam grades, I guess I wasn't the only one with a headache today.
28: Gee, I hope I didn't grin too broadly when she snapped my picture, I want it to be good if it goes into the Delphian.
30: Henry and I had a fight, so I took Elmer to the G. R. danee tonight. Matilda took Henry-and I had the toughest time exchanging two dances with her.

Quite busy,

FEBRUARY

Dear Diary,
8: We juniors decided that we would get the same rings the seniors chose. All future classes will get them, also.
9: What a team! Phila, certainly trimmed Dover. That score showed bright-49 to 32 .
12: The Junior Class play, "What A Life," was as enjoyable as the fun I had afterwards with Henry. (And that is something, for we have made up again.)
19: How do we rate, two bands at one dance! After the Jive Bombers made their debut, Moffit's band finished the program. Boy, that was enough to put anyone in the groove.
20 : Yarnell was still solid tonight for the Hi-Y dance.
23-26: Rationing again prevents the attending of school in the afternoon. 1 consider it no sacrifice. As "tempus fugit,"

Agnes

MARCH

Dear Diary,
5: I could have listened "til reveille" to the Senior Jamboree today. I didn't know they had such talents.
6: Hurried down to Dennison to the tournament to see our team climinate Newcomerstown.
12: Cambridge was no match for the best team at Dennison.
13: Dover wins the tournament.
23: I hope Mrs. Hess comes back to talk to us again. She didn't have much time today.
26: Felt "swacky" tonight because I had the most wonderful date (a B. M. O. C.) for the G. R.-Hi-Y play. "June Mad." Boy, was that audtiorium packed.
31: Again the state found out how dense we are through another Every Pupil Test.

APRIL

Dear Diary,
2: I had to stay home while Henry went to the seniors exclusive dance. He said they had lots of fun.
16: We had another big stamp and bond drive today, and our school bought a hundred per cent. Boy, do we feel proud!
21: Henry took me to the $\mathrm{Hi}-\mathrm{Y}$ banquet this evening. After we dined, we also danced.
22-27: All we inmates were set free to enjoy the spring atmosphere.
27: Our Latin Club just about finished their year of Cicero with a super banquet and a movic.
30: We juniors went strutting off to our private dance this evening. We certainly had a dilly of a time.

Sce you soon.

MAY

Agnes

Dear Diary,

S: Mother said the G. R. Mother-Daughter tea was lovely. I thought so, too.
14: Henry took me to see the senior class play, "You Can't Take It with You." I was breathless from the moment the house lights were dimmed until the final curtain closed.
21: The music was smooth, the lights were low, the auditorium was decorated swell, and Henry was beautiful in bis new suit. Oh, Diary, did I forget to say it was the Junior-Senior Prom?
23: Henry told me after baccaulaureate services that he's just beginning to realize how little he knows.
24: Henry gave me a full account of what he did at the banquet. He said the dinner was delicious in spite of food rationing.
25: The seniors donned caps and gowns and marched slowly and sedately down the aisles to receive their diplomas.
28: It's a great day for juniors and sophs. The school doors are closed until next year.

N.P.H.S AND THE WAR夫

The patriotic spirit of the New Philadelphia High School has manifested itself in many successful war activities throughout the year.

One of its major undertakings was the all-city scrap drive in October. In this drive every house in the city was canvassed for metal. The students were divided into small groups, and each group was assigned a certain district. With the hearty cooperation of everyone, four hundred pounds of keys and one hundred and twenty-five tons of scrap iron were collected and disposed of.

Four new courses have been added to the curriculum: (1) pre-flight aeronautics, which provides special courses and activities for the preliminary training of prospective aviation cadets and ground crew maintenance men ; (2) emergency mathematics, a refresher course for students who have not recently studied this subject and will soon have need to use the skills and understandings related to it; (3) a physical fitness program which emphasizes not only health, posture, and calisthenics, but also military drill and first aid ; and ( + ) a girls' industrial arts course which gives the girls some training for the industrial jobs that service men formerly held.

The girls with brothers in service have been organized into G. O. B. S. whose purpose it is to sell bonds and stamps. These girls have been very successful in their enterprise, as they have sold approximately twenty thousand dollars' worth of bonds.

Two Canteen drives were waged, one of which was conducted by the Central News. The total proceeds were thirty dollars' worth of candy bars, sixty-one dollars in cash, and thir-ty-three hundred magazines.
The Victory Corps, which was organized early in the fall is composed of five divisions: (1) Land Service, (2) Sea Service, (3) Air Service, (4) Production Service, and (5) Community Service. The plan has been to do exploratory work in each field. The divisions take turns at sponsoring a program each week, the idea being to help boys and girls find themselves in war work.

The sale of War Bonds and Stamps every Friday was started early in the fall. During an "All Out for Victory" week, through a $100^{\prime}$, cooperation of students and teachers, over ten thousand dollars' worth of bonds and stamps were bought. The second $100 \%$ drive on April 16 resulted in the purchase of $\$ 68,516.25$ worth of bonds and stamps through the shool. A grand total of $\$ 112,321 \mathrm{in}$ stamps and bonds has been sold.

C()ACH STANLEY PLUMMER

With a good nucleus from last year's aggregation, Coach Hoerneman again produced a team of which the school and city can be justly proud. He not only pointed his teams to win victories but also developed in the individual boy self-confidence, coordination, team spirit, and clean sportsmanship-all of which qualities are in reality the chief aims of competitive sports.

During the five years he has been basketball mentor, the Quakers won eighty-seven and lost twenty-five games.

We certainly are fortunate to have a man like Hoerneman to guide our barketball fortunes and to assist is football coach.

THE COACHES

This was Stan's second year as football coach. Only a small squad reported for practice, and even this was hampered by injuries so that the coach labored under adverse conditions all season.

Stin had the lightest N. P. H. S. eleven in years, and the backfield could justly be called a "pony express." He tried to develop speed and deception.

The coach also organized and supervised an extensive intramural program of basketball, tumbling and table tennis.

Mr. Plummer has accepted a position with the American Red Cross, and so he will not be with us until after the war has been won.

ON THE GRIDIRON

This year the Quakers started the season with the smallest squad in years. Since only seven lettermen returned, Coach Plummer had difficulty in rounding out a working combination.
The Phils opened the season under the lights at School Stadium against the Cambridge Brownies, and it was then that the local fans were treated to a sight that brought back memories of years gone by-our boys bedecked in the traditional red and black. Getting revenge for our opening defeat of last year, our small but fast yearlings were too much for the bulkier and slower Cambridge eleven. The Quakers weren't troubled at all as they romped around, over, and through their opponents. The score, 13-0, doesn't tell the whole story, for two Phila touchdowns were nullified by penalties.
The following week before a capacity crowd we played host to our down-county rivals, the gold and black Tigers of Uhrichsville. The Quakers were outscored and outplayed by the strong Tiger team led by Sensanbaugher. Uhrichsville was never in danger, as they went on to win 22-0.

Wellsville, coming back with a bang after last year's defeat, took the Quakers' measure 27-0. The game was filled with fumbles, and the river lads capitalized to the extreme on the Red and Black's bad breaks. Our boys threatened on different occasions, but were never able to cash in.

A great many of the Phila fans' fears were calmed after the East Liverpool episode. Showing great signs of reviving from their lethargy, the fighting Quakers were edged by the superior team 12-0. The Potters had only one more first down than we, but their weight told too greatly on our boys.

Playing against a team of seasoned veterans, our boys were humbled 32-0 by the powerful Canton Lincoln eleven, which had tied Canton McKinley the previous week. Scoring in the early stages of the game, Lincoln had little trouble in hitting "pay dirt." A miscue spoiled our only scoring opportunity.
The Niles McKinley Buildogs were held to a $6-6$ tie in the first half. This was a truly great achievement for the Phils. However, our boys had to give their all to accomplish this, and they didn't have much left for the second half. The big Niles squad rolled on to a decisive $40-6$ victory.
On a slippery and treacherous gridiron that yielded the Quakers many breaks, the Big Red of Bellaire went down to a $7-6$ defeat. The tying points came as the result of Alexander's pulling down a pass that had been batted into the air by the Bellaire fullback. Kirk's placement, the winning point, hit the top of the goal post and glanced over the crossbars.
A vastly superior Youngstown Rayen team rolled over our boys, who were hopelessly outclassed. Using every type of offense, and a staunch defense, the Youngstown lads were unstoppable. They "jest kept on a-rollin'" to swamp the Quakers in a 48 -0 deluge.
Renewing athletic relations with the Dennison Railroaders for the first time in several years, the Quakers succumbed to a superior team by a $20-0$ count. The contest was exceedingly rough, bringing about the banishment of two Phila players and one Dennison player. This was the first time a Red and Black contingent had ever met the Railroaders on a Dennison gridiron.
A truly great Dover Crimson eleven was encountered by the boys of Senior High on Thanksgiving Day. It just wasn't in the books for the Quakers to stop the Tornado juggernaut, and they stubbornly succumbed under a $40-0$ score. A most satisfactory performance was rendered by the Phils in this tiff.
Although our team didn't win so often, we can well be proud of them.

FOOT

BALL

Lener. Ilen

THORALD ALEXANDER
"Duck" had the distinction this year of being selectel honorary captain by his team mates. He reached his peak in the Bellaire game when, with three potential interceptors surrounding him, he snatchel the tying touchdown pass on the goal line. "Duck" was seldom heard by his opponents, but he made himself felt.

BRENTON KIRK

TACKLE
Playing his third year of Varsity ball, "Kork" was an outstanding lineman. The largest player on the team, he helped plug up numerous holes that were opened in our forward wall. He did the plaze-kicking and co-captained the team on the field. Kirk was the only player chosen on Dover's all-opponent team.

JEROME VOGT

GUARI)
Jerome was our small but hard-driving left guard. His defense was wery good, and he made up for his lack of size in grit, nerve, and aggressiveness. His place on next year's team will be hard to fill.

VIC MATTEVI

BACK
Although dimunitive in size. Vic was one of our main back-field niea. Of course he couldn't do much through the enemy's line, but whenever he broke into the open, it took a deer's first cousin to catch him. Vic took a lot of banging around while he was an underclassman, and he deserves all the credit we can give him.

1)ON MILLER

BACK
Don, like Vic, doesn't pack any too much weight, but his speed came in handy on more than one occasion. "Stub" was the fellow "down under" on those long passes which resulted more than once in a touchdown or a substantial gain. Don took a lot of punishment, but he never gave up.

BOB ED HARRIS
BACK
Fiven though Bob Ed is only a sophomore, he held down the dificult position of fullback. Considering his age and lack of experience, this was an admirable feat. He was rarely replaced, another recognition of his ability and durability. We won't worrs about the fullback porsition for the next two vears.

DON PROSSER
CENTER
Although only a junior, Don played his third year of varsity ball this season. He alternated between center and halfback, and did very well at either post. His defensive position was that of line backer, a difficult position to defend. Don will be lost to us next year, as he left school at the close of the first semester.
RUSS SICKELS
GUARD
Russ was also a junior playing his third year of football. His tackling and blocking left little to be desired, as his opponents could readily testify. We wish the best of luck to Russ, who has joined the armed forces of our country.

CLARENCE HANNA

TACKLE
Clarence showed up well, filling a strategic line position in his first year. "Bud" is another sophomore, and consequently has two more years to play in high school. He will be one of the mainstays on the line next year, and we will expect great things from him.

ALBERT MANCUSO

CENTER
"Gus" played left end as his regular position this season, but on several occasions he filled in at his old center position. He did some of our punting and some pass snatching, and played a lot of defense. "Gus", too, has joined the army.

ELMER AFFOLTER

BACK
Elmer was shifted from his last year's position on the line to quarterback. He may not be very large, but when he took his man out with a vicious block, you could hear the smack of leather up in the stands. Elmer was slowed down near mid-season by a leg injury.

JIM MALONEY

BACK
Jim, although somewhat hampered by a neck injury for the past two years, could really "hit that line" when he was participating in his favorite sport. He excelled as a blocker and defensive man, and was used at the quarterback post when Elmer wasn't playing.

JOHN McKNIGHT

BACK
John could handle any position in the backfield. He did most of our punting and some passing. His full worth will show up next year, for he is undoubtedly slated for a main backfield position. John's brawn will be greatly appreciated in coming encounters.

BILL NEIGER

BACK
Handicapped all season with a bad ankle, Bill wasn't able to show his best form. However, no complaints were ever voiced by the squat litthe halfback, although he didn't get to play very much. Bill was always in there slaving, and if half the boys on future teams show half the spirit he has shown, we won't worry.

DAN STAFFORD

TACKLE

Although Dan wasn't a regular, he made his much-deserved letter this year. Stafford is the type of boy that no team can get along without, for in practice, he was always in there doing his best and putting on the pressure, which was plenty when he got his two hundred pounds in motion.

WILLIAM KNIESNER

TACKLE

"Goose" earned a starting position for himself near the end of the season. He wasn't very pretentious to the spectators, but the other teams would heartily agree that he had been around. He packed plenty of force when he charged, and on numerous occasions he spilled the ball carrier for a loss.

BILL JOHNSON

GUARD
Bill was shifted from the backfield to the line this year, where he filled in very nicely. He played his best ball, which was plenty good, near the middle of the season when he broke into the starting lineup. Bill is another who won't be back 'til "it's over over there."

MARVIN BEANS

Although not very large, Marvin can be classified as the type of wiry and tough player that has a habit of popping up in very surprising places as far as the opponent is concerned. He had a knack of being between the other team's ball-carrier and the place to which he was headed.

SAM RAPPORT

GUARD
Sam is one of the group of very promising sophomores who will come into their own in the next two years. Sammy was as hard as nails, and you could see the other fellow bounce when he tried to go through Sam. He was in at the start of a few games this year and gave a very creditable account of himself at all times.

BOB McGLONE
END
Bob saw plenty of action at his end position last season, although he didn't start any games. When Bob entered the line-up, the fans began to watch for that short pass down the middle, for he could really smag 'em. He will be back next year, and we're really counting on him.

CHEERLEADERS

Pauline Tolotti, Mary Dessecker, Helen Riggle, Kathryn Marsh,
Ann Kirk, Connic McIntosh.

The splendid teamwork of our cheerleaders plus the fine cooperation of the students have done much to promote a better school spirit at the football and basketball games. We sincerely hope that they will be able to carry on the good work next year.

BASKET BALL

Row 1-Rea Ritter, Byron Seabrook, Jack Mason, Brenton Kirk, Don Hobart, Dale Harstine, Tom Orr.
Row 2-John Ryszka, Charles Porterfield, Neal Burke, Bob Stewart, Edward Ohliger, Alvin Marsh.

ON THE HARDWOOD

In the opening hardwood court game of the New Phila school year, the Quakers outmaneuvered the Zanesville Blue Devils, 36-26. The Phils played only an average game.
We looked to be anything but a ball team as the Bellevue quint was edged by a 23-19 score. The outcome was in doubt until the end, but two quick bas':ets clinched it. A Cleveland Glenville team that wouldn't say die nearly caught up to the Quakers as the time ran out. We had a ten point lead with three minutes to go, but the final score was 30-28.
The Phila five didn't experience too much difficulty as they edged a husky N. Y. A. team from Leesville. The game was fairly rough, but we came out on top, +3-20. The Red and Black quintet really found themselves in this contest as they "poured it on" to rout the Wooster High Generals to the tune of $+1-20$. The victors displayed an outstanding floor game.
Our boys really earned their $35-31$ victory, for the Youngstown Chaney team they encountered was plenty tough. Two quick baskets climaved the win for the locals.
Outscored by fifteen points in the first half, the fighting Quakers came back strong during the next two periods, but they fell sis points short of the Dover Crimson's total. The final was 39-33.
The Phila lads came through this fracas against the Mansfield Tygers in fine style, winning $+7-38$. The game was fast, with the victors leading all the way, although the score was often close.

In a very rough game, the Quakers rolled over the Dennison Railroaders to the tune of 48-33. The home town boys were ahead all the way. Ths victory was partial revenge for the defeat we suffered at the hands of their football squad.
The Ceramics from East Liverpool came to town with a team that had been hot-andcold all season. The Red and Black caught them on one of their luke-warm nights, humbling them 40-25.
The Uhrichsville Tigers were walloped soundly in the first of the home-and-home series. The down-county squad was handicapped greatly by personal fouls. The final count was $40-16$.
Still smarting under the surprise defeat handed them by the Newcomerstown Trojans last year, the county seat quintet soundly thumped their opponents $5+-21$. The win was, to say the least, decisive.
Competing against a strong Barnesville team that possessed plenty of height, the Phils scored a brilliant $46-34$ victory. Kirk's rebounding was superb, and our zone took care of the rest.
The Quakers reached their top form of the year as they humbled the neighboring Crimson Tornado +9-32. The boys from across the river weren't at top form, but when Ritter and Hobart started to click, the lid flew off. Our whole squad was as hot as a counterfeit million dollar bill.
Unable to keep the pace that had won the last two games for them, the Red and Black cagers of Phila were edged $38-37$ in their only overtime fracas of the season. Their competitors, the Akron West Cowboys, were big and fast.
The basket looked as big as a barrel to the Quakers, for they swamped the Wooster High Generals for the second time this season in a 61-26 deluge. The verdict was never in doubt.
Playing possibly their worst game in the last thirteen starts, the Phils were cremated and buried by the Massillon Tigers. Our team missed enough shots to win three games. The scoreboard read $45-36$ at the crack of the ending gun.
Going from one extreme to the other, the Quakers were called upon to play in the Uhrichsville bird-cage three days after they played at Massillon. However, the change wasn't noticeable, for our lads romped away to a $36-23$ decision.
The Red and Black had a narrow squeak as they edged the rejuvenated Dennison Railroaders in the closing minutes, $3+-30$. The team they had previously beaten by a fifteen point margin nearly upset the dope bucket.
And now to the "tourney."
With a defense that looked like a sieve, the Phils squeezed through on the long end of a $49-41$ count over the Newcomerstown Trojans. Three rapid baskets clinched the win for the locals.
Meeting a tall Cambridge Brownie team that was considered the most dangerous in the tournament, the Quakers played a brilliant game to defeat their opponent +8-3+. This was sweet revenge, for the Brownies had defeated the home-town lads the two previous years by an enmassed total of three points in tourney play.
The Quakers met their Waterloo as they were downed by the red-hot Dover Crimsons $45-30$, in the district finals. The Phils were badly off-form, but the Tornado wasn't. The Red and Black Quakers of Phila High finished a highly successful season with an envious record of eighteen wins and four losses.

BASKET BALL

Lemer. Men

BRENTON KIRK

Center-Co-Captain
Kirk surely deserves the honor of being named Co-Captain this year. Playing his third year of varsity ball, he was particularly outstanding on rebounds and short shots, which he made plenty of. We'll miss this boy very much in athletics next year.

REA RITTER

Guard - Co-Captain
Rea was handicapped near the end of the season by a sprained ankle. received when he crashed into the wall during the Woaster game. He was placed on several all-Ohio basketball squads, and on Dover's al!opponent team. That really shows his worth.

DON HOBART
Forward
Don is another scintillating star belonging to the Class of ' +4 . He specialized in a one-hand hook shot from around the foal circle. In recognition of his ability he has been named captain of the Quakers next year. Good luck, Don!

BYRON SEABROOK
Guazl
Although Seabrook was only a sophomore this year, he gained a starting guard position during the middle of the season and held it in spite of some tough competition. Byron had a knack of intercepting pasies in the front line and turning them into easy buckets.

JACK MASON

Forward
This is Jack's second season with the first five. But it will probably be his last season since he'll soon be in the army. Jack was protably the smoothest passer and the coolest player on the squad, and when he was hitting, you just couldn't stop him.

CHARLES PORTERFIELD

Guard
Chuck earned his second varsity letter this year. He did not shont much while he was in the game, but when he did, you could be pretty sure they were going to drop through. He played his best game at Wooster.

GLENN FRANCIS

An old hoas that haunted Glenn throughout his entire athletic career cropped up again this year when his trick knee jumped out of p'ace carly in the season. Since he was not out during the latter part of the season, we regret that his picture is not among the other lettermen.

TOM ORR
Guard
Tom was always sparking his team to greater efforts, always fighting, always plugging. Wherever he took a shot, the chances were that the Quakers had acquired two more points. We'll be watching him next year.

JOHN RYSZKA

Forward
John, whose best shooting range was around the foul circle, saw plenty of action this year. Besides being a gocd athlete, he ranks with the best in the senior class. Though he wasn't spectacular, he was effective.

NEAL BURKE

Center
Neal was the tall lad on our team, and whenever we ran up against giant opposing stars, "Stretch" kept them busy. He is one of the three veterans that we are sure will be back next year.

ROBERT STEWART

Forward
Bcb was at all times a steady and tough ball player. Whenever he was called into the line-up, the team just kept on rolling without any noticeable change. As Bob is a senior, this is his last season with us.

DALE HARSTINE

Forward
Dale was the type of player that could play of ensive or defensive position on the floor. His ability came out best in the pinches, at times when ability is needed. Dale is also a senior.

EDWARD OHLIGER

Center
Ed didn't get to play much this year, but he will get his chance next season. He was another who could play any position adeptly, being especially good on short rebounds.

ALVIN MARSH

Guarl
All the boys on the squad had a lot of respect for Al , for he was alway; giving his best. Al earned his letter in practice, for his earnestness in scrimmage gave the first five added incentive to keep driving.

RESERVE BASKETBALL TEAM

Row 1-Roland Platz, Bob Ed Harris. Richard Geib, Jack Stoneman, Clarence Hanna, Bill Herron, Eddic Warmack, Willian Kniesner

Row 2-Freddie Ricketts, manager, Jerry Schwaly, Robert Homan, Stanley Fisher, Duane Prysi, Dake Sweany, Marvin Beans.

New Phila's future in basketbali is brightened by the fact that these boys are coming on. Under the capable direction of their new coach, Mr. Ross Hoy, their activities this year have consisted mainly of drilling steadily at the skills of basketball and playing the preliminaries to the varsity games.

RESERVE SCHEDULE

INTRAMURALS

CHAMPIONSHIP BASKETBALL SQUAD

Left to right-Russell Patrick, intramural manager, Glen Marshall, Don Glazier, Jerome Vogt, Frankie Ginnetti, Bill Brocco, Vic Mattevi, Jim Maloney, Joe Gribble.

Starting an extensive program of physical fitness, the school this year has included intramural sports in its category. These consisted of basketball, tumbling, and table tennis. Coach Plummer supervised them, and Russell Patrick did a very capable job as student manager.
In basketball, there were ten teams. Jerome Vogt's team, whose picture is shown above, ran off with the championship with only one game lost. The Hi-Y's and Jack Douglas' teams were next in the standing.
The tumbling club did not have any teams, but met two nights a week as a group. By joining the club, the better tumblers could progress faster than in gymnasium. There were thirty boys enrolled. Three boys, Patrick, Maloney, and Miller, exhibited their excellent tumbling technique at the Senior Jamboree.
About forty boys entered the table tennis tournament. In the finals, Mattevi lost to Kirk in a hard-fought match by the scores of 25-23 and 21-8.
