Chaotically Connected

No matter who you are, or what you do, you are connected to another person. They may be your friends, classmates, teammates, or whatever!! They help combine everyone together in the same school. Different personalities may clash but it only makes things more interesting and Chaotic. Sports connect the special and unique talents of the students yet show off their ability to work together. The different organizations entangle the students' schedules while *they renew friendships. The teachers play an important role in advising the students in Academics. Attitudes, personalities, lifestyles, and schedules create an atmosphere of confusion and harmony.

Keeping time to the cadence, the NPHS flag corps readily awaits the playing of the next song during the First Town Days Parade.

While senior Terre Colvin practices her gymnastic abilities, senior Jodie Reiss shows off some of her child-like nature and senior Chris Hoelless jumps into the picture at the last moment.

When you were little, your parents took care of everything. They made the final plans, but NOW, you make the decisions. You get to have your own life. At times it may get confusing or it may be that you have too many social activities. You get to choose who you want to be with, where you want to go, and what type of clothes you want to wear. It's your Scholarly Survival, your Student Life.

BLENDING SEASONS

The warm lazy days of summer are always a rewarding and relaxing time for the students at N.P.H.S.

But, not all responsibility was forgotten at 2:42 on June first. Many students looked forward to or were already busy with summer jobs, while many others just enjoyed the break by going on vacation or hanging out with friends. Freshman, Kelly Kline said, "What I will remember most about my summer is going to Myrtle Beach with my family and meeting many interesting people."

By the time August had rolled around, most fall sports, band practice, cheerleaders, QT 'S, the Delphian Yearbook staff, and many other groups had spent long hours organizing, practicing, and preparing.

August 27 was a momentous day for all students. It was the beginning of a new year and it was sure to be one of change and new experiences. Most students were not only excited but curious about what the new year would bring. When asked what he thought on the first day of school, senior Kurt Gowins said, "I think this will be a good year. However, I would enjoy it better in a restored senior high."

What we can really call all of our experiences, is Blending Seasons. The seasons may be different, but they all seem to have something in common. Whatever happens to the school affects the students, and whatever happens to the students, happens to the school. Together they are one, bound by a Chaotic Connection.

Seniors Brian Meek and Joe Stephan, with juniors Rob Huff, Eric Belknap, and Steve Nye, practice for the N.P.H.S. soccer team.

The new modular classrooms roll onto the lot. They will be the new homes of the N.P.H.S. students for the next nine months.

Going, going, gone was the perfect end to a perfect week for many involved with the 1990 Tuscarawas County Fair.

The fair, which took place September 18 - 23, happened on a week with less than perfect weather, but excitement was in the air. NPHS students involved with 4-H projects and displays as well as the junior fair board, put in a lot of time and effort to "Make the best better". Junior Steve Cronebaugh said that, "In being a junior fair board member we learn to work together as well as responsibility to carry out our task".

For many competitors winning was a real high point, such as freshman Kelly Klopfer, who said, "This year at the fair was one of the best years for my horse and I. Together we received two grand champions and eight first places".

Of course, you don't have to be involved with all of this to have a great time at the fair. On Friday and Saturday nights, many braved the cold and came out all bundled up and ready for fun and excitement. The midway rides and games as well as the many food stands were once again a main attraction. Freshman Carri Brandt said, "I would change the length of time that the fair goes on. (Make it longer.) Some of my friends didn't get to go and that's where we have lots of fun. I would also have more french fry stands." Maybe next year!

Phila football players join hands in an effort to get psyched before the Homecoming game.

At the dance Saturday, October 6, 1990, couples Jeanette Egan and senior Chad Mower, sophomores Stella Arejola and Lindsay Stevenson, senior Carl Peoples and freshman Shannon Robinson slow dance to the music played by ADD sound.

A MAGICAL NIGHT

At the end of the first half of the game, visiting Perry and New Phila were tied at 7-7.

A disappointing Homecoming, the Quakers lost the game in the second half with a final score of 34-13. Sophomore Chris Perkins sums it up when he said, "I was depressed and upset because I wanted to win for the seniors and it was their last Homecoming game. We were picked to win the game 5-0."

Senior quarterback Keith Fuller

threw for 313 yards with one interception and one touchdown. Senior Brian Celce and junior Heath Knisley totaled 16 catches for 232 yards. Perry's defense contained the Quakers at the 16, 19, and 13 yardlines. In the third quarter, Perry took control of the game with 8:24 left on the clock. At this point in the game, Perry was ahead 19-7. (continued on pg. 14)

At the Homecoming game, there was a large turnout of Phila students in the Senior High section as they awaited the crowning of the queen.

Seniors Bridgett Lightbody and Lori Hutchinson enjoy the evening as they dance with their dates seniors Lee Zickel and Chris Ricklic.

Senior Shannon Zehnder was crowned Homecoming queen and presented with the game ball and roses.

Homecoming court attendants take a break from the dance to pose for a picture. They are freshmen Tisa Scott and Holly Bracken, sophomores Angelica Arejola and Lisa Kinsey, juniors Jenny Bible and April Campbell.

Later on, Perry intercepted a pass from senior Keith Fuller to make the score 27-7. The Quakers finally score again after a long drive and 17 yard pass from Fuller to senior Matt Morgan with 6:49 left to go in the game. In the final minutes of the game, Perry recovers a Phila fumble and carries it through for the last touchdown of the game.

At halftime, New Phila introduced it's Homecoming court attendants. They were freshmen Holly Bracken and Tisa Scott, sophomores Lisa Kinsey and Anjelica Arejola, juniors April

Campbell and Jenny Bible, seniors Kim McCutcheon and Jodie Reiss. The Homecoming queen was senior Shannon Zehnder.

Homecoming 1990 was held in the gym, instead of renting a building for the dance. One student, sophomore Lisa Pompey, commented, "It was too small. They needed to open up the whole gym, but it was still romantic." On October 6, the dance began at 8 o'clock and the theme of the dance was Moonlight Magic. The gym was decorated in shades of blue and silver with plenty of greenery. The music was provided by ADD Sound.

THE WEEK

Phila / Dover Week is always one of the most fun and spirited times of the school year here at NPHS.

This year's themes were very creative and evoked many interesting and unusual costumes. Freshman Tisa Scott commented that "Although the themes were really great, the overall participation from the student body was low." Monday's theme was "Black Out Dover." Students wore black clothing and carried flashlights. Twins of all kinds were seen on Tuesday for "Daily Double, Put Dover in Jeopardy", as students paired to become clones. On Wednesday, students dressed in shower attire to participate in the theme of "Send Dover Down the Drain." Togas were worn on Thursday to "Wrap Up Dover." Friday was the traditional Red and Black day as students dressed to "Make Dover Sweat." As a result of these themes, students' spirits were raised for the game to come.

This year's pep rallies for the Phila/Dover game raised the spirits of the students and the community. Starting with the Spaghetti Dinner on Thursday and the pep rally that followed, the community was involved and was behind the Quakers one-hundred percent. A Spirit Link contest between the High School, Middle School, and the combined Elementaries raised money for the Student Councils. The High School won the contest which forced the Mrs. Wittkop and the Student Council officers to keep their promise to kiss a pig at Friday's pep rally. The Senior Faries also appeared at the pep rally on Friday to charm the Quaker team. These pep rallies raised the spirits of the whole community, and got everyone excited for Friday's game.

THE GAME

The score of the 1990 Phila / Dover game says it all.

Before 8500 fans at Quaker Stadium, the Quakers shut out the Tornadoes with a score of 27 - 0, only the second loss of the season for Dover. The entire New Phila team contributed to the win, Coach Tresey's first Phila / Dover game. The player of the game was quarterback Keith Fuller, who completed six passes for seventy total yards, with no interceptions. After this final game, the Quakers' season record improved to 5 - 5.

From the Girl Scout float to Santa Claus, this year's Christmas parade contained a little bit of everything.

A total of 170 unique and different entries participated this season. The parade was dedicated to Eugene Endres who passed away on October 27, 1990. Taking off from Dover High School at 1:00P.M., the parade traveled through Dover and ended at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in New Philadelphia. The town turnout was large even though the weather was cool. It was fairly windy and the temperature was a chilly 54. The forecast was for rain, but it didn't rain on this parade. According to First Town Days Queen Amy Kochar, "The Christmas parade was special to me because I had an opportunity to wave at familiar faces and wish all my friends a Merry Christmas."

SEASONAL MELODIES

The New Philadelphia High School annual Christmas Concert was held on December 16, 1990.

There was a full house in the United Methodist Church both at 2:00 and at 4:00 on Sunday afternoon.

"Christmas is a magical time of the year and our concert is no exception. It is a privilege to share the most beautiful music of the year with my students and our community," said Symphonic Band director, Cheryl Graham. The performance featured our Vocal and Instrumental Departments. The Freshman Choir, Concert Choir, Delphian Chorale, Ladies Ensemble, Bell Quartet, Advanced Bells, and Symphonic Band all took part in this event.

Of course, like everything else, this concert had its downfalls, too. A member of the Concert Choir, freshman Quinn Wallick commented, "My choir had to sit around for three hours doing nothing while the other numbers were performed."

The Concert Choir and Delphian Chorale, along with choir alumni and faculty, join in the finale, the "Hallelujah Chorus."

While playing "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen", the Mallet Duet of freshman Lisa Haines and junior Abbey Webster concentrate on their music. Both girls are members of the Symphonic Band.

The Freshmen Choir sings "Bells and Noels" with the accompaniment of freshmen handbell members Kris Springer, Brady Bolyard, Aaron Winn, Jason Myers, and Ashley Rieger.

Playing his baritone intently as part of the Symphonic Band, Chris Geib contributes his talent to the Christmas Concert.

The Delphian Chorale performs the song "Fruit Cake" while director/chef Randy Gibbs mixes up the audience's laughter. Senior Mike Bichsel, senior Doug McCahill, junior J.J. Schumacher, senior Lee Zickel, junior Bryan Ford, and senior Chad Munitz talk about adding nuts, senior Jen Lile, sophomore Sharon Hagopian, senior Michelle Walker, senior Jodie Reiss, and senior Tisha Simmons discuss the addition of the lemon peel to the mixture, senior Caree McAfee, and senior Missy Fuller prepare to add rum to the cake, and senior Kim McCutcheon, senior Lori McMillen, sophomore Ellen Swigart, and senior Nicole Sankey sing of adding cinnamon.

NOTE FOR NOTE

A Season Of Excellence for the New Philadelphia Marching Quakers

The season began early in August with long practices that were bound to pay off in the end. Freshman Kasi Gasser said "It was pretty scary at first, but once I got out on the field I didn't think about being scared all I thought about was doing the best I could." The band practiced through the summer in preparation for season ahead. The season begun with the band participating at the Garaway Band Preview. They participated at two Bands of America Regionals where they placed in the finals. At the Morgantown regional, at West Virginia University, they placed first in class A and 9th place in the overall, and they received several specialty awards in addition to their class championship. Freshman Aimee Toland said "Going to Morgantown for the first major regional of the season, and winning first place in class A, and making the finals." was the best part of the season for her. The band also participated at the University of Toledo where they placed 9th in the overall finals. Junior Chuck Kilcherman said "Yes I think the band could have performed better in Toledo because we were all nervous about the change of class and we didn't perform our best." Moving on in perfect harmony they later performed at the Dover Band Show, Westerville South Band Invitational and the Claymont Band Round-Up. Each time the band participated they received a Superior Rating. At the Bands of America Grand Nationals held at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis they received a Superior Rating drawing their season to a close. Senior Chad Mowre said "I felt many different things after my final performance. I was disappointed that we hadn't made the finals, but I felt relaxed to watch the finals for the first time. I also felt that I had accomplished a giant goal in finishing my fifth year in band with a great performance. Over all it was a lot of hard work with many rewards.

DEVOTED PLAYERS

It consists of freshmen, sopho-

res, juniors, and seniors who work hard at a variety of tasks and then enjoy success. It reaches the community through a fall play, Kids on the Block, and a musical. "It" is the N.P.H.S. Drama Club, headed by George Schneider and composed of numerous students.

During the fall play and spring musical, many people help to pull the production together, from taking care of the small details to playing the lead roles. Acting (both supporting and leading actors and actresses), directing, being a part of the chorus, set construction, stage crew, orchestra, tech crew, publicity, house, make-up are all of the skills of the members of the Drama Club. Freshman Rachael Homan says, "I learned that there is a lot more to putting on a production than meets the eye. There are so many little things to be done, along with the bigger things!"

Then, when certain members perform Kids on the Block, handicapped puppets shown to third graders throughout the New Philadelphia school district, the members are excused from school, and travel with their puppets. "I'm glad I had the chance to teach the kids something important and to have fun at the same time." Freshman Jennifer Johnson said.

Every May, certain members of the Drama Club are admitted into the Thespians. The Thespians is an honor society for students active in Drama Club, and ten points are required for membership. One point equals approximately ten hours of work, and after every two shows, point totals are recorded for everyone who participated, lead actors/actresses earning more than ushers, but ushers earning some points. As of January 1991, the Thespians consists of twelve members: Jeannine Porter (President), Jason Rusznak (Vice President), Bridget Lightbody (Secretary), Lee Zickel, Lori McMillen, Jodie Reiss, Carrie Cook, Rob Cox, J.J. Schumacher, Shawn Supers, Abby Gano, and Jared Jenkins. More members will be inducted in May. Junior Jared Jenkins describes the group as, "Thespians is a great opportunity to be very involved in the theatre program. It's great to be able to act for other peoples' enjoyment. It's a great group to be involved in."

"Well, I'm really glad I came out for it, and the people in the play are great to work with and I'm glad I got to be with them," said senior Kim Yates. "It's hard work, but it's worthwhile when it's done," senior Carrie Cook, who did make-up commented. "Do your best and you'll be the best," Bridget

"Fools" is the story of the attempts by Leon Tolchinsky, played by Lee Zickel, to break the Curse of Kulyenchikov, a curse which causes everyone who resides in this town to be stupid. Leon's only hope is to educate Sophia Zubritsky, played by Kim Yates, the daughter of Dr.

describe the Delphian's 1990-1991 year, it would have to be "challenging". The 1991 staff was faced with many trials during the production of this year's book, but the group pulled together to overcome their problems to produce the Delphian's 78th edition.

Planning for the 90-91 Delphian began in August at the Yearbook Training Session held at Oberlin college. Along with deciding the upcoming book's theme and cover design, new staff members learned the basics of putting a yearbook together, while the more experienced members learned advanced techniques.

After returning home the staff began their add sales, and after two weeks had reached their goal, selling nearly 200 adds. Upon reaching this goal the staff took a trip to Cedar Point before the start of school. Jill Best offered her view on the trip. "It helped promote good relations between everyone on the staff, and it also was a lot of fun."

Then the reality of deadlines hit. Upon the start of school the Delphian Staff was faced with the difficult task of learning to use a new computer system, and also finishing the first 48 pages of the book by the end of November.

The staff worked diligently at both learning how to use the computers and completing their layouts, however at the end of November the staff fell short of their goal.

The staff then kicked into overdrive and by Christmas break had completed the first 72 pages of the book. Over their well-deserved Christmas break the staff had their annual Christmas banquet at the Olive Garden.

After the break the staff went back to work to complete the rest of the book, and then ending the year with the annual banquet at Tangier's in June

When asked why they joined the staff Jennifer Kopp replied "I joined the yearbook staff because I thought it would be a fun and interesting challenge." Rachael Stamm said "I joined to meet new people and learn new things and figured it would be fun."

The yearbook staff is more than just another extra-curricular activity. It teaches leadership and leadership skills valuable long after their high school years. As Mr. Young always says "It is a lot of hard work and hopefully in August when the book arrives all staff members will feel all the yelling and screaming and hard work was worth it, as their efforts will be a permanent record of what happened at NPHS in 1991."

A MERRIER CHRISTMAS

The 1990 Share - A - Christmas

project was a great success, with over $3,000 spent by school and administrative organizations to help needy area families. The Junior Class, National Honor Society, Freshmen Choir, Ladies Ensemble, Concert Choir, Delphian Chorale, Senior Class, Band, OAPSE, Student Council, Delphian Yearbook, Administration Building Staff, Marketing Ed, National Forensic League, Mr. Holdsworth's Home Room 110, and Mrs. Holdsworth's Home Room M-08 participated in this project, helping to provide gifts, clothes, toys, and daily need items to the families that they sponsored. The Student Council held a Share - A - Christmas dance in December, with the profits being divided among each participating school organization. "Share - A -

FLICK THE CLIQUES

had a lot of student support, with over 60 students at each meeting. The Student Council, which organized many school activities and supported all school sports and other groups, had a very productive year. Mrs. Wittkop, the advisor, commented that "it's wonderful to work with students who are willing to participate and to be leaders." Student Council did most of the decorating and preparing for Homecoming and for Phila/Dover Week. The Spirit Link Contest, held by the Student Council, beat all the area elementaries in money raised during the Phila/Dover Week. They also held Hoagie Hog-Outs, Pizza Pig-Outs, and organized the Guardian Angels and Guardsmen in support of NPHS sports teams. At Christmastime, the Student Council supported the United Way and Share - A - Christmas by holding a fund-raising dance and sponsoring a Christmas family. Throughout the year, Student Council members have had the opportunity to attend the Ohio Association of Student Councils' leadership retreats, from which ideas for the NPHS Student Council Lock-In were obtained. The Lock-In, entitled "Flick the Cliques", was held in January, as the winter sports season ended.

RETURNING

Formed in August the alumni were eager and looking forward to their first performance at the Homecoming game on October 5. Their many songs included the Alma Mata , the N.P.H.S. fight song , and Old Time Rock and Roll. after a successful first performance they performed in the Unity Christmas parade. At the parade they played the all time favorite Frosty the Snowman. The ages of participation ranged from the oldest Lou Byers and Aaron Funk to many recent graduates. 1990 graduate Kirsten McGarry said "It was really strange to come back and be an alumni with kids I'm supposed to have graduated with but yet the group was still as close as we had been." The turn out for this project was great with a total of 75 alumni members. Alumni band director Mr. Furbay said "Being a first year teacher meant being extremely busy during the entire alumni band experience. Being a member of the band gave me the feeling of a high school student again and being the director gave me the feeling of a teacher . But the students in this band were anywhere from 4 years younger than me to 40 years older. The nostalgia was incredible!!"

New and Improved! The New Mila track was dedicated this year in October.

To someone who has no idea how to play a certain sport, it looks confusing. Someone who does not know anything about football would probably look at it and never understand what the players are doing. But without the players doing their specific jobs, the entire play would not work. Playing sports takes an extreme amount of time and energy. So we devote this section to all the players with Muscular Might.

A New Dynasty

Quakers Roll Past Dover 27-0

August 24, 1990. The Quakers, under the direction of new coach Joe Tresey, opened their season with a 23-9 victory over the visiting Wooster Generals, amassing 365 total yards. Timken rolled into town week two and the Quakers took their second win with a 35-17 come from behind victory.

The team then hit the road for four straight weeks. After losing to Alliance and Jackson the Quakers faced Claymont and took an edge-of-your-seat 13-12 win over the Mustangs. On the road for the fourth straight week, the Quakers travelled to Uniontown to face Lake. The final score was Lake 14, New Phila 0.

Week seven the Quakers came home to face a fierce Perry team which confined the Quakers to only two scores, as Perry went on to win 34-13. Phila travelled to Hoover for their next game which turned out to be a great defensive battle as Hoover edged the Quakers 7-0.

The team then came home to prepare for what easily was the toughest two games of their season. 7-0 Glen Oak came to town for Senior Parents Night as the Quakers pulled off one of the biggest federal league upsets in recent years. Glen Oak led the game until Brian Celce, diving over the goal line, tied the game up at thirteen. The Quakers then pushed ahead scoring again as New Phila won 20-13. "Everything just fell together like a puzzle for us, and we went into the Dover game with a newfound confidence." Junior Gary Mason commented when asked about the Quakers victory over the Golden Eagles.

The Quakers did go into the game with confidence, and dominated offensively and defensively achieving the largest shut-out victory over Dover since 1956, with a score of 27-0.

Five In A Row

Reserves Win Their First Five Games

The 1990 Reserve Football team, coached by Joe Lowery and Joe Pry, started their season off with a bang by winning their first five games. Wooster was the first "victim", as the Quaker team rolled over them 37-31.

After a forfeit by Canton Timken the reserves went out the next three weeks and shut out Alliance, Jackson, and Claymont.

The team's first loss came against Lake, 14-6. The Quakers regrouped and went out the next week beating Perry by a score of 21-6. For the last game of the season, the reserves went up against a tough Hoover team and lost 36-6, for an impressive final record of 6-2. Coach Joe Lowery commented on the reserve team. "They worked together as a team and were successful because of their desire, dedication, and hard work."

Giving Their All

Despite Efforts Freshmen Finish 0-6-1

The 1990 season wasn't kind to the freshmen team as they finished with a record of 0-6-1. The team's first game was against Indian Valley in which the Quakers tied the Braves with a score of 6-6.

Alliance was the next opponent the freshmen faced and were shut-out by a score of 22-0. The freshmen then set off to face Claymont and came up short, losing by a score of 14-8. Lake was next, and the freshmen took a heartbreaking 8-6 loss.

The road taking its toll on the young team, the Freshmen took two consecutive losses to Perry and North Canton.

The team then regrouped to prepare for the Dover game. The freshman fought ferociously, making one of their best showings of the season, but were edged by the Tornadoes 20-18.

Blocks and Saves

Spared from Defeat

Our Quaker reserve volleyball team had a season with a final record of 14-7. The year was summarized in this statement by sophomore Kelly Celce "I think that our volleyball season went well considering that we had a new coach and that most of our games were against teams that consisted of sophomores and juniors and our team consisted of only freshmen and sophomores." Also, freshman Holly Bracken commented on the change between Jr. High and High School volleyball when she stated "High School volleyball is more challenging and competitive than Jr. High volleyball."

Nine sophomores and five freshmen made up the reserve team. At the awards banquet three sophomores got special mention. Kelly Celce had the most serves and the best spiking percent. Rebecca Horsfall had the most points and she was the best setter. Beth McCombs had the most ace serves. Everyone in the group was honored for their fight in striving for success.

With a quick reaction, freshman Holly Bracken bumps the spiked volleyball to the setter. Holly, and the thirteen other people who made up the reserve volleyball team, had a season record of 14 wins, 7 losses.

Spikes and Kills

Death at the Net

With a record of 10-13, our varsity volleyball team has gained the titles of Sectional League Champs and District Five Runner-Up. When asked to describe the season, senior Lisa Finzer said "Our volleyball team improved greatly from our first game to our District Tournament. At the end of the season we tried our hardest and we worked together as a team." Teamwork played a major role in the Quakers' achievements.

The varsity team graduated three seniors this year; Lisa Finzer, Tonya Reed, and Tish Robinson. Lisa got the award for being most improved, and she had the Honorable Mention for the Federal League. Tonya had the best defense, and she was the MVP. She also made the Second Team Federal League, was picked to play in the District Five State All-Star Match, and was named the 1990 District Five Player of the Year. Tish got awards for the best serving percent and, like Tonya, was picked to play in the District Five State All-Star Match. Another accomplishment for all three seniors was being on the First Team District Five.

Five juniors and one sophomore make up the other six players of the team. They are Kathy Banks, Tish Rank, Chrissy Simon, Amy Thompson, Carrie Walter, and Susan Johnson. Amy had the award for the best offense and made the First Team District Five. Like Amy, Kathy also made the First Team District Five, and was picked as best setter, too. Chrissy got Honorable Mention for the First Team District Five, and she was awarded for having the most successful serves. Tish, another setter, was substituted into the back row many times. Carrie was a spiker, as was Susan. Everyone on the team lettered.

Smashing Season

Undefeated Federal League Champs

As a new school year began so did a new season for the New Phila girls' tennis team. Practices for tennis were already in full swing by the middle of August. Everyone was looking forward to their first match on August 28. The team won that first match and continued their winning streak through the whole season. There were 23 girls on the Varsity and Reserve teams. Most of the girls set goals early in the year.

Coach Rich Bellanco and Assistant coach Scorp Yarnell helped them to achieve those goals. The tennis team remained undefeated the whole season and was named Federal League Champs. Junior Kristi Spinell said "The best part of tennis was being undefeated and Federal League Champs made the season more exciting."

The tennis season ended on the 9th of October, except for Sejal Patel, Amy Montgomery, and Brande Lamb, who all went to Sectional districts on October 12th. At the award banquet these awards were given: "Best Player" went to Brande Lamb, "Best Record" went to Amy Montgomery, "Most Improved Player" went to Brande Lamb, "Most Career wins" went to Marisa May, "The Silver Set Award" went to Sejal Patel, "The Most Improved Doubles Team" went to Caree McAfee and Kim McCutcheon, and "Coach's Award" went to Juliet Hicks. Junior Becky Herbert said "Tennis can be a very rewarding experience and it's a great way to get involved and make new friends."

Kick It!

Heading for the Goal

It was the first year for a New Phila Soccer Club. There were many reasons why people played, including freshman Nate Dixon who said, "I thought it would be fun." From the beginning of the season, team members had specific goals in mind, such as junior Jay Hill, "My goal was to play the best I could, be aggressive, and get a yellow card." The season had many high points, for example, "When I blocked a penalty shot against Canton Heritage and held them to a shut out" for sophomore Dan Brown and "Playing a night game at Tusky" for freshman Andy Rinehart. If he could change one thing about the season, "I would have changed our loss at Tusky Valley to a victory, ending the season on a positive note", said senior Joe Stephan. This year's club had a 3-5-2 record. The top scorers were juniors Jay Gowan and Jamie Page, and fresh

It Sure Did Hurt

Injuries Inhibit Team's Performance

It started off rather innocently; a little pain here and there and a few people not feeling well. But when the season came into play...whamo! Knee injuries, stress fractures, stomach problems, etc. But the boys' and girls' cross country teams were able to overcome problems and have a decent year. The boys, who lost seven seniors from last year's team (five of which were on varsity), finished with a 3-6 mark. Victories came over Timken, Perry, and Lake. Their losses, however, were heart-breaking. Alliance, Glenoak, and Jackson defeated New Phila by a total of five points.

According to sophomore Doug Smith, "... this was a learning experience for our team. Our seniors gave us the desperately needed leadership while the rest of the team gave strong support."

For a team composed mostly of runners who had never ran more than two varsity races, the season went well. Senior Brian Crim said "...the most memorable meet this year was the Cambridge Invitational when my shoe came off during the race and I carried it for the last two and a half miles of the race."

In the post-season, Troy Glass placed 10th at Districts and was 66th at the Regional meet.

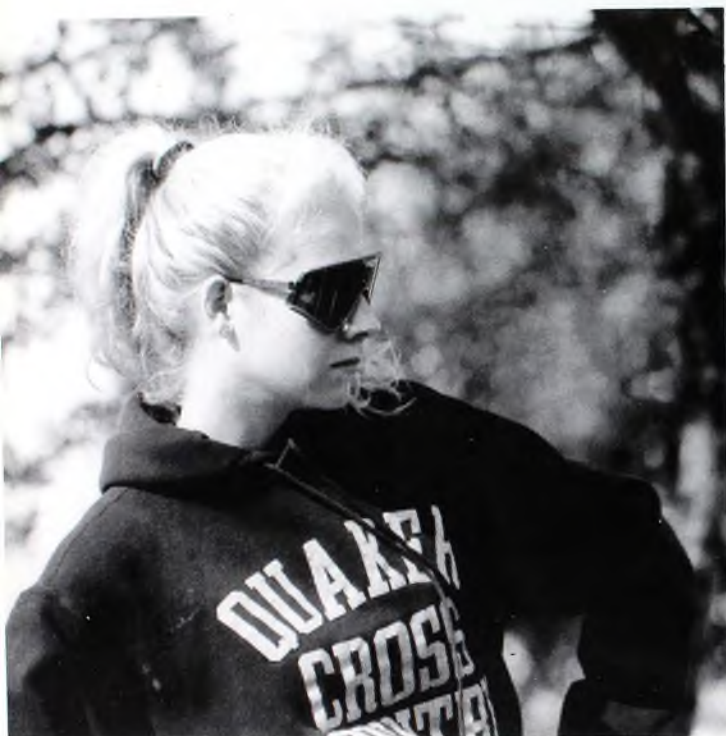

The girls, who returned most of their varsity from last year, finished at 3-5. Victories came over Lake, Perry, and Claymont. Freshman Sandra Hill commented on the transition from Junior High to varsity cross country..." It's more challenging. Running against older teammates makes you try harder than you would in Junior High." At the District meet, the girls placed third as a team and qualified to run at the Regional meet where they placed 9th. Michelle Lyons placed 6th at Regionals and 20th at the State meet. She earned All-Ohio honors for her effort.

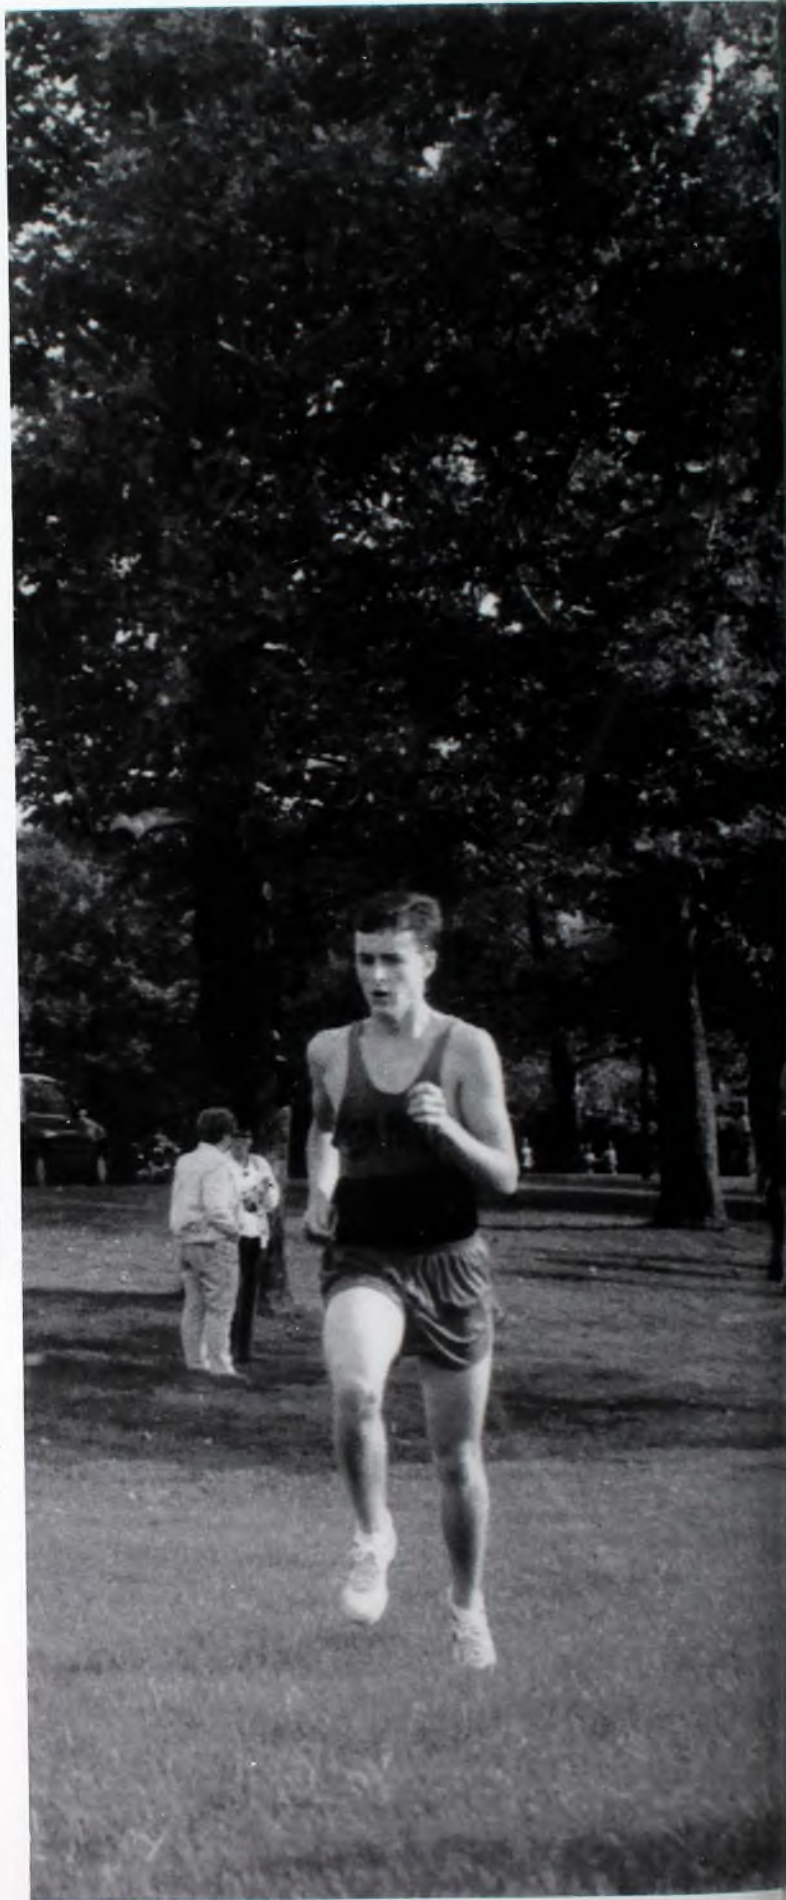

While running against Michelle Riegler of Perry, senior Michelle Lyons and junior Jennifer Danzo work together. Michelle placed 2nd and Jennifer finished 4th to lead the Quakers past Perry. However, they lost to Alliance.

Running against the wind is Troy Glass, a sophomore. In his race against Claymont, Troy finished in 6th place. His effort was not enough to defeat the Mustangs.

Stretching out before her race against Perry and Alliance is junior Betsy Lautzenheiser. Betsy finished in 6th place to help the Quakers defeat Perry. Her effort was not enough to beat Alliance, though, as the Aviators nipped them by one point.

Jason Burgett, senior, focuses on the man ahead of him during the meet against Perry and Alliance. Jason finished 3rd to lead the Quakers past Perry. However, the boys lost to Alliance by a single point.

Young Varsity

A Building Season

Our N.P.H.S golf team was very young this year. Coach Sattler had only two returning lettermen this year, senior Mark Richesson and sophomore Nate Agar. The varsity team usually started three sophomores and two freshmen. Ranked 8th in the Federal League, the mighty Quakers' wins were over Timken three times and Perry once.

Coach Sattler gave out several awards this year. Receiving two awards for best overall average and most greens hit in regulation was sophomore Nate Agar. He also was ranked first team Eastern District. Freshman Jason Quicksall received an award from Coach Sattler for the best putting. Winning the award for the most improved was sophomore Keith Cua. Mark Richesson was presented with the Coach's Award. Coach Sattler explained the award by saying, "The Coach's Award is presented to the player who best exemplifies the team concept with his cooperation, enthusiasm, and attitude toward the team. He is also very coachable and is always striving for improvement."

Nate Agar summed up the season best in this quote: "We were young and not really deep. Everyone tried their best every night. So what if we lost twenty, we won four."

Sophomore Keith Cua finishes his swing off the first tee. He finished the match with a score of 44.

Sophomore Jim Wherley gains possession of the ball and looks to pass it to sophomore Nathan Agar. The Quakers beat the Tornadoes 56-47.

During the Alliance game, senior Mike Miller puts up a shot over the head of an opposing player. The Quakers edged Coshocton out by a score of 76-63.

Senior Brian Celce drives to the basket, while being guarded by a Canton Timken defender. The Quakers went on to win the game, with a score of 57-55.

Bouncing Back

Despite Rocky Mid-Season, Boys Finish Strong Over Hoover and Glen Oak

Varsity Boys' basketball exploded into their 1990-91 season, winning their first five out of six games. The Quakers won their first two games, downing Coshocton and Canton Timken. The team then returned home and lost to the Alliance Aviators. However the boys beat Jackson the next day, 78-73.

The Quakers then travelled "across the river" to go into battle against Dover and won 61-54. Lake then rolled into town and the Quakers attained their fifth victory.

The Quakers then hit hard times as they took seven consecutive losses. January 22nd was the beginning of the Quakers climb, as they again beat the Tornadoes, 56-47. The following week the boys travelled to Lake and were nipped by the Blue Streaks 57-56.

The Quakers put the loss aside and beat the Claymont Mustangs, 61-45. Sophomore Jim Wherley commented "Claymont was an important win because we all wanted it, and it took a total team effort to do it."

After a defeat by Perry, the Quakers ended their regular season with a bang, beating two of the Federal League's toughest teams. First the Quakers travelled to North Canton and emerged with a 47-46 win over the Vikings. This wave of confidence carried on to the following game as the boys downed Glen Oak, 78-72. After a loss to Wooster, which ended the regular season, the team prepared for postseason action.

The Quakers went up against Buckeye Local for their first post-season game and stomped them by a score of 100-66. Senior Bryan Meek scored the 100th point, marking the Quakers' first since 1983. The team then went up against East Liverpool and won. Sophomore Nathan Agar commented "The win was important because it advanced us straight to the district finals" in which the boys lost to Lancaster, 74-60.

A Long Season

A Series of Road Trips and Tough Competitors Take Their Toll On Reserves

The 1991 season took its toll on the boys' reserve team. The team finished with an overall record of 5-17.

The boys started the season with a 52-44 victory over Coshocton. Timken, Alliance, and Wooster were Phila's next three opponents, the team taking losses to all three.

Junior Micah Hagan outruns a Dover player. The reserves beat the tornados both times that they faced them.

Next the team went to battle with the Tornados and emerged victorious by a score of 52-47. Then Lake came and nipped the Quakers 53-52, Perry followed beating the Reserves 52-38. North Canton Hoover, went against the boys and were clobbered, 72-56. The Quakers then hit a lull in their season. Glen Oak, Timken, Alliance, and Jackson all posted victories over the reserve team.

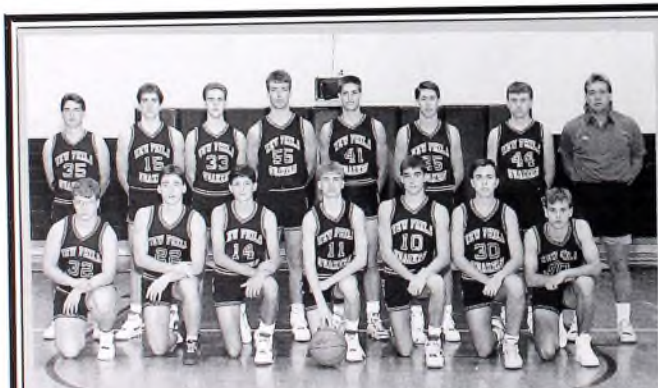

However the losing streak snapped at the second meeting of the Quakers and the Tornados. Phila again hit the Dover team hard, and again won, 52-46.

Junior Jim Compher commented "The highlight of our season is that we beat Dover both times we faced them."

Lake, Claymont, Perry, and North Canton all beat the Quakers as the team again fell into a rut.

However, the late-season road trip to Glen Oak brought the Quakers a victory. The reserve season then came to a close the following week with a loss to the Wooster Generals.

Great Improvement

Despite Shaky Start, Freshmen Finish Strong

After a very slow start, the Freshman team pulled together and played tough the second half of their season. They won five of their last seven games and finished with a record of 8-10.

Claymont was the first team the freshmen faced and fell to the Mustangs 35-30. The freshmen claimed their first win the following game against Canton South. The Freshmen then hit a losing streak, being beaten by Lake, Wooster, and Dover. Indian Valley was the team's second victory by a score of 43-34, advancing their record to 2-4. The team then hit the road to Jackson losing 54-41. Claymont fell victim to the Freshmen, 50-46.

North Canton, Glen Oak, and Wooster all beat the Freshman to bring their record to 3-7.

The Freshmen then turned their season around by pulling together and beating their next three opponents, Ridgewood, Alliance, and Indian Valley. After a loss to Perry, the team went into post-season play, beating Northwest, and Canton South before being edged by Wooster, 46-45.

When asked what he thought of the 1991 season Coach Sattler replied "I felt that the team improved greatly throughout the course of the season, and showed it by beating five out of the last seven teams they faced."

Freshman Jay Shackelford attempts to block the shot of a Perry player.

Freshmen Girls Basketball had a season record of 7-8. Their biggest victory came against Indian Valley when the Lady Quakers won 42-24. Sharon Szabo had a season high of 24 points.

In tournament action, the mighty Quakers lost to Northwest 21-20 in the first round. They led the entire game before being beaten by one foul shot with no time left on the clock. Freshman Kelly Klopfer commented, "It was a tough game and it was disappointing to lose in the final seconds."

For their offense, the Quakers averaged 26 points per game. They gave away 27 points on defense.

Tied for Federal League Champs

Quaker Reserves tie with Wooster for the league.

Until the Quakers arrived at Dover, they had a perfect record. The Tornadoes beat the Quakers 31-34 the first time, but the second time, the Quakers triumphed 36-30. The Reserves also played the Claymont Mustangs and came up on top 32-24. Junior Beth Caton said, "The Claymont game was a good hometown game and there were a lot of fans there."

In the end, the Lady Quakers were champions. Their record was 16-4 and 13-3 in the Federal League. Coach Veltri commented, "...you strive to win the championship at the varsity level...it feels great to do well no matter no matter what the level."

Offensively, the Quakers ended the season with an average of 36 points per game. During the Alliance game, the Quakers scored a season high of 53 points. Defensively, they gave up an average of 26 points per game. The lowest point total the Quakers kept another team at was against Canton Timken who scored seven points. "It was different to see the other team with 4 points at the end of the first half," stated sophomore Jayme Walker.

A Mixture of Disasters

Tough Break

The Lady Quakers' basketball season started with an explosive winning streak which left the crowds dangling on their seats. The Quakers first two games were narrow squeaks when they played against Timken and Alliance. They won the games by a spread of about one point per game. Then the mighty Quakers hit a brick wall. Not only did they start to lose games, but also lost some of their players to the injury list. Throughout most of the first half of the season, the lady Quaker continued to pile up their injuries. Senior Kim McCutcheon said, "It was hard not being able to play in a game, but I still cheered for them at games."

Despite their numerous injuries, the Quakers managed to compile a record of 9-11 overall, 8-8 in the Federal League. Coach Montague gave out awards at the banquet to recognize players who have improved throughout the season. Senior Carree McAfee received an award for the most assists. Another senior, Lisa Finzer, earned an award for the best field goal percentage. Junior Brandee Lamb received awards for the most rebounds and the most steals. Senior Carree McAfee and sophomore Jill Best received awards for best free throw percentage. They tied the previous record of 76% from the line.

Something new in the Federal League was the games against Glen Oak. They were back-to-back varsity girls and boys games. The reserves also played back-to-back. Junior Libby Rinehart commented, "It was fun! More people came to watch us besides our parents and the usual fans."

During the tournament game, junior Brandee Lamb jumps up to block a pass from a Buckeye Local player. The Quakers lost 44-51.

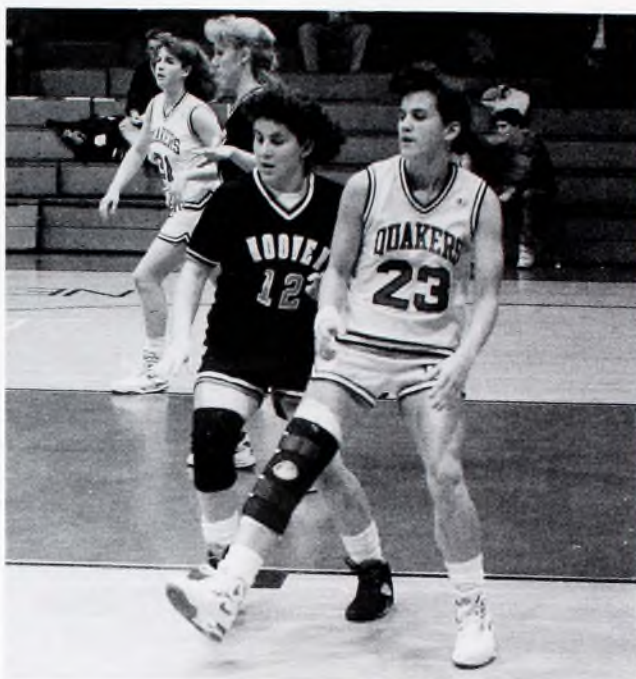

Senior Lisa Finzer gets pinned behind the other team's player during the game against Hoover. New Phila lost the game 56-57.

During the game against Glen Oak, senior Tonya Reed fights for the ball against a Glen Oak player. the Quakers won the game 58-40.

Wrestling Takes Skill, Endurance, Sacrifice, and Self-Discipline

It takes discipline to stick with wrestling through long, hard practices and it takes discipline to make weight. This year's NPHS wrestling team has shown true dedication with an 8-6 dual meet record.

New Phila placed second at the sectional tournament. Advancing to the district tourna-

Vic Guida; C.J. Rothacher winning second place; Matt Morgan placing third; and John Simpson placing fourth. In district competition, Chris Ricklic placed third and advanced to the state tournament while Matt Morgan just missed a state berth by placing fourth. This was Chris Ricklic's second year to qualify for state and he placed fourth.

People have different reasons for going out for wrestling. David Tate joined, "Just to see if I would like wrestling and to stay in shape." Joe Silvestri had a similar reason, "I figured wrestling would be a good experience, and it would keep me in shape for football."

All of his work paid off for Jason Lehigh, who said "My most memorable match was against Dover because it was my first varsity home match and I pinned him in the first period."

There are many benefits to be gained from wrestling, but the most important to C.J. Rothacher is that, "I like wrestling for New Phila High School because the big school wrestling competitions help me to excel to my wrestling potential."

This year fourteen wrestlers earned their letter. The end of this year brought All-Federal League awards to six team members: Chris Ricklic-First team, C.J. Rothacher-Second team, and Steven Cronebaugh, Vic Guida, Trevor Olinger, and Jeff Smith-Honorable Mention.

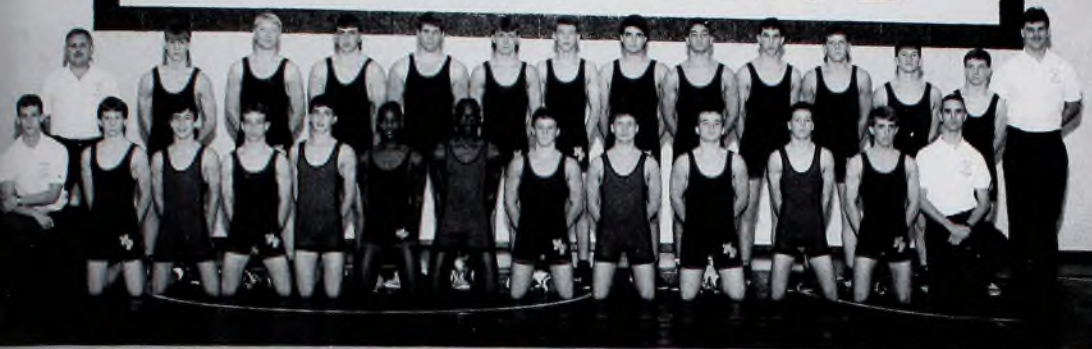

This year's NPHS state qualifier was senior Chris Ricklic who placed fourth at the state tournament.

Spares and Strikes

To Get the Ball Rolling

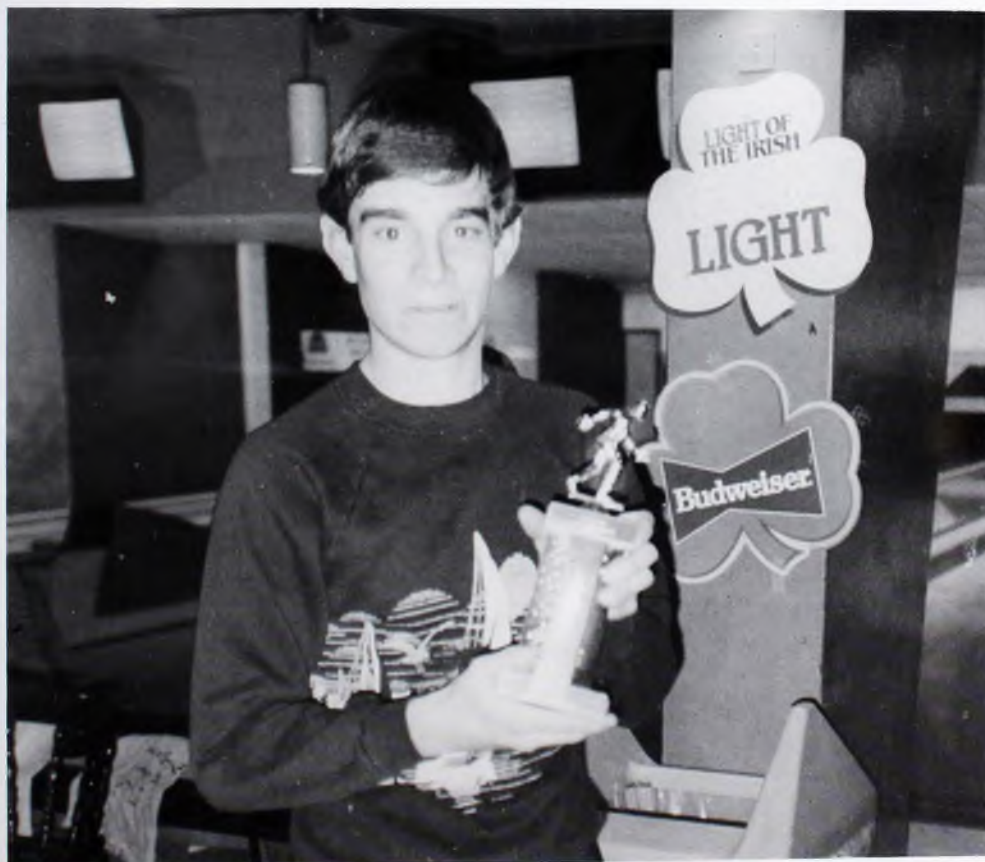

The New Philadelphia High School bowling league completed its season after meeting every Tuesday and Thursday at 3:00 or 4:15 at Boulevard Lanes. Some 140 students were involved and some various awards were given. The trophy for first place team in the 3:00 league went to Mark Richesson, Dave Glazer, Jason Martini, and Warren Prosser. The first place trophy for highest single game boys' went to Matt

Stamm with a score of 288, and the first place trophy for highest girls' singles game went to Kristi Spinell with a score of 184. First place boys' high two game series went to Dave Metzger with a score of 391, and the first place girls' high two game series went to Laura Kinsey with a score of 293. The most improved Bowler went to Roark Endlich. In the 4:15 league these awards were given: the first place team went to Chad Mowrer, Rob Rupe, Chuck Gerber, and Dean Garver. First place boys' high singles game went to Chuck Gerber with a score of 221, and the girls' first place singles went to Lisa Pompey with the score of 165. First place girls' two game series went to Amanda Wallace with the score of 278, and the first place boys' high two game series went to Jay Jenkins with a score of 372.

The most improved bowler in the 4:15 league went to Stacy Pounds.

Many people enjoyed different things about bowling this year. Junior Steve Nye said "The best part of bowling was throwing super johns." "The best part of bowling this year was being on a team with my friends." said Senior Chad Mowrer.

Senior Matt Stamm stands proud with his trophy that he won in the 3:00 league.

Aquatic Competition

Swim Team Competes in First Varsity Season

For the first time in NPHS history, a swimming team was fielded. Although there were only four members of the team representing NPHS, the team had a winning year.

Members of the team (sponsored by the YMCA at Dover) representing NPHS were sophomores Kelli Charles and Jen Arnold, junior Kelly Flanagan, and freshman Nathan Dixon.

The team competed in dual meets against several Federal League schools, along with schools such as Coshocton, Massillon, and Akron Firestone.

The team finished the season with a record of 5-3. It was fifth at the Divisional meet and fourth out of twelve at the District meet.

The team held meets at the YMCA in Dover. Students from around Tuscarawas County were on the actual team, nicknamed the Silver Streaks, and they all were together to form one team representing the county. Sophomore Kelli Charles commented, "Being a part of the YMCA/New Phila Swim Team gives me the opportunity to test my aquatic abilities in a fun yet competitive atmosphere."

New Experiences

Young Team Faces Federal League Pressure

At the onset of the 1991 track season, it became evident that a young team would have to work its way through the tough Federal League schedule. Freshman Brady Bolyard commented, "I feel that we are a very young team that has a lot of potential for success in the future." There were only eight seniors on this year's track team. Those seniors set the examples for the young team, made up of a minority of returning lettermen.

The team began with a skin-of-the-teeth victory over 1990 Federal League Champs Canton Timken. They continued with victories over Lake and Perry, and for the second straight year, a 66-66 tie with the Wooster Generals.

They boys' team also competed in some invitationals. They were runner-up at the Quaker Club Mini - Relays, Champions of the Dave Milburn Mini - Relays, fourth place at the Tornado Relays, and third at the Brunswick Mini - Relays.

Senior Dave Kellogg set a new school record in the High Jump, replacing Brian Clark's 1989 mark of six feet six inches with a new record of six feet six and one quarter inches.

At the District meet in Logan, OH., the boys qualified several to Regionals. Jamie Hostetler qualified in the Discus, along with Dave Kellogg who qualified in the High Jump.

At the awards banquet, several awards were received by Quaker Tracksters. Zack Terakedis received his 4th Year Letter Award. 3rd Year Awards went to Mike Bichsel, Jason Burgett, Bob Hochstetter, Dave Kellogg, Chris Farbizo, Jamie Hostetler, Rob Huff, Jamie Page, Tom Willis, and Heath Knisely. Special awards went to Zack Terakedis: Outstanding Track & Field, Doug Smith: Outstanding Track, Dave Kellogg: Outstanding Field, Jason Burgett: Scholarship Award and Dave Milburn Award, Steve Nye: Most Improved.

Girls place third at Districts

In the 1991 Girls' Track season, New Phila ended it with a 5 & 3 record in Federal Dual meets. The Quakers managed to place third in the Federal League meet. In the invitationals, New Phila was runner-up in the Brunswick Relays and the Leo Gundy Invitational. New Phila also placed third out of ten teams at the Dover Tornado Relays.

When Districts came on the 21st of May and the Quakers went to Logan, it was a hot day with no shade. New Phila had managed to place at least one girl in almost every event going into the finals. When finals rolled around, New Phila came in third out of 17 teams. They were edged out by Athens, who came in first, and Tri-Valley, who came in second.

Although Phila came in third at Districts, they were able to send twelve girls in eight events on to Regionals. Qualifying to Regionals were senior Michelle Lyons, four events; juniors Libby Rinehart and Jennifer Danzo, each in three events; sophomore Sharon Hagopian, two events; and one event each for senior Kelly Fenton, juniors Kathy Banks, Brande Lamb, and Juliet Hicks, and freshmen Sandra Hill, Dawn Mamula, and Kesha Zehnder.

Both senior Michelle Lyons in the 1600m run and junior Brande Lamb in the high jump were District champions. But, only junior Brande Lamb was a state qualifier as she placed third in high jump with a jump of 5' 5". When asked about being a state qualifier, she said, "This year will be more of a challenge because I wish to place in the top six."

Seniors Kelly Fenton and Michelle Lyons made the Federal League All-Star Team. Kelly placed second in the 100m hurdles and Michelle placed second in the 1600m run at the Federal League meet. During the Federal League meet, senior Kelly Fenton set a school record in the 100m hurdles with a time of 15.89 seconds. When asked about breaking the school record, Kelly said, "I've been trying to break the record forever and I was happy just breaking 16 seconds."

During the track meet against Perry, junior Brande Lamb attempts to clear 5'6 1/2", her personal best and the school record. Brande missed all three attempts.

In the mile, senior Michelle Lyons watches the Jackson runner in front of her. Michelle placed first in the event.

In the 2 mile relay, freshman Sandra Hill passes the baton to

Making the Final Point

The New Phila boys' tennis team started in the spring of 1991 with 10 team members. The singles top three were Brian Celce, Rob Henning, and Ryan Huff. Phil Bidinger was a fill in if one of them couldn't compete. The top two boys' doubles teams were Shannon Cole and Joe Stephen and Manish Shah and Rob Slagle. The teams overall record was 5 and 14. In the Federal League their record was 4 and 12. The boys' team had one big difficulty this year. The courts that they usually play on at the park were being resurfaced so they had to use The K.S.U. Branch's, or the Y.M.C.A.'s tennis courts. Even with the difficulty of the tennis courts the boys' went on and didn't let it get them down.

The awards were handed out on May 29 at Dinolfo's. Some Of the awards given were: The First Year Letter went to Ryan Huff, Shannon Cole, Rob Slagle. The Second Year Letter went to Joe Stephen and Manish Shah. The Fourth Year Letter went to Brian Celce and Rob Henning. The Best Player went to Rob Henning and Brian Celce. The Best Record went to Brian Celce for singles and Joe Stephen, Shannon Cole for doubles. The Most Improved went to Rob Slagle. The Most Silver Sets went to Joe Stephen, and Shannon Cole. Safe At Home

Road Trips Take Their Toll On Varsity.

The varsity baseball team's 1991 season started off with a 3-12 loss to Cambridge. The team travelled to Tri Valley next and lost their second by a score of 5-11 and were edged by Tusky Valley at home, 1-3. The team then claimed their first win, over Indian Valley, on April 3rd.

The next two games were both against Alliance. At Alliance the Quakers were edged out by a score of 4-5, however at home the team beat the Aviators, 7-5.

Tuscora Park was the home of the varsity's next two games as the Quakers went on to beat North Canton in a fierce 1-0 battle, and lost against Claymont 10-7.

The varsity team experienced a slide in their season, losing the next four games. The first was against Lake, 2-6, followed by two games against Jackson. Canton Timken came to town and beat the Quakers, 3-7.

On April 29th the Varsity team went up against North Canton and claimed their first victory since April 16th. The team then went on to defeat their next three opponents. After traveling to Canton Timken and defeating them, 6-3, the team came home for two games. The first was against Lake and the Quakers won 4-2. The second was against Wooster in which the first and only shut-out of the year was recorded. Keith Fuller was the winning pitcher and advanced his record to 1-1 and the team's to 7-9.

However, Wooster quickly avenged the loss on their own turf, beating the Quakers, 5-2. East Liverpool was the next team faced and once again Keith Fuller recorded a win as the Quakers won 7-3.

Connoton Valley was the next opponent who fell prey to the Quakers' bats, as New Phila rolled over them by a score of 24-8.

After losses on the road to Indian Valley and Zanesville, and a win over Massillon, the Quakers returned home to defeat Glen Oak, 6-5.

The team's last two losses of the season were against Glen Oak and Perry, before returning home to beat Perry, ending the season 12-14. Mark Gwinn commented on the team. "In the games we won, we always usually started out slow and then came around to pull it off in the end."

Ups & Downs

After Roller Coaster Season Quakers Finish 11-10.

New Philadelphia's reserve baseball team met Cambridge for the first game of their 1991 season and beat them by a score of 10-5. This game was the first in a season of highs and lows which took the team on a roller coaster ride which didn't stop until May.

The second game of the season, the Quakers went up against Tri Valley and lost 15-5. The boys claimed a win over Tusky Valley before splitting a pair of games with Indian Valley.

Next, Alliance came to town and edged Phila by a score of 11-10.

The Quakers went on to take a victory over Fairless, and then a loss to North Canton.

The next two games the reserves won, beating Claymont, 10-7, and pulling past Lake, 9-8.

After dropping two to Jackson and one to Carrollton the Quakers pulled past Wooster 11-10. After another game against Claymont in which the Mustangs got their revenge, 12-6, the boys went into their second meeting with Wooster and again emerged victorious, 12-6.

Dover was the next opponent, and after a fierce battle, the Torna-does won by a score of 12-9. The next two games were against Glen Oak. The Quakers won the first and lost the second, before going on to beat Perry twice and end the season 11-10.

Sophomore Jamie Kappeler said "The most memorable game was against Wooster. Dan Brown was pushed while running to base, and argued with the umpire and was thrown out. Coach Korn went out to argue that call, and he was thrown out. Mrs. Korn had to coach the rest of the game. We did go on to beat Wooster and Mrs. Korn went 1-0 for the year."

Learning The Ropes

Freshmen Team's Explosive Start Cooled By Tough Competitors.

Under the coaching of Mr. Jim Wherley, the freshmen baseball team started their 1991 season on the right foot by nipping Tuscarawas Central Catholic by a score of 13-12. The freshmen then went on to win three out of the next four games, beating Lake and Claymont by scores of 11-2, and 10-5, and again beating Tuscarawas Central Catholic, 21-1.

Wooster was the next team the Quakers went up against, and were edged out, 10-9. This loss was the beginning of a slide in the team's season losing their next six games as they went up against fierce competition.

The first of the six teams was Hoover who beat the Quakers, 10-5. Jackson was next, and despite their efforts the freshmen were defeated 16-14. Tusky Valley and Claymont were the next two Quaker competitors and both won by scores of 17-11 and 13-11.

Glen Oak rolled into town for the next game and beat the freshmen, 8-11, however the Quakers pulled together and went up again against Glen Oak again, this time beating them in a highscoring game, 19-16.

Lake was the team's last opponent and defeated the Quakers by a score of 4-6, as the freshmen ended their season 5-8.

Todd Bible commented on what was most memorable about the season. "There are two things which stick out in my mind. The first is that we averaged 11 runs a game and only won five. The second is when we traveled to Hoover, their field was so full of sand, I didn't know if I was playing baseball or at the beach."

Jim Compher, junior, delivers a smashing hit down the first base line.

Freshman Jacob Powell makes the play at first to end the inning during a home game.

Chad Tope, sophomore, checks on the runner at first before delivering the pitch.

A New Start

Bases Loaded

Although the reserve girls didn't win a game last season they came back this season with a record of 9-8. For this reason the girls' team was posted with the name "The Comeback Kids." Most of their hard work came at the end of their games which helped them receive such a record. The girls kept their spirits up and improved throughout the season.

Some of the team's best triumphs included two big wins over Dover, and coming back twice from twelve run deficits in the last innings to defeat both Wooster and North Canton.

The Varsity team, on the other hand, had a disappointing 6-19 record for the year and a 2-14 record in the Federal League.

For their participation on the team, Misti

Everhart received an All-State Honorable Mention." Learning to work as a team and making new friends were good things about softball" said freshman Jennifer Edwards.

Senior Tonya Reed tries her best to get an out against the visiting team.

Picture this, you are sitting there, but afraid to smile. Afraid that if you smile too much it will be nerdy, or if you do not smile at all, it will be too studious. That perfect smile is sometimes hard to get, but when you get it, it is perfect. When you get those pictures back, you think they are ugly and other people love them. So we have combined all these personalities together for a perplexing portrait section.

Juniors Libby Rinehart and Caryn Harter take the wall for a victory sign during Phila/Dover week.

During study hall, senior Jason Burgett asks seniors Leanne Sherret and Marites Arejola for a little help with an English assignment.

'Wow!' thought senior Jason Martini as he looks at another one of his fabulous math papers.

SENIOR SPIRIT SOARS !

Remember "Nightmare on Crater Avenue"? Who could ever forget that! It was the first Phila - Dover hall theme for the Class of 1991. They later went on to create "Freeze Out Dover" and "The Day After," which helped them claim first prize their Junior year. Also, as Juniors, they worked very hard decorating for Prom, and created a spectacular "Midnight Masquerade," complete with a fire-breathing dragon.

As Freshmen, the Freshmen football team beat Dover as "Phila Shocks Dover 21-14." And, again as Seniors, New Phila reigned victorious over Dover in a 27-0 shutout. They came in with a bang, and left with a KABOOM!

All in all, in their four years at NPHS, the Class of 1991 has been very successful!

Senior class officers: Janet Baumer-Vice President, Jen Lile-President, Matt Morgan-Treasurer, Tom Gerber-Historian, and Heather Gross-Secretary.

Spirit soars in the senior section at the Phila-Dover pep rally, which was held on Friday before the game.

To the Point

On May 28, groups of tired seniors gathered on the patio for the 6:30 AM departure for Cedar Point.

Once inside the park, everyone rushed to get in line for their favorite ride, for the beginning of a beautiful and hot day. Jeannine Porter later commented that the trip was "a fun-filled, friend-filled day of rides, food, and sun." After an exciting afternoon, everyone got back together for the banquet. At the banquet, the winners of the Best and Most awards were announced, and the class advisors, Mr. Rod Miller and Mr. Jim Watson, were recognized and thanked. The time remaining after dinner was spent relaxing and socializing by the staff and students. At eight o'clock, after a long, enjoyable day, the buses were boarded for the trip home. This last day together will never be forgotten by the class of 1991.

Bridget Lightbody smiles as tries her luck at the Guessing Game while the Cedar Point attendant tries to halt her dreams of fame and amazing prizes.

Drinking from a hippopotamus, Michelle Walker takes a break from the hot sun under a shade tree.

We Are Outta Here

On June 2nd, the class of 91' marched into Quaker Stadium as students and emerged graduates.

It was a beautiful but hot day as the class of 91' marched into Quaker Stadium. Mr. Burnison opened the ceremony, followed by the declamations of salutatorians Terra Colvin, Heather Gross, Casey O'Farrell, and Carl Peoples. Suit Wah Chan was also a salutatorian but chose not to speak.

Next, Jennifer Lile, made her remarks about the class, followed by the board's special presentation to foreign exchange student Jessica Valesco.

The honor students were than recognized and given their gold cords. Valedictorian, Mark Fahner spoke next, and was followed by music by the senior choir members.

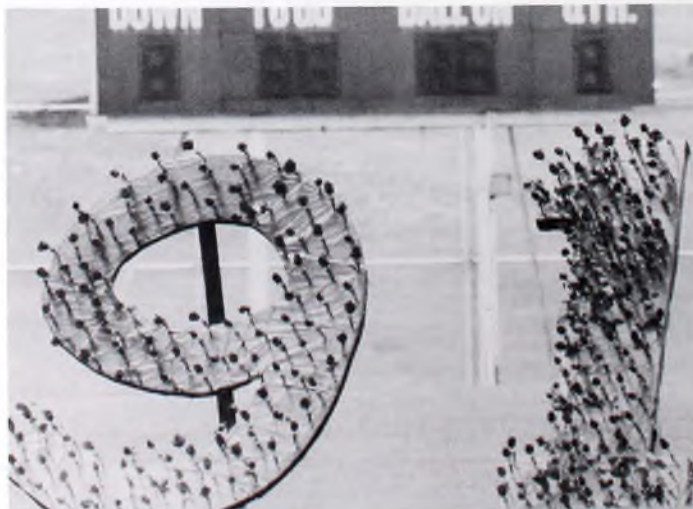

Finally, the time arrived for the role call. Diplomas were given out and parents and friends took pictures of all the graduates. As they walked off the field, the class of 91's four years together came to a close, as they now prepare to go their separate ways and enter a new chapter their lives.

Brian Celce, trying to give his eyes a break from the sun, waits patiently outside the stadium.

The roses sit in the "91" before being given the graduates.

Valedictorian, Mark Fahner addresses the class of 1991.

The senior choir members along with a few juniors and sophomore members, sing the song "Friends" at graduation.

JUNIORS JUST JUGGLE!

Busy! That word best described the class of 1992 this year. Juggling school, homework, extracurricular activities, and jobs, juniors barely found enough time to sleep.

During school the class kept busy maintaining their GPA. After school, many found time to participate on varsity and reserve teams or support ones their friends were on. Other juniors found the time to maintain a job.

As a class, the juniors ran the concession stand at basketball games and sold valentine candy. The money they raised was used to plan prom.

Why did the juniors keep so busy? There were various reasons. Elyse Stratton said, "I kept busy because I was interested in a lot of activities and I wanted to participate in as many as possible." Many students took harder classes this year to get them out of the way for an easier senior year schedule. Jim Vickers said, "I took most of my harder classes this year so next year I can relax a little and enjoy my senior year."

While all this juggling can wear a junior out, the class of 1992 enjoyed this year and is looking forward to a more relaxing senior year they can enjoy.

Junior Rah! A group of enthusiastic juniors, led by Amy Thompson and Autumn Miller raise class spirit at the school Dover-Phila pep rally.

Pucker up! Junior Kristie Spinell does her duty as student council officer to kiss the pig held by senior Lynne Wise. The officers promised to kiss a pig if the senior high students raised more money in the spirit link sale than the elementary and middle school students.

Junior class officers: Historian Tara Olinger, Vice President Amy Montgomery, President Gary Mason, Secretary Chrissy Simon, Treasurer Caryn Harter.

SOPHS SHOW SKILL!

selling pop at home basketball games and wrestling matches is traditionally the responsibility of the sophomore class and this year sophomores made it an effective fundraiser. This year's sophomore class officers are: President- Jim Wherley, vice president- Nathan Agar, secretary- Lisa Kinsey, treasurer- Sharon Hagopian, and historian Jill Best. When Jim Wherley was asked about his favorite part of being class president, he replied, "Taking part in class activities." Nathan Agar explained that "My friend Jason Hanes and I thought we'd run for a joke. I completed my form and my friend did not. I made it and he didn't."

"It is a good idea to run for a class office if you are willing to work a little, but it's also fun", is Sharon Hagopian's advice to anyone considering running for office. Lisa Kinsey agrees and says that "it gives a person a fun and active role in class activities".

Amanda Wallace, Beth McCombs, and Racheal Domer take a break from studying.

Kicking for a goal, Shannon Willet makes a good effort.

Deciding the Future

We're halfway through high school, in the middle, and it is time to make the very important decisions that will affect the rest of our lives. Should I go to college or stay at New Phila High? Should I take college prep classes? What do I want to be? Although there are many people who have known their goals in life since the second grade, most of us only have vague plans, like Marie Draher whose plans for the future are, "College, but who knows where?" Hopefully in Ohio so I can come back to

New Philadelphia on weekends sometimes. After college I'll get a job teaching math or science.

Just before Thanksgiving the Guidance Department administered the DAT test to all sophomores. This test is not only required to attend Buckeye JVS but will also help all sophomores to decide on a future career. Whatever each individual decides to do, however, must be up to them because that person is the only one who knows what is really right.

Realizing the dreams of the future, Shawn West works to complete his Geometry homework.

FROSH FRESH FACES

After class, Melissa Tickner exits a ular and pauses for a short wave.

The class of 1994 took on some tough tasks this year, but always managed to come through with smiling faces. This year's class officers were as follows, President: Ashley Rieger, Vice-President: Tracey Colvin, Secretary: Amy Jones, Treasurer: Chad Watson, and Historian: Kelly Kline. The advisors were Mr. Menges and Mrs. Thompson. The freshmen raised money by collecting class dues, selling Christmas candy-grams, and running the popcorn machine at school ballgames and other various activities. The money raised will go toward a senior class trip and for prom decorations in their junior year. This year's freshmen were also the first to take the state-wide Competency tests. These tests were given three days this year for the first two periods of the day. The students were tested in mathematics, reading, and citizenship. The students tested very well with the majority of students passing in most areas.

The freshmen seem to be adapting very well with their new surroundings. When asked, most students said the modulars were okay, but a high school would be better. The freshmen are keeping their spirits up and smiles on their faces. When asked about the high light of her year so far, Amy McCluggage replied, "I liked seeing all my friends again and working with the music department."

Mr. Young helps Terry Short on the new Macintosh computers.

The Activities Office keeps track of all the athletic and co-curricular activities that take place every day here at NPHS. Mrs. Milliken, in addition to organizing all of the school's activities, puts out a weekly bulletin of all the activities to inform the teachers and students of what is going on. One of the most difficult tasks that faces the Activities

Elf alert! Elf alert! Mr. Slauson, winner of the Christmas Elf contest, discusses literary schools with his 11th grade College Bound English class.

Ms. Tschudy begins to pass out tests to her 9th Grade College Prep English class.

While his class causes a little disruption, Mr. Rowe assists Aaron Winn with his English assignment.

As a new year began, the English department at NPHS was already on the move. The teachers started early to prepare for the up-and-coming school session.

The addition of a writing center would enable students to get help in their writing assignments. The new center will prove to be a valuable long-term asset to NPHS.

The English department at NPHS offers many courses ranging from 9th Grade Practical English to 12th Grade College Bound Advanced English. The purpose of all courses is to familiarize students in the English language.

By working their way up through classics such as Romeo and Juliet, All Quiet on the Western Front, The Great Gatsby, and Lord of the Flies, students gain insight into literature.

Students also must learn grammar. Some students like grammar since it involves a basic understanding of sentence structure and word usage.

Finally, writing is stressed heavily, particularly in the 11th and 12th grade classes. Essay topics are both assigned and chosen. The ability to write is a necessity to all students.

"... I'm glad I enjoyed at least one thing from (English): in-class discussions. That's the time when we can pour out our opinions and comments over our willing listener, Mrs. R."

"(What I hate about MathIV) is the fact that it is a math class, that it takes a week to learn one thing that is soon forgotten, and that we're usually not allowed to use calculators and...that's enough." Stephanie Mizer - senior

Math! Sometimes the word strikes fear into students' hearts. Other times math may be a welcome relief from the other, more objective classes. In any respect, the math department at NPHS is a vital part of our school.

There were no new course offerings for the 1990-91 school year. But students did not have to limit their choices to only a few courses either. Classes offered ranged from General Math 9 all the way up to Calculus. The purpose of all courses is to help students get a grip on how important mathematics is in our society.

Students at NPHS work on problems like finding the sale price of an item, on a higher level, finding the derivative of the sine and cosine functions. By doing so, students come to terms with math's role in our world.

Students also learn how to use calculators properly. Scientific calculators have many functions and teachers must be familiar with all of them in order for them to teach a certain section. Mathematics at NPHS thrives on teachers who enjoy and understand their subject and are willing to teach it to capable students.

Science

Science at NPHS has many facets. This year, the Science Department was very busy.

The importance of science is stressed at NPHS at all levels. All courses' goals are to help students become aware of the role that science plays not only in New Phila, but also in the whole world, and even the universe. Freshmen start with Physical Science. This course prepares students for their later years of more advanced study in Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Geology.

The Biology II class once again held the annual Blood Drive. Students from NPHS donated many pints of blood that will be used to save the lives of people who need blood transfusions, such as accident victims. The Physics classes once again participated in the "Mousetrap Car" contest. The aim was to make the car traverse 25 feet in the shortest amount of time. Seniors Mark Fahner and Rob Henning were the winners.

Other classes were also busy. The Biology I classes discussed genes, Genus and Species, and Charles Darwin. The Chemistry classes learned about solutions, moles, and chemical formulas, while the Geology class dealt with how certain types of rocks are formed, among other things. The Science Department at NPHS is filled with educational and interesting activities that shape students' minds.

The World Today classes had an abundance of discussion material with all the events occurring in the Middle East. Meanwhile, the American Minorities class engaged themselves in discussions concerning how minorities differ from the mainstream. The Sociology classes discussed and tried to elucidate why human beings conduct themselves in the manner that they do. The Economics classes examined the material wealth, or the lack of it, of mankind.

The Government classes studied the American system and analyzed it, while the History classes, both American and World, considered the wars, conquests, empires, and inhabitants which shaped the world in each one's own time period.

Of equal interest are a few field trips taken by the Government Seminar and American History Seminar classes. The Computer Department at NPHS got off to a fresh, new start. With the addition of 23 new Macintosh SE computers, students and teachers alike were able to use more sophisticated equipment in their studies of computers.

The Computer Department offered several courses from which to choose from.

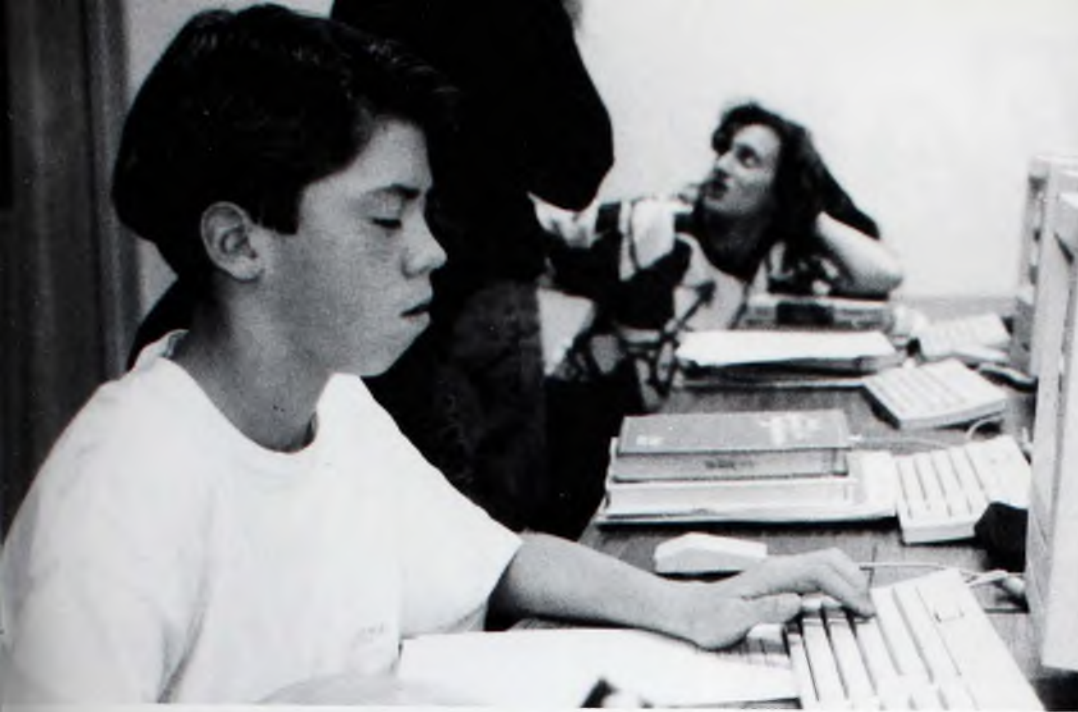

Computer Logo teaches students about computer graphics.

While in the computer lab, freshman Terry Short works on his Computer Logo assignment.

Basic Programming 1 introduces students to writing simple to fairly complex programs. Basic Programming 2 further instructs the student in more complicated programs. Computer Tools helps students to become familiar with the computers' abilities in word processing and more. Finally, Pascal is a weighted course that is taken by more advanced computer students.

'Me gusta el Español." "Sprechen sie Deutsch?" "Parlez-vous Francais?" Foreign languages at NPHS are popular courses to take.

In the first two years of a language, students learn the structure, format, and pronunciation of the particular language that they are studying. They do speaking drills, writing drills, and reading assignments.

In the latter years, the "weighted" years, students are expected to have grasped the language and should be ready for a more in-depth study of the language's people and culture. Artists are studied, films are viewed, and tapes are listened to as well. Students try to learn the most not only about the physical traits of the language and its peoples, but also about the personality and history of the country.

Fine Arts

At NPHS, the Fine Arts have always had an important position. This year was no exception.

Many awards were won by the NPHS band department. They traveled to distant competitions and were usually among the top competitors.

In the choral department, students performed at many local events. The choirs held the annual Christmas Concert, which was a great success. They also performed at pep-rallies, and at football and basketball games.

The Art Department had a busy year as well. Students were able to choose from many art classes. Classes ranged from Art I all the way up to some advanced studio courses.

The NPHS speech classes, Oral Interpretation I, II, III, and Speech also had a successful year. Ten students qualified for the State Tournament in Youngstown, Ohio. Fine Arts will always be a vital asset at NPHS.

Sue Dummermuth

Many changes were in store for the NPHS library for the 1990-91 school year. The fire of 1990 having gutted the library, Mrs. Dummermuth and Mrs. Compher had to make some decisions about what to do next.

First of all, the card catalog system was outdated. So, in order to make checking out of books easier and faster, the catalog switched from drawers to drives. The card catalog was put on computer. In this system, students would be assigned a number and when they would want to check out a book, their number would be punched into the computer.

Also, since they would be moving to a "temporary" location, Mrs. Dummermuth and Mrs. Compher had to find space for the incoming periodicals and literature. New shelves were purchased and would hold enough books for a limited length of time. They also had to set up desks, tables and computers that would be arriving at the library.

Hopefully the NPHS library will be back in full force and full of reading material that will help the students soon.

General Business prepares freshmen for a possible career in business. Record Keeping teaches students to keep track of money in the setting of the home or small business. Typing I and II prepares students to type extensive documents and also to do typing work in banks, data collection businesses, and accounting firms. Accounting I and II introduces students to bookkeeping in a small business, payroll departments, or for a college degree in accounting. Business Law students go to a trial, talk with judges, and listen to attorneys and police to better understand the complex legal system.

During the junior and senior years, students may wish to join the V.I.P. program. Students get hands-on computer work. They also have guest speakers and field trips. Business at NPHS is full of programs for the young business aspiree.

There are many alternative programs here at NPHS. They are offered so that students who have the desire to take classes other than the traditional college prep or general education classes may do so.

For instance, there are classes offered for students who have jobs and want to work during the latter part of the school day, thus receiving more hours. With this class, called Marketing Education, students take up to four classes and then they are able to leave school to check into their jobs. These students compete in a statewide and national competition for their marketing skills.

Other classes are Occupational Work Experience, and Occupational Work Adjustment. All the classes are a valuable asset to NPHS.

College

Junior Shawn Huff takes advantage of College Day's opportunities by signing his name under a college's mailing list.

Having a humorous conversation at College Day are junior Eric Belknap and seniors Mistey Watson and Marlee Baird.

Held on November 7, 1990, College Day offered many opportunities for fourteen area high schools' students to look into different schools, colleges, technical colleges, and military academies. "College Day is a good way to introduce us to eligible colleges that have the characteristics that we are looking for in a college," junior Gary Mason said. About sixty educational facilities from Ohio and several neighboring states set up tables and passed out information to juniors, seniors, and their parents. Junior Jim Vickers described the day: "Before College Day, I had no clue as to where I wanted to go to college, but after talking to representatives and collecting information, I have a good idea of where I want to go." College Day has been an annual event at N.P.H.S. ever since 1973, and it has been coordinated by Mr. Larry Warner since 1975.

Looking into Kenyon College, junior Jamie Page signs up to receive some information.

Trying to discover which college suits each of their expectations, juniors Kristen Harris and Amy Thompson look at some literature from yet another college.

Whether you are a cheerleader or you are involved in the choir, your life is jumbled with the confusion of others. Each activity that you are involved with includes a variety of different jargons. These different languages are alien to other people around you, but you understand them. This section is dedicated to the people with Jumbled Jargons.

Freshmen cheerleaders, Tis Scott, Kati McCarthy, Kelly Clark, and Veronica Septer lead the crowd in a chant during game against Indian Valley.

Rocking The Nation

The New Philadelphia Q.T. Pom Pom Squad

Won two Superior trophies at the Universal Dance Association's camp.

The trophies qualified them to compete in the National Dance Team Championship in Orlando, Florida. Senior Allyson Schlote was selected as a Universal Dance Star and went to London England over the holidays to perform in the Lord Mayor of Westminster's New Years Day Parade. The six girls who went to Orlando were Kelly Fenton, Nicole Hurst, Allyson Schlote, Brandy Brown, Caryn Harter, and Gretchen Erb. The squad placed 33rd in the nation out of 140 squads competing. Other performances were at the First Town Days, where they also sponsored the fish booth. The squad ended their performances by including the reserve and varsity cheerleaders to perform a special 50's number where they "rocked" the gym at the Claymont game. "Being a first year Q.T. was a really great experience. We had so rough times as a squad, but eventually one stuck together and we all had a fun year. I made a lot of new friends and I'm glad I was on the squad." Freshman Andrea Ellis.

Organizing pep rallies, attending games, showing constant support for each team player and the team in general, and arrangement of several after-game dances are just a few of the activities that keep the N.P.H.S. cheerleaders occupied during the school year. "I thought it was a great experience! We had great teams this season, and I made some good friends with the other cheerleaders," freshman Amy Jones said. Elyse Stratton continued, "We always have something scheduled, but I don't mind being busy because I am having fun and supporting my school."

Sweet Harmony

All N.P.H.S. Choirs kept busy with their music this year, performing in many concerts, and for all occasions.

Freshmen Choir, and Handbells both performed for Otterbein College, in the Christmas, Spring and Barn Concerts.

Freshmen Choir also put on a production of "The Pirates Of Penzance," with performances on February 21 and a special performance for elementaries on February 20. The best experience for me in Freshmen Choir has probably been working on "The Pirates Of Penzance," because the rest of the choir is fun to work with and Mr. Gibbs is one of my favorite teachers." said freshman Aaron Winn.

Handbells additionally took part in an all handbell Festival and Recital on April 13.

"Being in handbells has been a good experience for me because it lets me improve on my music talents and skills. I've learned everything through bells and I think more people should get involved in it." freshman Bill Byers commented.

The Ladies' Ensemble had a variety of performances this year, starting with the Otterbein College Concert. The Ladies' Ensemble also took part in the Christmas Parade and Concert, the Salvation Army Silver Christmas Tea, some Rotary Performances and in the Spring and Barn Concerts.

"I learned a lot of new techniques for voice production," said freshman Debby Fox, "and performing was an enjoyable experience."

Junior, Abby Gano commented "I decided to join because I wanted every opportunity to sing. It's a smaller group, so while we learn, we have a lot of fun."

Musical Sensations

The Delphian Chorale and the Concert Choir perfected their singing with many performances for another exceptional year.

The Delphian Chorale participated in many performances, including many football games and pep rallies, the alumni reunion, homecoming, the community and school pep rallies, the Veterans' ceremony, the Otterbein College Concert, the Shen Dairy banquet, New Town Retirement Center, Eastern Star, the Christmas, Spring, and Barn Concerts, the Lion's Club, and Singing Valentines. When asked what she enjoyed most about being in the Delphian Chorale, senior Tisha Simmons commented, "The Delphian Chorale is fun because of the people who are in it. We all enjoy singing and performing for our community."

Concert Choir also performed in the Otterbein College Concert and in the Christmas, Spring and Barn Concerts. Additionally they also took part in the Christmas Parade on November 24.

When asked what he enjoys the most about Concert Choir, junior Jay Gowan replied, "I enjoy performing in front of large crowds most because I like to show off!"

"Singing at the beginning of the year in front of everyone so that Mr. Gibbs could check our voices was my worst experience through choir," said sophomore Tina Fincher, "But through it I've learned not to be afraid."

Winter Melodies and Motions

Music performances don't end after Marching Band and Guard season is over.

The N.P.H.S. Concert Band won a Superior rating in their Class B District 8 Contest on March 15 at Jackson High School. Kaleidoscope (Winter Guard) earned 14th place at their division in world-wide Olympics at Dayton on April 14.

This year's N.P.H.S. Concert Band worked through one of their most challenging years. By performing "Incantation and Dance," "Fantasia on a Southern Folk Hymn," and "Little English Girl," the band received their Superior rating. "We've really worked hard this year, and it paid off," freshman Aaron Morrow said. Besides performing at the Jackson competition, the band presented a pre-contest concert. Some members performed at the February 2 High School Solo and Ensemble Contest held here at N.P.H.S., and some freshmen performed at the March 2 Junior High School Solo and Ensemble Contest also held here.

"High School in the '90's" was the theme for the 1990-1991 Kaleidoscope. "It was one of the harder shows we've performed, but we had lots of fun," Jennifer Berndt, a junior said. The unit performed five songs, each dealing with a different aspect of growing up.

Under the direction of Bill Graham, Mark Wells, Becky Jacoby, Jeff

Furbay, and Cheryl Graham, Kaleidoscope performed at many different places and received high ratings. They won three first place awards in Class A, two third place ratings and a fifth place in Open Class, and a 14th in the worldwide semi-finals. "It doesn't matter what other people think about the show, we like to do it, and we have fun," freshman Kristy Van Sile said.

Twirling her flag, sophomore Shannon Marshall performs with Kaleidoscope at Wadsworth, where they received a fifth place in Open Class.

Junior Jessica Rilke plays her baritone in the band's pre-Contest Concert's song of 'Fantasia on a Southern Folk Hymn.'

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

On April 25th New Phila Students showcased their talents during the 1991 NPHS Talent Show.

During 8th and 9th periods, senior high students gathered in the gym to watch eight acts battle for a one-hundred dollar prize. Heavy metal band "Salvation's End," consisting of Chris Lipinski, Jake Wieland, Matt Cargnel, and Chad Mowrer, started the show, followed by dancers John Simpson, and Dave Tate. Amy Stutz delivered a cutting from "The Odd Couple," and Misti Watson and Darla West danced to a medley of popular songs from Milli Vanilli to Depeche Mode. Guitarist Jim Vickers followed with his own rendition of Jimi Hendrix' classic version of the "Star Spangled Banner." The majorettes performed next, followed by Missy Fuller and Beth Caton who performed the song

"Think of Me." Jeanine Porter delivered her state-qualifying cutting, "The Nerd," followed by the rock band "Mad Hatter." The Winterguard performed while the judges conferred.

Jeannine Porter won first prize, John Simpson and Dave Tate claimed second, and Missy Fuller and Beth Caton were third. Carl Peoples was the emcee for the event, which was the first talent show held at NPHS since 1985. The show was organized by Gary Mason, Jim Vickers, Stacey Rhoads, and Mrs. Wittkop, with additional help from Mrs. Miller and Mr. Holdsworth.

Junior Greg Scott commented on the show: "It was a good way for students to share their talents, and relax from spring's pressure."

Juniors Scott Shook, Dave Metzger, and Jamie Hostetler perform a song, which they wrote, at the talent show.

Sophomores Dave Tate and John Simpson dance to the song "Iesha." The act won the second place prize of seventy-five dollars.

Third place winner, senior Missy Fuller, sings "Think of Me" while Junior Beth Caton accompanies on the Clavinova.

Senior Jeannine Porter delivers a cutting from 'The Nerd.' Her performance earned her the one-hundred dollar first place prize.

The NPHS Majorettes twirl to the song 'Groove is in the Heart.'

Speak Out

What is said is important, but how it is said makes a real difference.

Being on the speech team means different things to different people, and Katie Wherley said that, "I've always had a deep passion for acting. Being on the speech team has helped mold me into the actress that I am. However, the friendship I've gained over the years will also have a lasting impact on my life."

Despite not having the full use of a building this year, the New Phila tournament was still held. Using the modulars and some rooms in the Middle School, the tournament worked out fine. When he looked back at the season as a whole, Mark

While portraying Agnes, Katie Wherley reacts to the nightmarish experience of a nun having a baby during her cutting from 'Agnes of God'.

Fahner said that "The definite highlight was qualifying for and competing in the state speech finals. We also had a lot of fun at the overnight tournament. The whole season was fun and exciting as I got closer to all of the team members and made new friends from other schools."

At the Canton District OHSSL tournament, ten students qualified for the state tournament: Chris Schoelles and Jodie Reiss, Bridgett Lightbody and Amy Kochur, Mark Fahner and Brandy Brown-duet acting;; Allyson Schlote-oratorical interpretation; Jeannine Porter-humorous interpretation; Jen Lile-original oratory; and Kitt Hykes-foreign extemporaneous speaking. Also, first alternate honors went to Katie Wherley in dramatic interpretation. At the state tournament Jeannine Porter was a participant in the quarter finals. With all of these achievements for the team, Jeannine Porter said that, "I feel my biggest achievement was being a state qualifier two years in a row. Speech is a very tough activity that takes talent and skill. The state tournament recognizes the skill of the students and makes all of the work seem worthwhile."

On March 20, the state qualifiers and alternate presented their pieces for an "Evening of Entertainment". This gave parents and friends an opportunity to see what speech team is really all about.

worked very hard to organize the induction ceremony, where each took on a different responsibility. Senior Jeannine Porter said "I felt Honored to be in the National Honor Society-Ha! Ha! Honestly, it makes me feel special, that my work in the school and community has not gone unnoticed."

Recognizing students who excell is what Academic Awards night is all about.

On May 8, 1991 Academic Awards Night took place at the Buckeye JVS cafeteria. According to Laurie Draher, Academic Awards Night "gives the students a chance to be recognized and rewarded for all of the time and hard work they have put into their education."

Describing the feeling of receiving awards in front of his family and friends, Jim Wherley said that "I was very honored to be a part of the Academic Awards Night."

For many NPHS seniors this was a very special occasion, when they recieved awards for classes, academic letter awards, and recognitions for scholarships that they have earned.

Mark Fahner was recognized as valedictorian. Salutatorians were Suit Wah Chan, Terra Colvin, Heather Gross, Casey O'Farrel, and Carl Peoples. One senior, Carl Peoples said, "The best thing about Academic Awards Night was getting awards and seeing my friends, especially the seniors, get their awards."

Outsmarting the Competition

It takes knowledge and skill to be a part of the Academic Challenge team.

This year the team took on a new challenge, by competing in the newly formed Federal League Academic Challenge tournament. Kitti Hykes said that, "Being on the team this year was a real learning experience."

When asked about his advice for people thinking of joining the Academic Challenge team, Kurt Gowins commented, "The Academic Challenge Team is a good extracurricular activity for someone who is bright and who likes to be challenged by others."

The team ended the year with two wins in the Federal League tournament. Members were recognized with certificates at the Academic Awards Night.

A NOSE AND A DREAM

Opening night came too soon for some nervous young people involved with the Drama Department's spring production.

Weeks of hard practice that began late in January came down to the final test on April 18, 1991, when the NPHS Drama Department put on the production of Money, Power, Greed, Revenge and Marvelous Clothes, a musical soap-opera spoof.

The story began in an airport where a disguised Destiny Mink told several inquisitive reporters of her tragic tale. Destiny was once Peggy Drabb, a sweet girl with a long nose. Peggy soon found that her nose stood between her and the man she loved, Rake Carbuncle. Peggy then had surgery to get rid of her ghastly nose which transformed her into the glamorous Destiny Mink. Destiny ended up marrying her plastic surgeon, Amour Balducci, who was later revealed to be a count. Destiny then inherited all of his wealth when Amour died shortly after the wedding. The climax of the story came when Destiny was charged with the murder of Peggy Drabb by Amour's nurse who had sworn revenge against Destiny for stealing Amour away from her, and Clover Carstairs, the jealous wife of Rake who would stop at nothing to destroy the woman who had designs on her husband. The show ended in true soap-opera fashion, with an attempted murder and secrets about everyone coming out.

When asked what he was thinking on opening night, sophomore Chris Geib replied, "If Rake really was Joe Smith, then why didn't Peggy recognize him when she was a serving maid at the Carbu-cle's? If Rake really....' Other than that I was hoping that scenery would fall down and that everything would go w Poked in the eye by senior Bridget Lightbody's long nose, junior Jared Jenkins screams in pain.

In the parlor of the Carbuncle mansion, senior Terra Colvin and juniors Abby Gano and Jared Jenkins sit down for afternoon tea.

During a practice rehearsal, senior Kim McCutcheon and the reporters, freshmen Chester Randolph and Jennifer Johnson, sophomore Josh Burt, and freshman Amy Jones sing "Tell All".

Sophomore Corey Zickle asks a nervous Bridget Lightbody, senior, to remove the paper bag from her head during a practice performance.

During a sting, junior Jared Jenkins and seniors Chris Schoelles and Terra Colvin stare off into space after learning that Rake is not really married to Clover.

Surrounded by all the maidens Fredric is sung to by Mabel his wife to be.

Fredric and Mabel promise to be true for the next 60 years while Fredric is doing his duty with the pirates.

The Sergeant of Police tells a story to his fellow police officers as they make the whole scene comical with their special actions.

SOLD OUT CROWDS

The freshman choir presented a successful performance of "Pirates of Penzance."

For the first time ever the freshman choir did its own play, which was a big success. The choir practiced many long hours and started six weeks before show time. The show opened the 21st of February and ran through the 23rd. As opening night is always full of jitters, the choir had their share but were filled with confidence as the show went on. Despite a fallen bush or two, the performance was approved by the audience with a standing ovation.

The show is mainly about a young boy, Fredric, who is indentured to the pirates by mistake. Ruth, his maid, would be Fredric's wife if only he would say yes, but his attention is turned to a group of maidens, where only one will agree to marry him. Everything is set for his marriage until Fredric discovers he was born in leap year and is only five years old and "a little bit more" and was indentured to the pirates until his twenty-first birthday.

The Keystone Cops were called in to help fight this unfairness, but only caused more chaos by their one ability- to fall down. "I think the best part of the play was the police. They were so funny, and I also liked the major general." said freshman Terry Short. Ending it all the pirates surrendered leaving everyone happy. Everyone that is, except, of course, the police because all the maidens are marrying the pirates. The show was wrapped up with a cast party after the last performance. Freshman Mandy Fuller said, "The best part of participating in the show was getting to make new friends."

NIGHT UNDER THE LIGHTS

The 1991 Prom "Night Under the Lights" was held in the high school gymnasium on May 4th.

Nightengale supplied the music for the event and pictures were taken by Mitchell's Studio. At ten o'clock the dance floor cleared and senior Kim McCutcheon was crowned 1991 prom queen. Following the prom, students were able to get something to eat, listen to the

New Phila. Many couples then finished out the night with howling at Kinser Lane.

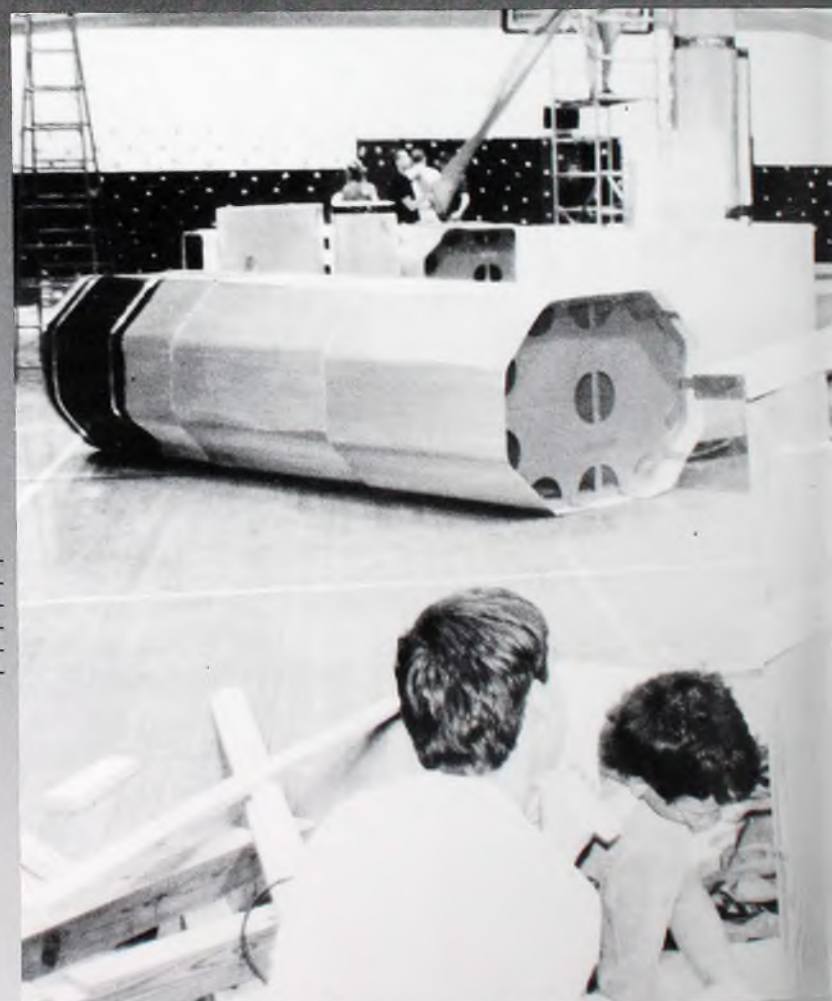

Decorations for the prom were planned by the junior class decorating committee which included Gary Mason, Amy Montgomery, Caryn Harter, Chrissy Simon, Tara Olinger, Shari Kohl, Jamie Milliken, Autumn Miller, J.J. Schumacher, Kristi Spinell, Michelle Bracken, and class advisors Mr. Fete and Mrs. Seymour. During the three days before prom, juniors and many teachers gathered in the gymnasium to build the decorations. Junior J.J. Schumacher commented on the problems which arise while decorating. "The big things like the dance floor didn't give us much trouble. Little things like the lights and covering the walls were the things which gave us the most problems."

The gym was decorated as the rooftop of a hotel which overlooked a city skyline, with double staircases, a black and white checkered dance floor and a fountain. Senior Chris Schlarb gave his thoughts on the prom. "I was very impressed with the decorations, and other than it being a little warm, it was a great night."

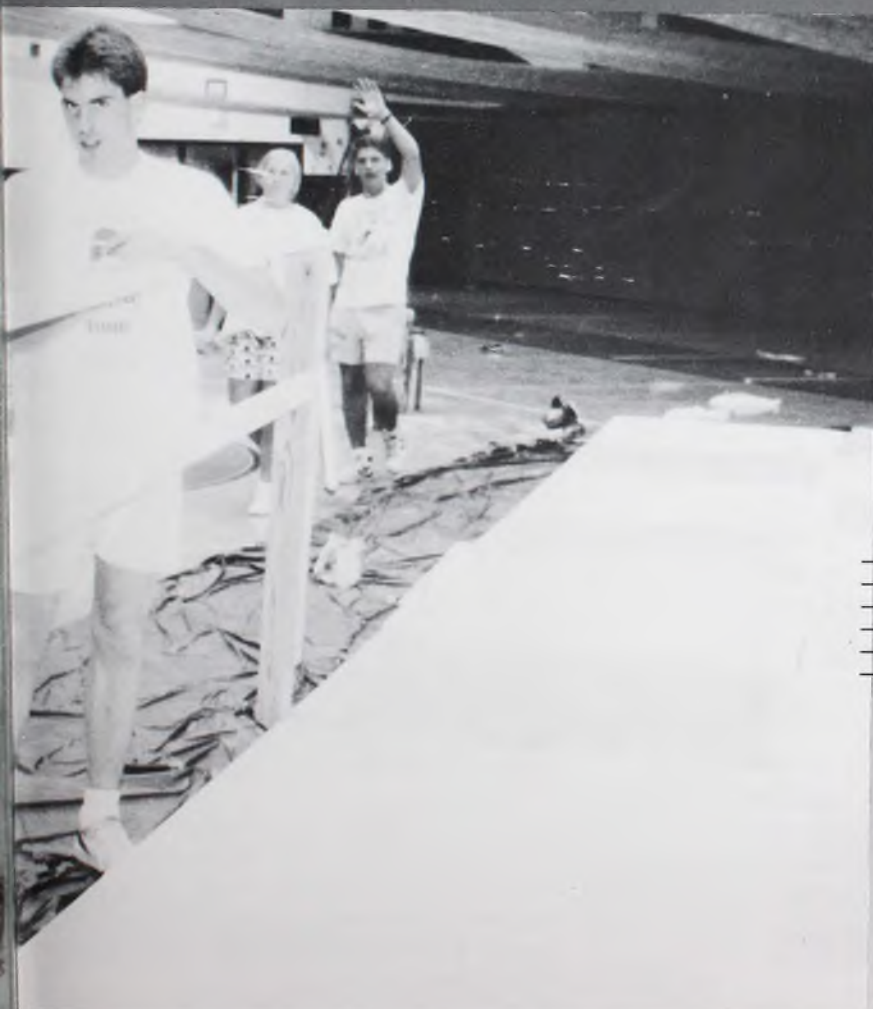

On Thursday afternoon juniors Jim Compher and Rob Huff put together the base of the dance floor.

During the Thursday night work session, junior Dave Metzger hangs silver paper in the gym lobby.

Junior Joe Moore holds the railing of the dance floor, while juniors Matt Robbins and Jay Gowan connect it to the base.

Artistic Showcase

The N.P.H.S. Fine Arts Festival showed the people in the community what is done in the New Philadelphia Schools' art curriculum.

The evening of April 23, 1991, was an accurate portrayal of the abilities of our district's students' in the arts, including art, sculptural, industrial arts, and home economics displays, speech, band, and choir. All of these were part of the showcase. It was a dramatic climax to weeks of preparation and a lot of hard work. One student, senior

Paula Krownapple, was a selected student from N.P.H.S. to receive an award at the Governor's Show. She described the feelings that she felt when she found out as, "I can't say how I felt at that moment but excited. I didn't think my work would make it. I just thought that everyone else would make it, instead of me."

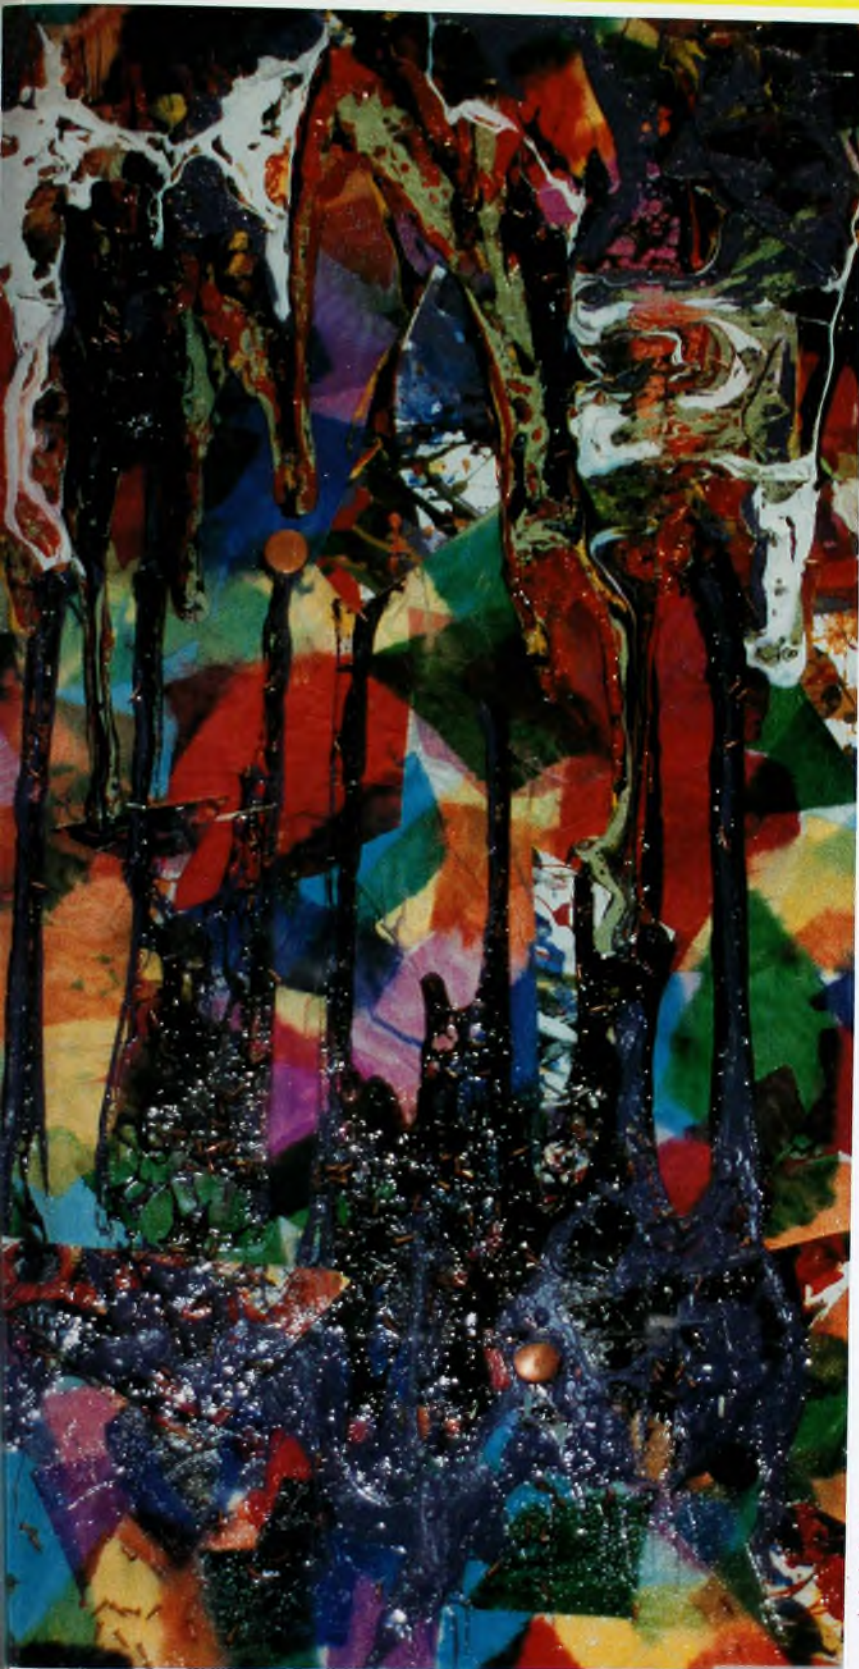

New Philadelphia

was honored by Mike Davis, a native of New Philadelphia, who currently works as a band director at Walt Disney World in Orlando, Florida. Mr. Davis came "home" to direct the Concert Band and teach them some new techniques. When he was able to take a moment from his busy schedule, Mr. Davis said that coming back home was nice because the building itself had not changed and it was like the school hadn't changed at all, and neither had the quality of the bands. Mr. Davis also said that in helping the students, he sees himself as a student twenty-three years ago and the influence that someone like himself has on the students.

Chaotically Connected

Throughout the school year, the different personalities of New Phila High School have meshed together to form award-winning teams. Our QT's are ranked #1 in the state and Allyson Schlote went to London to perform with the USA National Dance team. In sports, the football team beat Dover 27-0 and the boys' basketball team made it to District finals. Other sports achievements include the Girls' Federal League Tennis team championship and the tennis team sent freshman Sejal Patel to semi-finals at State. In wrestling, senior Chris Ricklic made it to State.

team sent 10 speakers and one alternate to the state speech competition. Senior Jeannine Porter made it to the quarter-finals. Senior Shannon Michael made it to the National DECA Competition in Denver, Colorado.

In fine arts, the Kaleidoscope flag team placed 14th out of 61 teams at the Winter Guard International. Senior Paula Krownapple was a state qualifier for arts. Another fine arts achievement was in Morgantown, West Virginia at the NBA competition where our band placed first. The NPHS yearbook entered the GLIPA competition for the first time and received an award for 2nd place. Even without a unifying building, the students at NPHS are still CHAOTICALLY CONNECTED.

Throughout the schoolyear, the NPHS school building was being repaired on the inside and the outside.

In Memory of...

Sunday, April 7, 1991, is a day that will never be forgotten by NPHS students and residents of New Philadelphia. On that day, Larry L. Chaney, a husband, father, teacher, coach and friend suddenly passed away. He was 52 years old and his death was caused by a heart attack.

While Mr. Chaney was at NPHS, he brought about many good things and many, many smiles. He always pushed his students to work hard and they did. He had confidence in everyone and always found the good in people. Mr. Chaney also coached basketball for many years. He had many successful seasons and was very well liked. He taught the kids to work together and to stick to the basics. Mr. Chaney brought many good things to NPHS, which will never be forgotten.

Mr. Chaney was also very well known in the community. Since 1965, he operated the Tuscora Park concession stand. The park is a very busy place all summer long, and Mr. Chaney always made an effort to meet everyone there. He was very well liked by his co workers and employees. Mr. Chaney will live as a part of Tuscora Park forever. Donations are being taken for a Larry L. Chaney Tuscora Park Memorial Fund.

The service, which was held on Wednesday April 10 in the NPHS gymnasium, was attended by nearly 1800 people, including friends, family and students. Rev. Robert Mathias spoke about his good friend, and Rev. William Weinland offered the prayer and Biblical message. The services also included performances from the NPHS vocal music department and the NPHS band. The service was a beautiful ceremony which will help us all remember Larry Chaney.

The death of Larry Chaney will never be forgotten by NPHS students and New Phila residents. He was a great man who was well liked by everyone he knew, and he knew a lot of people. The memory of Larry L. Chaney will live through all that he has done throughout his lifetime. He was loved very much and will be sadly missed by all.

"There are not enough words to describe Mr. Chaney, but he was a great man who tried to see something good in everyone, and do whatever he could to make them a better person no matter what he had to do. He was a man who truly loved and cared about the well being of others. I am glad that Hutch and I had the chance to become so very close to him."

AMERICA AT WAR

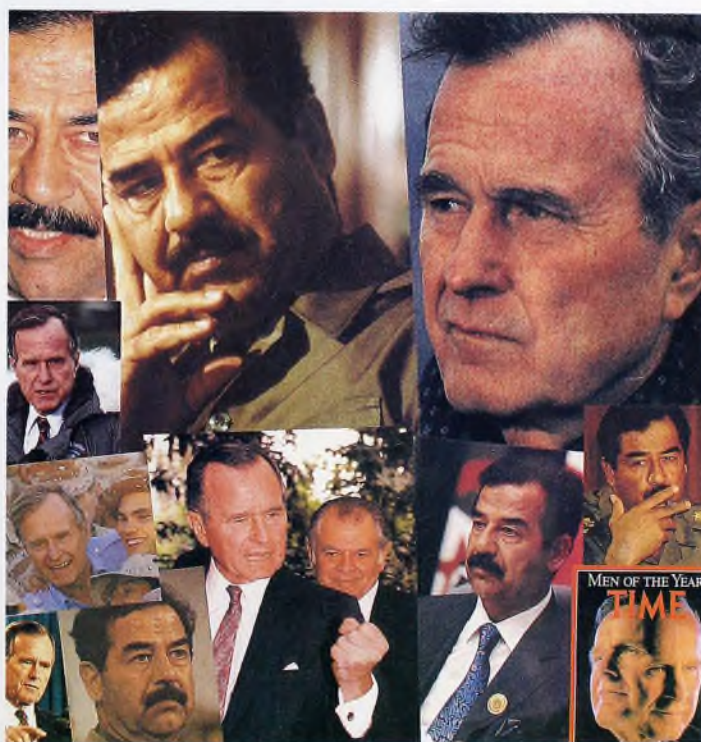

JANUARY 16, 1991

The Berlin Wall crumbled without bloodshed after dividing East and West Germany for decades. Nelson Mandela was freed from a South African prison after serving 27 years as a political prisoner. Mikhail Gorbachev introduced "Perestroika" and "Glasnost" as he made sweeping reforms across the Soviet Union. The Cold War came to an end as the relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union turned into one of cooperation.

The end of the eighties seemed to signal the end of conflict in many areas of the world. Although there were still some troubled spots around the globe, many looked to the nineties as a decade of peace and healing.

On August 2, 1990 Saddam Hussein of Iraq invaded Kuwait.

Saddam Hussein, whose name translates as "one who confronts" threatened the invasion on July 17. Our feelings of peaceful optimism disappeared as the person U. S. News and World Report magazine labeled "The World's Most Dangerous Man" sent 100,000 troops into Kuwait.

AMERICA WELCOMES BACK THE HEROES OF DESERT STORM

On February 27, 1991, President Bush ordered a cease-fire exactly 100 hours after the beginning of the ground war assault. Kuwait was liberated. The mission of the allied coalition was complete.

The American people are proud of their military. It was time to concentrate on the safe return of the men and women of Operation Desert Storm. The removal of U. S. forces from the Gulf was predicted to be complete within six months.

My Thoughts About Desert Storm

What were your hopes and fears when you heard about the beginning of Operation Desert Storm?

Do you have any relatives or friends serving in the military?

Has the war brought people together in this country?

How has the war affected you?

What is your prediction for the future of this area?
