FALL INTO A NEW YEAR

Facing lifes changes.

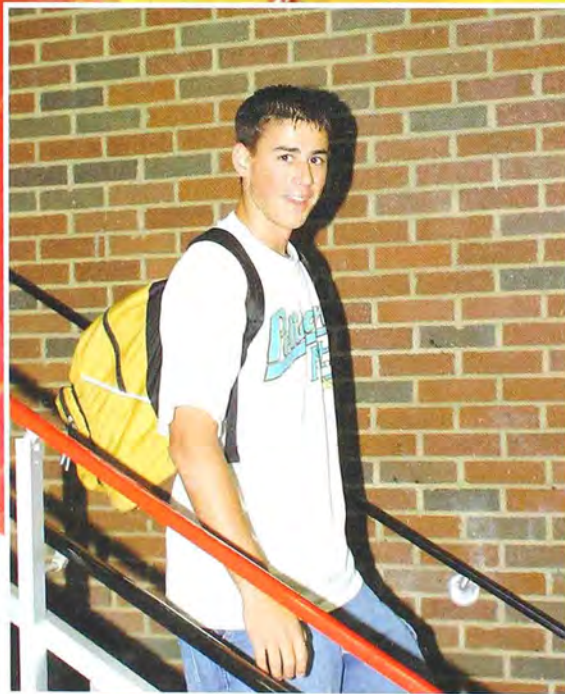

Everything changes in life. As students entering into the 2001 school year we were about to find that out. We used to kid about being from small town New Phila but it offered us comfort in the early days of school as our country faced terrorist attacks.

First day of school the Rufener sisters walk together!

Logan, Nate, and Scott
are all hugs!

Chris Welker is glad school is over.

Abby Lawver and Lisa Laughlin stand around after class.

Everyone watches as the Quakers end with a Victory!

Jackie, Allison, and Megan make funny faces while standing in the hall!

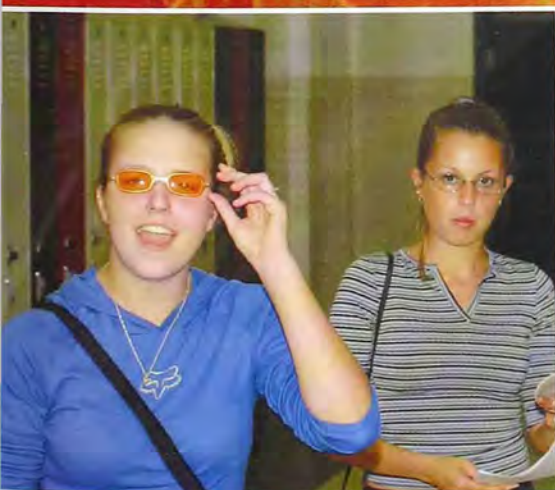

Ieshia Sumani practices her queen wave!!

Amanda Conklin, Vanessa Ziegler, and Marshall attend the Student Council Meeting.

Josh Brechl, Chris Ervin, Matt May wait their turn at the Skate Park!

Amber Kohl shows Rachel Schlarb her new sun glasses.

Katie Sleutz and Derrick Beitzel are pumped for the pep rally.

DIVING IN

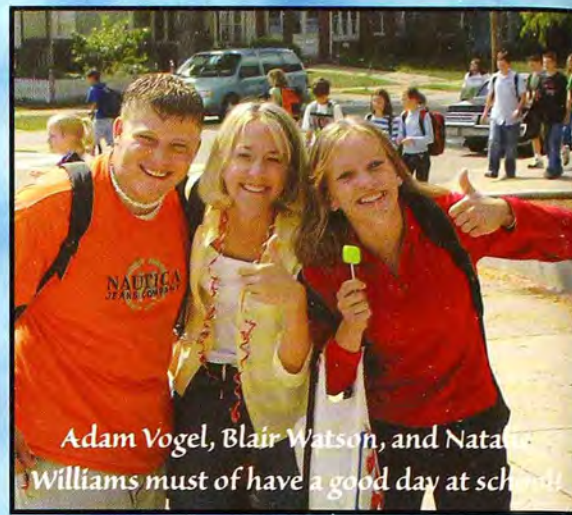

Hope you can swim!

Summer vacation was over, and it was time to get back to work. While some of us dove right into our work and worrying about our grades, some just watched from afar. Whether it was being at a dance or an athletic event everyone made memories of NPHS that they would take and keep with them forever.

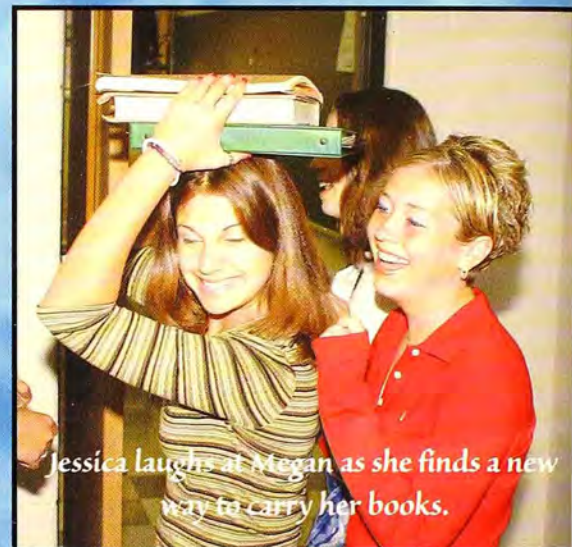

Kim Zeller waits for someone to come to her window.

Teela Wilson prepares for a big test.

Adam Vogel, Blair Watson, and Natalie Williams must of have a good day at school!

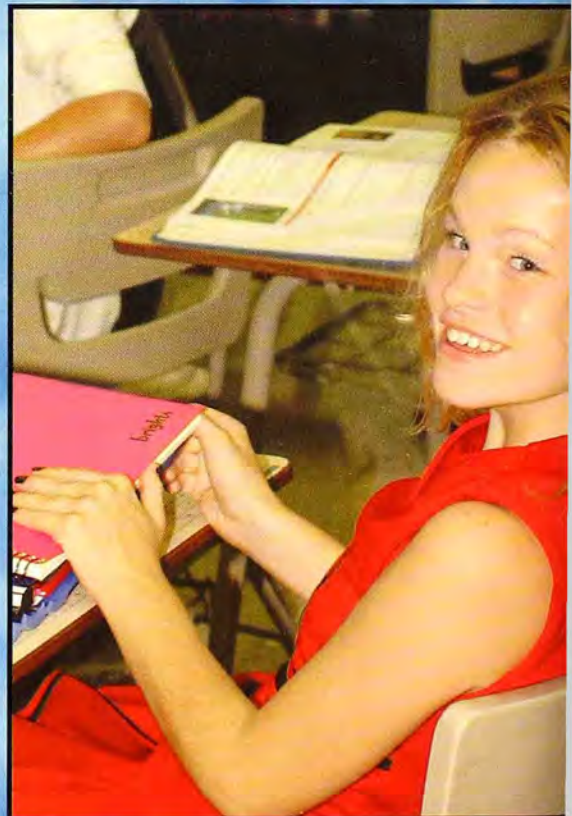

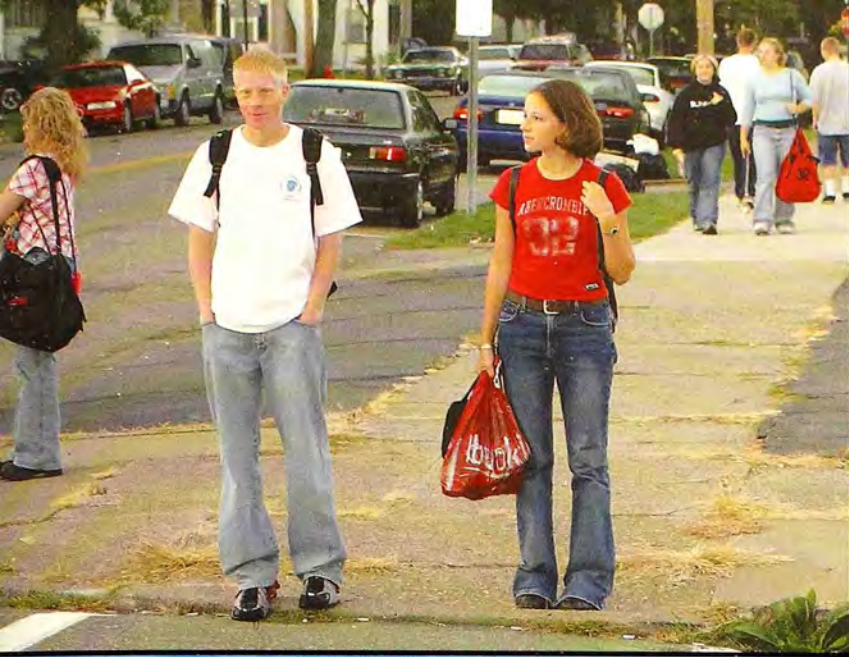

Jessica laughs at Megan as she finds a new way to carry her books.

Lacey Sickinger watches over the kids while they swim, making sure no one drowns!

Courtney Spring is prepared for the day.

Sean Zion and his sister Brittany look both ways before they cross.

Mandy and Jennie are excited for the first day of school.

Jenn McMath and Tessa Celuch pretend to look interested while listening to the teacher.

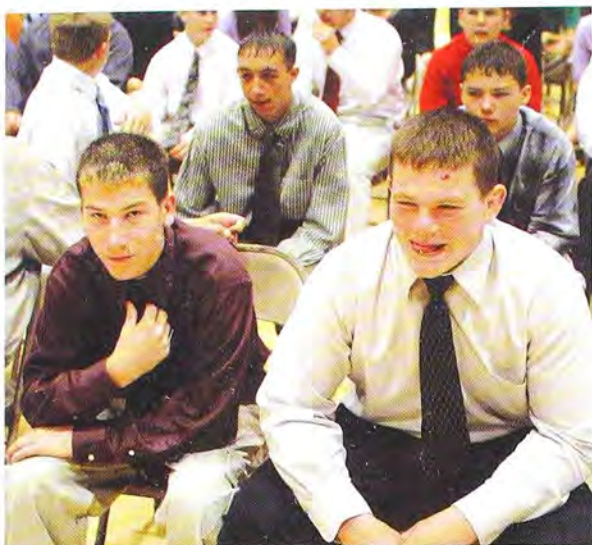

Kim Miskimen and Ashley Willis think about the upcoming Dover/Phila week.

Meghan O'Farrell works on her tan while supervising the pool at Tuscora Park.

Nate Geers and Joe Kuhn are all dressed up for the assembly.

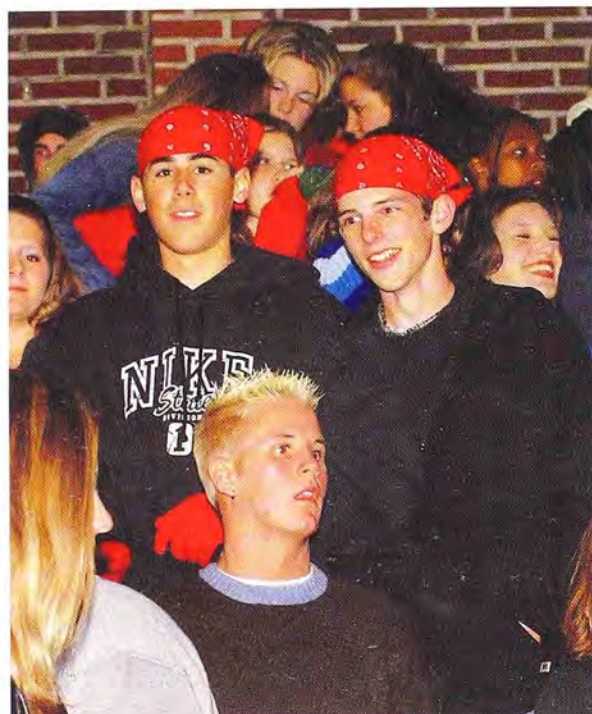

Terrin Miller peaks out from the porta john.

Shelley Becker doesn't feel like going to class today!

Chris Welker and Jake Sulzener really stand out in the crowd!

Ashley, Katie, and Michelle are all smiles!!

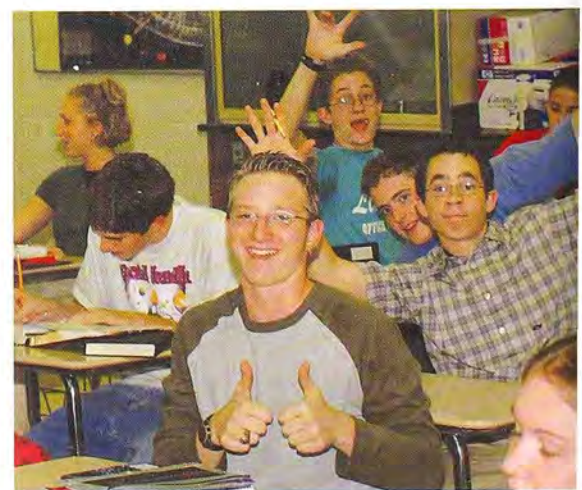

Shawn Patterson must be having a really good day to give 2 thumbs up!

Starting Here

Making the right decisions!

Starting a new year gives everyone the chance to start off with a clean slate. No detentions, no bad grades. It was your choice how you wanted your school year to go. For most of us it was the start of something good. A chance to have fun and be a part of the great New Philadelphia tradition.

Some of the Volleyball team huddles up before the assembly.

Vanessa Zifer and Tracie Lytz work the QT booth at First Town Days.

Ryan Heck waits for someone to wait on him!

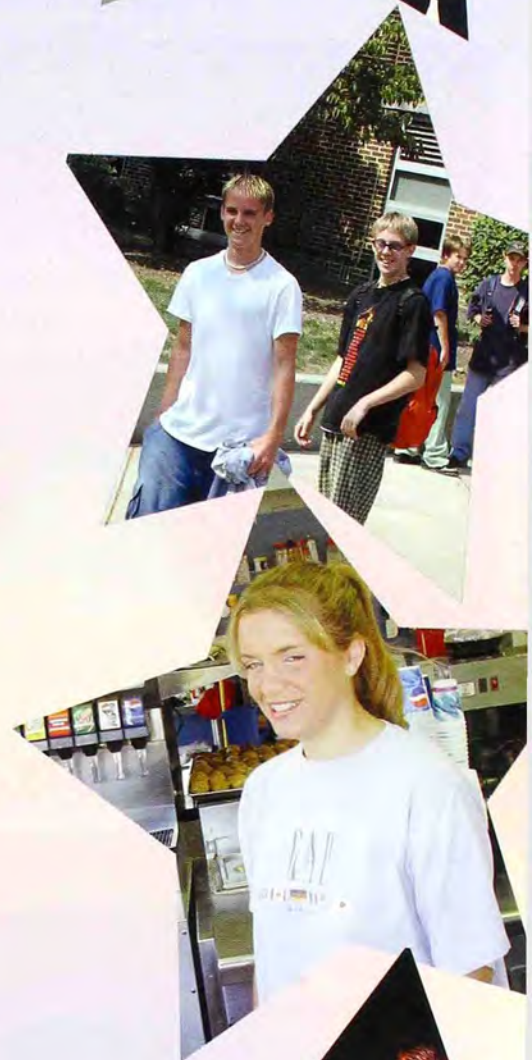

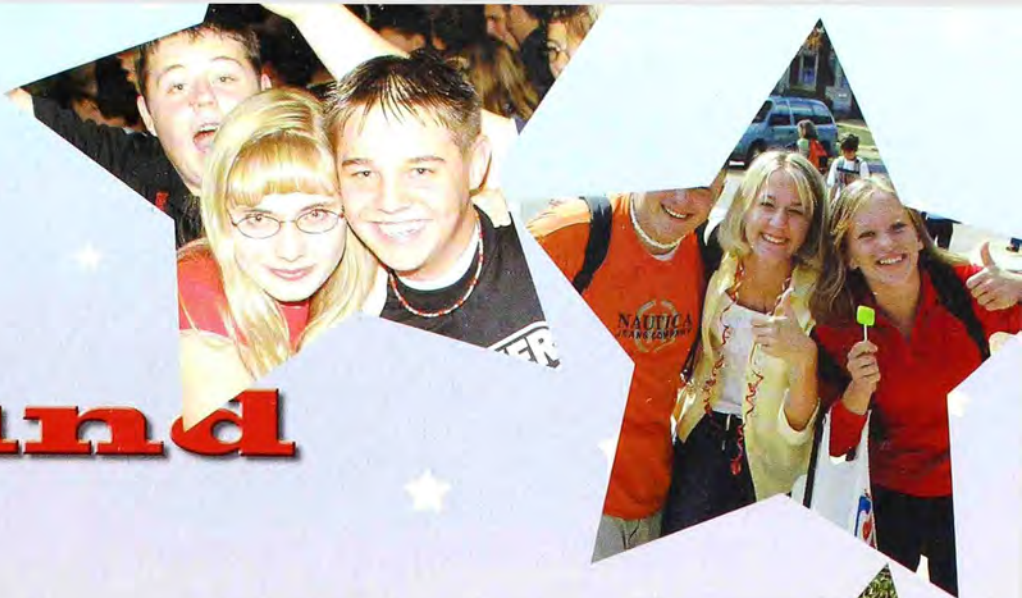

Jillianne Armstrong and Deirdre Stocker are glad school is out for the day!

Heather Hamilton, Jenna Lawver, and Danya Rufener enjoy meeting the teams.

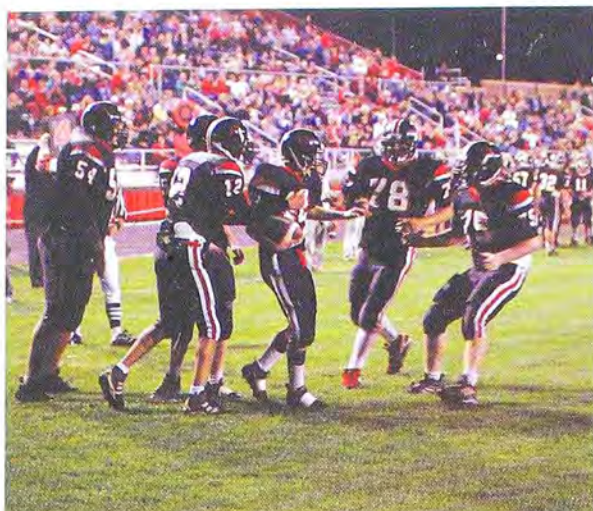

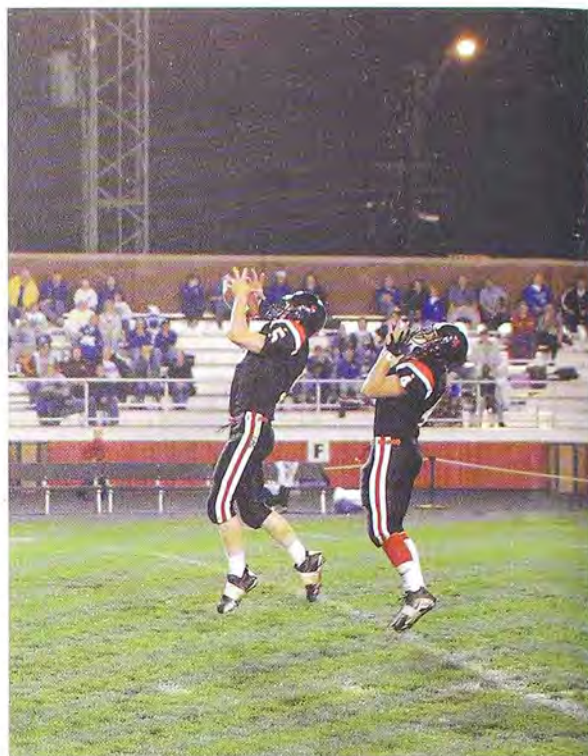

Around

The team
congratulates Nate Geers on the touchdown.

Dave Aubihl leaps to receive the punt, as Josh Tristano backs him up.

HOMECOMING COURT Lto R: Laura Behrendt, Leslie Thompson, Lacey Sickinger, Ashley Carlisle, Katie Smith, Michelle Abbuhl, Jessica Beaber, Emily Henning, and Alison Lawver.

Defensive tackle, Jeff Burnworth, takes a much needed break.

The spirited cheerleaders lead the team out.

Scott Sulzener shows us some of his moves on the way to the endzone.

Matt Riccardi consults with his teammate before heading onto the field.

Captains Luke McMillen and Scott Sulzener wait anxiously for the result of the coin toss.

The Quaker offense runs confidently onto the field, ready for a victory.

OUR TURF

Quakers take an early lead.

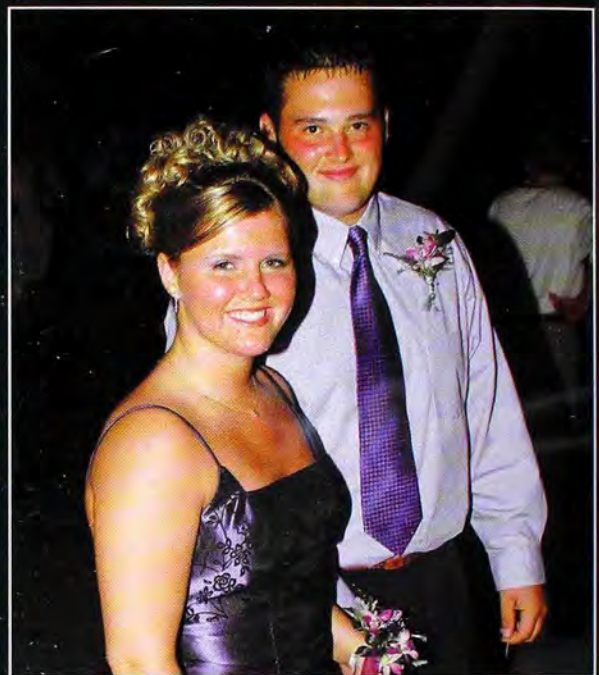

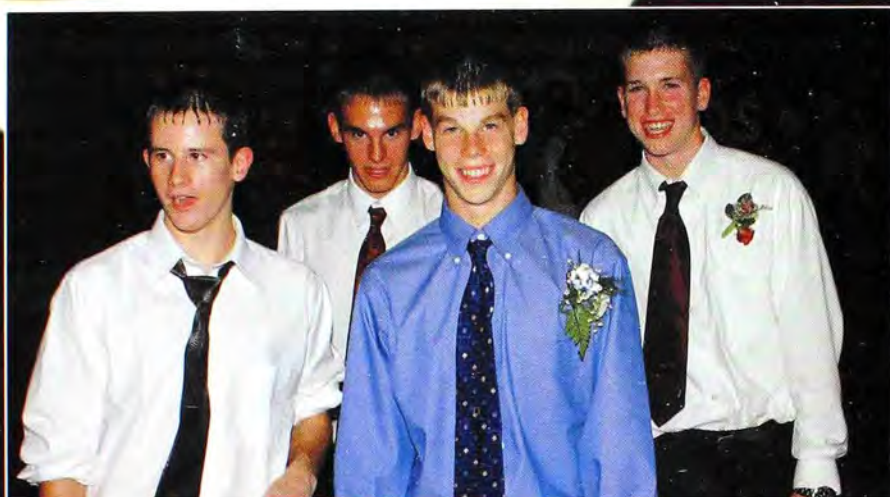

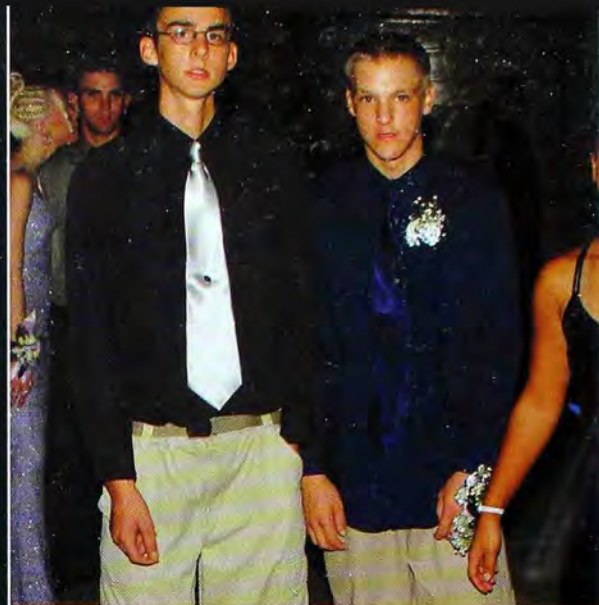

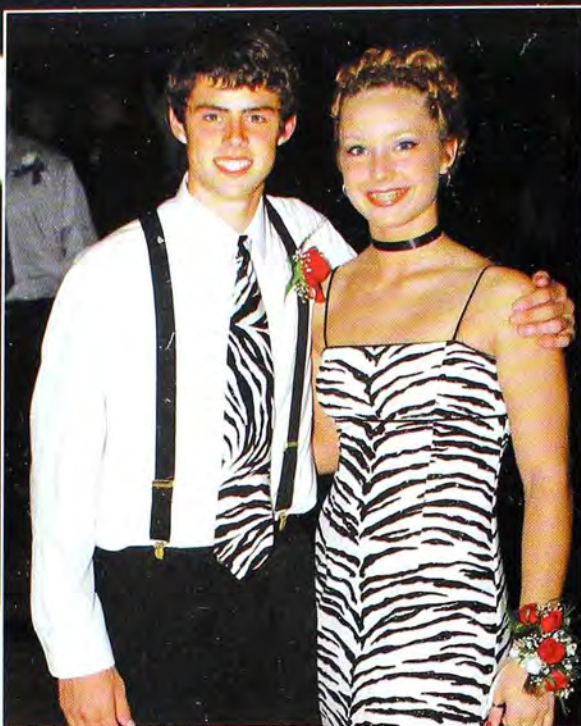

It is said you play better at home. Our team proved that to us early in the game by taking a 21-0 lead over Cambridge. "We played hard, we made some mistakes and let them get back in the game, but we stepped up our defense and kept them from scoring again," said senior, Kyle Smith. He added, "Sometimes you win sloppy, but it's still a win."

Injured cheerleader Abby Lawver cheers for the Quakers on the sidelines.

Eric and Mackenzie are looking wild!

Hand in hand, Jackie and Hanson get ready to dance.

the guys, Chad
Millburn, Clint Wilson,
Cory Ferris, and Tony Pace loosen their ties and get ready to dance

Thad, Katie, and Zach in a group hug.

Andrew and Allison are enjoying the DJ's choice of songs.

Levi, Randy, Makaya and Lauren are having a great time!

Lacey and Abby watching a group do the "Electric Slide."

Sarah, Josalyn, and Erin having a blast.

SPACED OUT

Dancing among the stars.

The gym was packed for the 2001 Homecoming. The theme was "Drops of Jupiter" inspired by the song written by Train. Student Council decorated the gym with a glow-in-the-dark space atmosphere. A couple highlights were the annual court dance and the two non-stop guy dancers.

Dustin, Tara, Jack and his date say "Peace."

SPIRIT WEEK

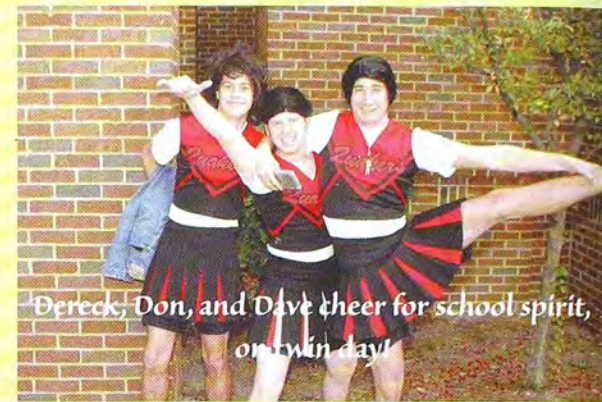

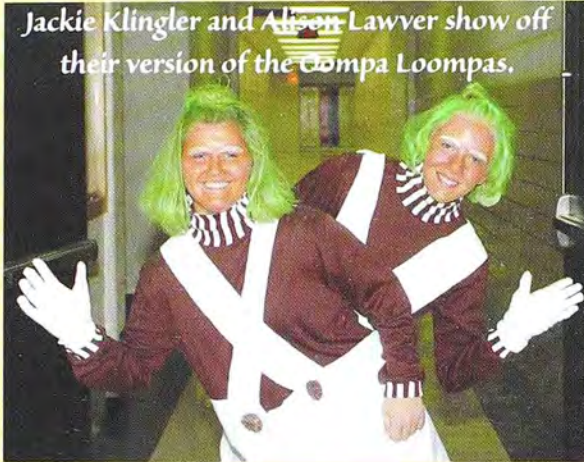

...the tradition lives on!

Once again, ideas were flying throughout the entire school. What to wear, who to be twins with, what to do to have the BEST costume...the usual. The themes for the week definitely brought forth major competition. But the best part of the week, for those not taking the proficiency test, was not having to be here until 9:15!

Ashley is up the stream with her paddle!

Jackie Klingler and Alison Lawver show off their version of the Compa Loompas.

Dereck, Don, and Dave cheer for school spirit, on twin day!

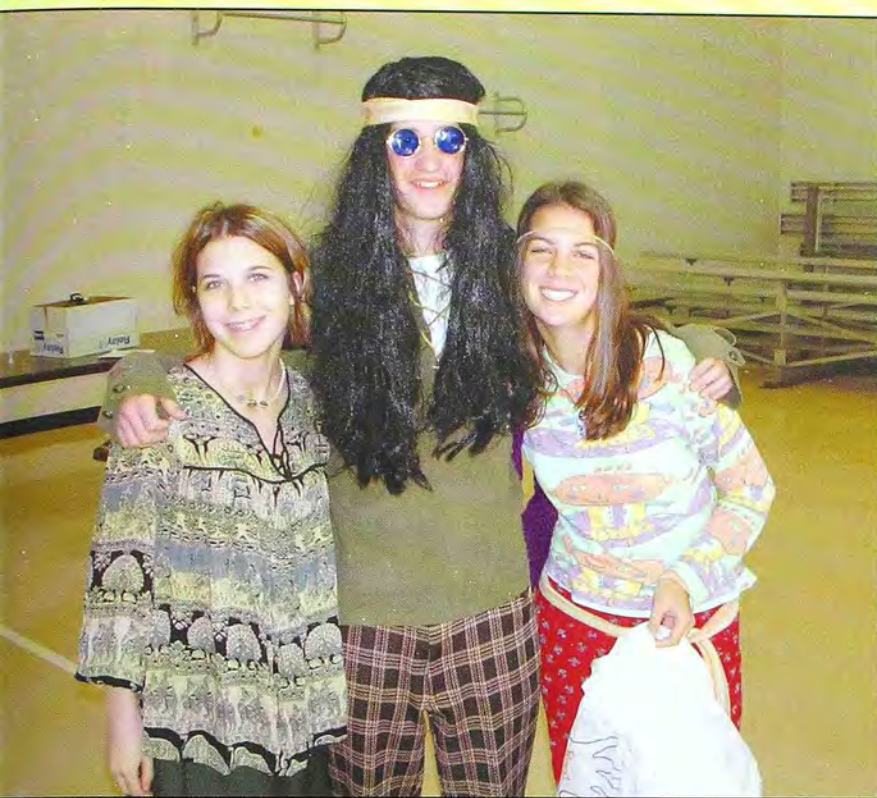

Abby, Kate, Natalie, Lisa, and Blair are ready for the wet weather.

Libby gets mooned!

The girls in Miss Becker's homeroom are looking comfy in their pajamas.

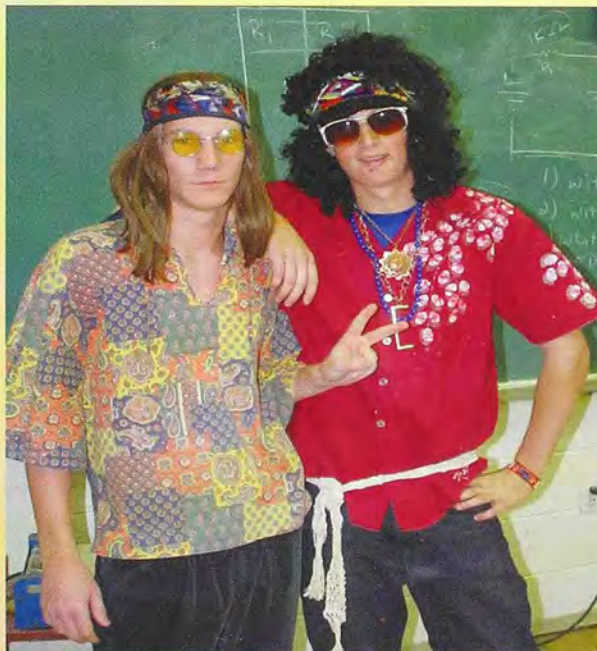

Mon.	Sweet Dreams Dover
Tues.	Make Dover See Double
Wed.	Soak Dover Silly
Thurs.	Psych Out Dover
Fri.	Red & Black

The Senior hallway stars Katie Zeller!

Two freshmen girls show off their hot hippie stud!

Andrew's beaming with spirit!

Alex Napier and Andy Hicks are ready to Psych Out Dover.

Juniors in Mr. Reidenbach's homeroom get into Red & Black day.

Nate Geers as voice of the Tornadoes Jon Devore.

The fans get a little bit
rowdy.

"R-O-W-D-Y!"

Nathan Copeland
shows off his buff muscles.

Both Michelles say,
"We see you!"

Q.T.'s Katie Zeller and Tracie Lytz show off their survival skills.

Led by Jack Sweitzer, the merry band of fairies spreads good luck.

The crowd shows their support before the big game.

Coach Zontini, or should we say Shannon Ullis, prepares to defeat coach Ifft in the boxing match.

Senior Kyle Leggett has a vision of a Quaker victory over Dover.

Nichole Drumm, Mallory Ellwood, and Andrea Isaac gaze into the "Eye of the Tiger"

S-P-I-R-I-T

Spirit lets hear it.

Macie Trovati pumps up the crowd with her high spirit.

After an awesome week of fun, students, along with community members poured into the gym. Mr. Zontini got the crowd pumped up with his chant, and the Delphian Chorale caught everyone's eye with their boxing match. The QT's showed their survival skills as they danced their hearts out and the cheerleaders brought back the tradition of spoom.

David Harding hoops it up and wins the big hula hoop contest.

UNSECRET

Trying to sneak around in Phila is almost impossible

We were supposed to be secret seniors but by the time the Dover/Phila pep rally came around, most of the guys had a pretty good idea who we were. "Julie, Tasha, and I got busted when we were decorating Jeff Burnworth's bedroom," -Lori Tracy. In the end, we still all enjoyed getting together at the pep rally.

David Aubihl gasps with surprise!!

The crowd goes wild when the senior football players take their place on the floor.

Jeff Burnworth acts surprised when he sees his secret seniors Lori, Julie, and Tasha!

Andy Zimmerman waits nervously as he gets ready to meet his secret seniors.

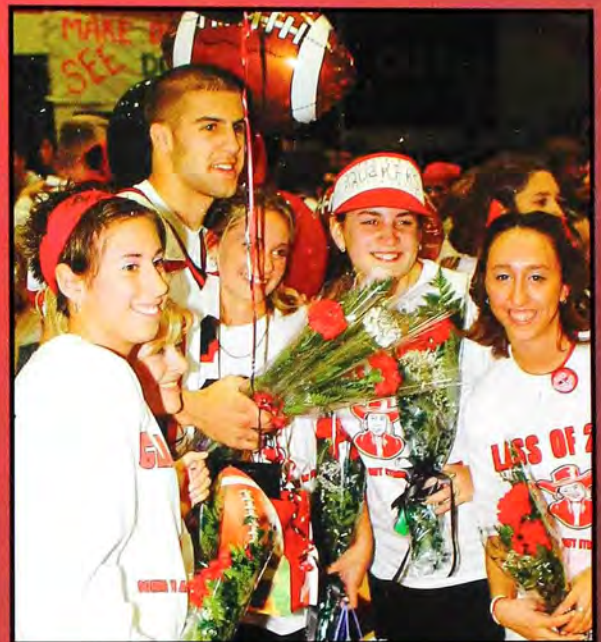

The boys head to the lobby to get ready for the big surprise!

Morgan, Christina, and Erin carefully sneak up on their secret guy.

Rachel, Janelle, Mandy, and Janelle surprise Andy.

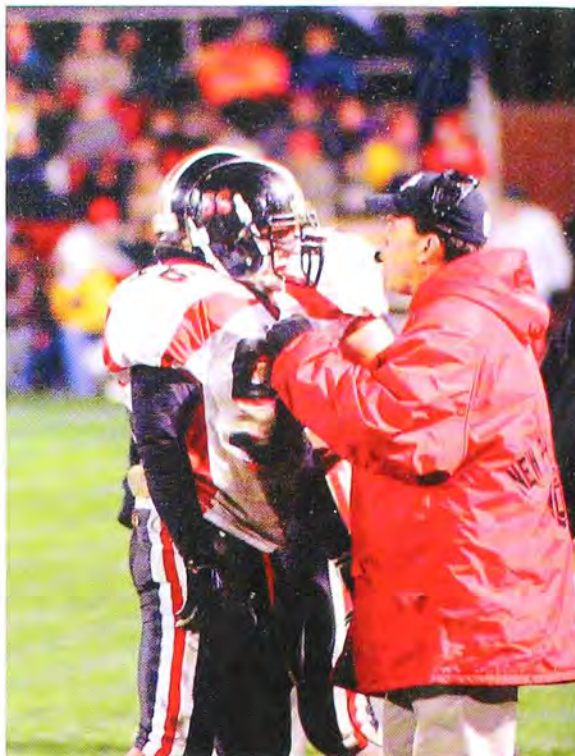

Some of the secret seniors get excited during the pep rally.

With gifts in hand the senior girls are ready to meet the guys.

The Quaker line is ready to attack!

Nate Geers is ready for Dover's defender.

Scott and Luke waiting for the coin toss.

The cheerleaders don't mind the weather at all.

Trevor Streb runs the ball for the Quakers.

The referee signals for the Quaker touchdown!

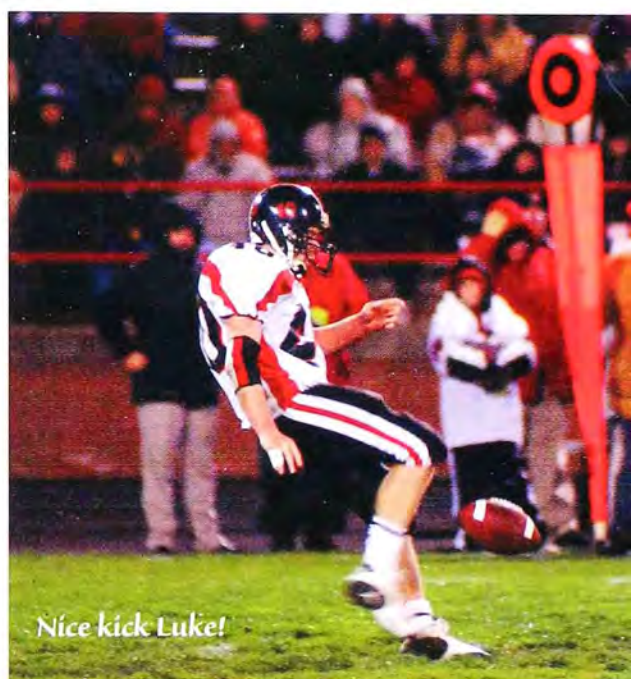

FROZEN

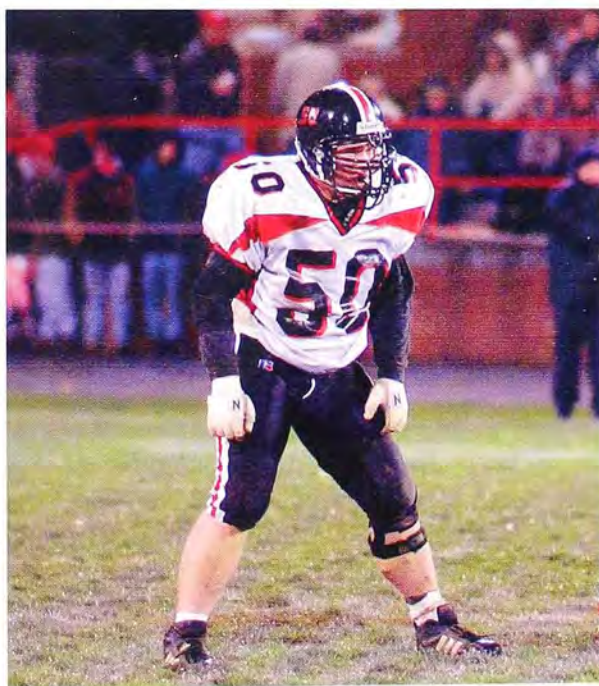

Despite cold weather the Quakers fought their hardest.

The 2001 football team tried their best to fight off the tough Tornados but came up short with a final score of 28-7. The highlight of the game was in the third quarter when Sam Mutti had a long interception to set up our only score.

Scott Sulzener waits patiently for the snap.

Nice kick Luke!

Sam Mutti gets set for the play.

Pile on!

Some senior boys show their school spirit by goin bare back in 20 degree weather.

With her nine lives, Mackenzie Yurich prowled the dance with doctors Steph Leggett, Kim Zeller, and the mummy, Jackie Klingler.

Shawn Liedtke, Katie Reed, Lauren Lipinski, and John Brugger are having a blast.

Juniors Lia Natoli and Alex McConnell as Wilma and Betty.

Girls scouts are always prepared.

Talin Celuch in her Aladdin costume.

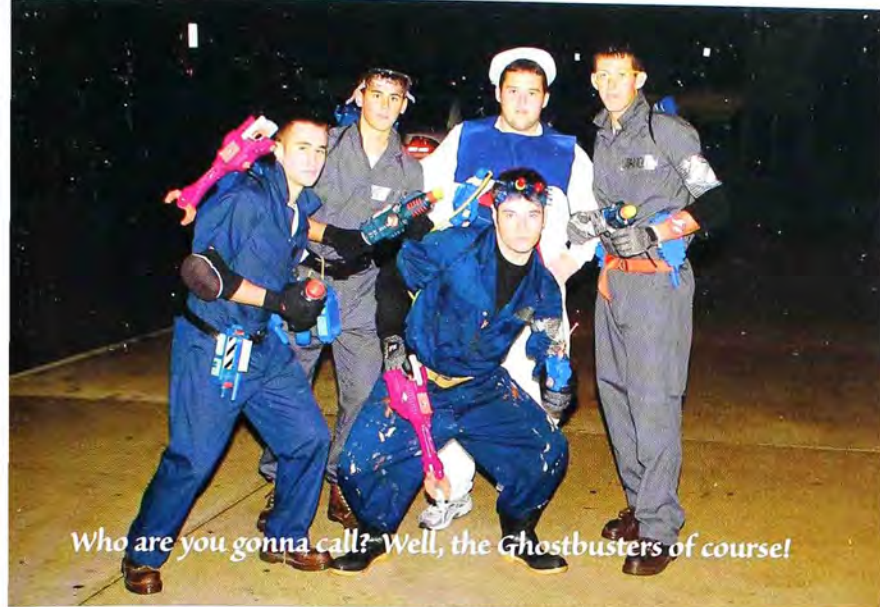

Barbie & the Rockers: Rachel Burrows, Katie Zeller, Joe Evans, Maren Siebold, and Sarah Stutzman, are ready to roll.

Bob Hickman and Don Liedtke (Mobile Jams DJ Services) put on a spooktacular show.

At the dance Janelle, Maresa, Kristen, Lenay, and Rachel all chose different costumes.

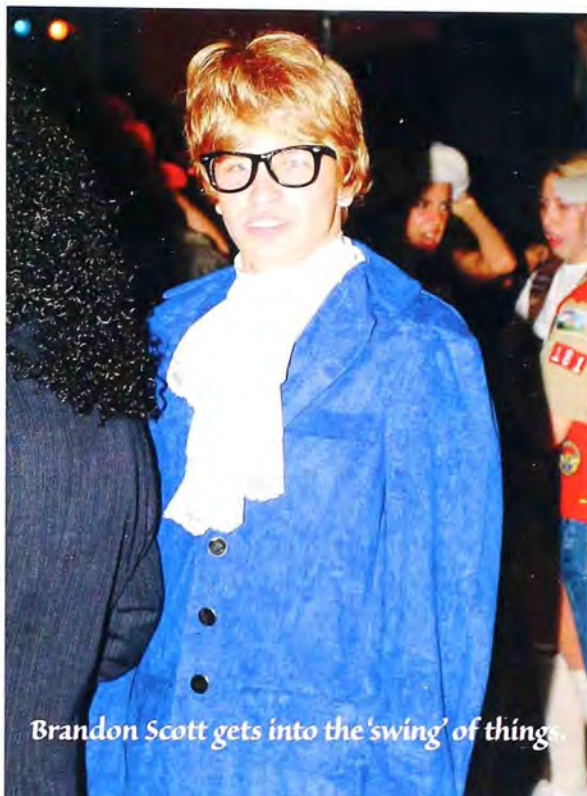

Who are you gonna call? Well, the Ghostbusters of course!

Barbie dancing with Ken.

Mr. Mamula and his wife show they're not afraid to have fun.

Brandon Scott gets into the 'swing' of things.

MONSTER MASH

What did Boo wear?

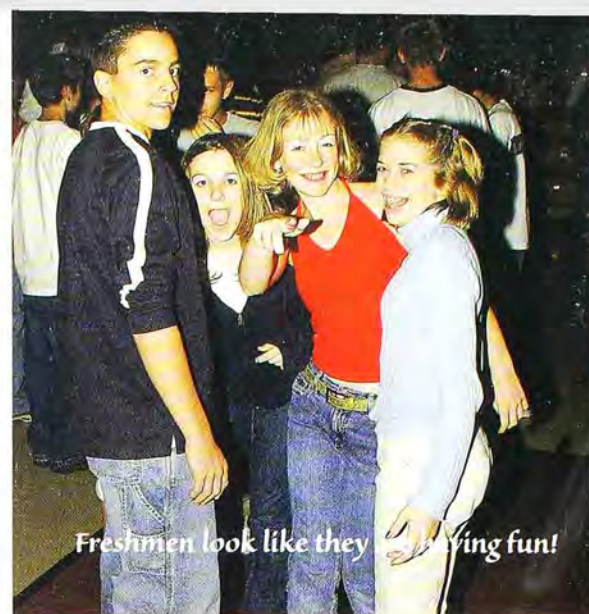

Halloween is a time of year when everyone can dress up and pretend to be nearly anyone or anything imaginable. The school's first Halloween dance was held on November 2, 2001. It gave the students here a reason to get dressed up as anything from girl scouts to doctors to devils but it's the memories that last forever, even when the costumes were bad.

Kim Miskimen and Ashley Willis are a match made in you-know-where!

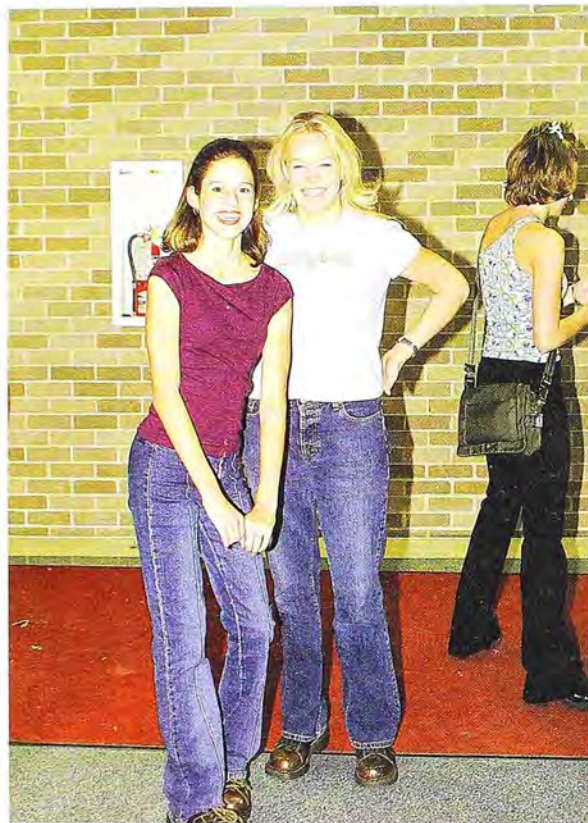

Bump and Grind

Get your groove on.

After game dances were always fun. Whether you liked fast dancing or slow dancing you got a chance to do them both. Though most dances were in the winter time, they gave you a reason to show off a new tank top, shake your booty and dance with the guy/ girl of your dreams.

Freshmen look like they're having fun!

Darcie Sulzener and Jacie Trotter look like they are ready to dance.

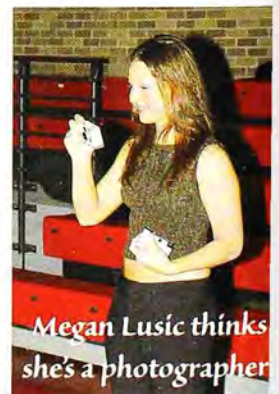

Jilliann Armstrong and Jenn McMath pay there way into the dance!

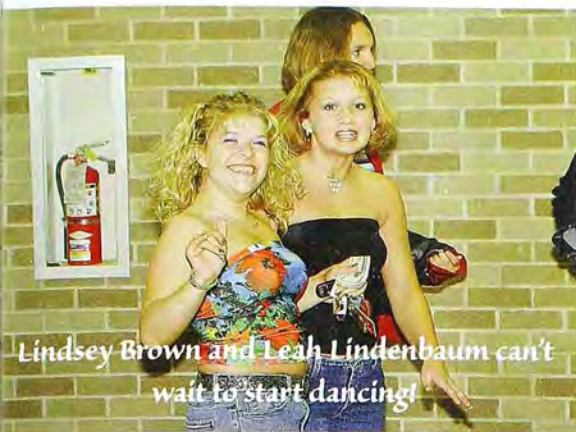

Kersha is the music to loud?

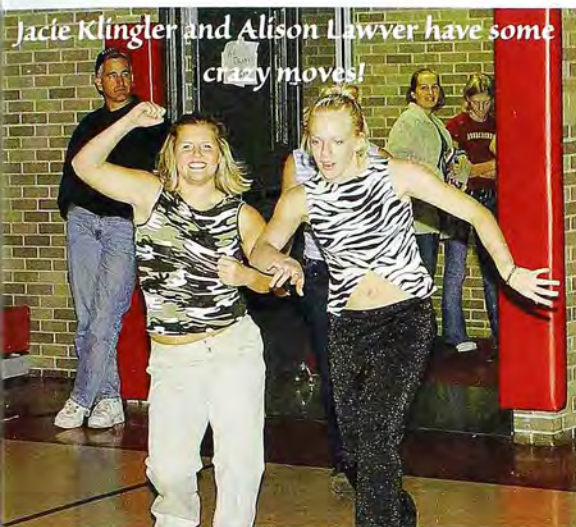

Brooke Immel and Kristy Sandy take a second from dancing to get there picute taken.

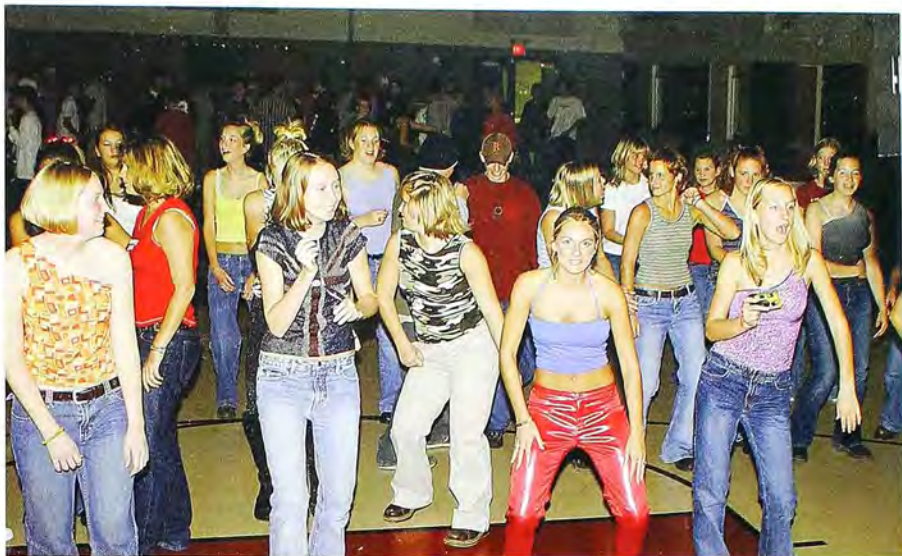

Megan Lusic thinks shes a photographer

Lindsey Brown and Leah Lindenbaum can't wait to start dancing!

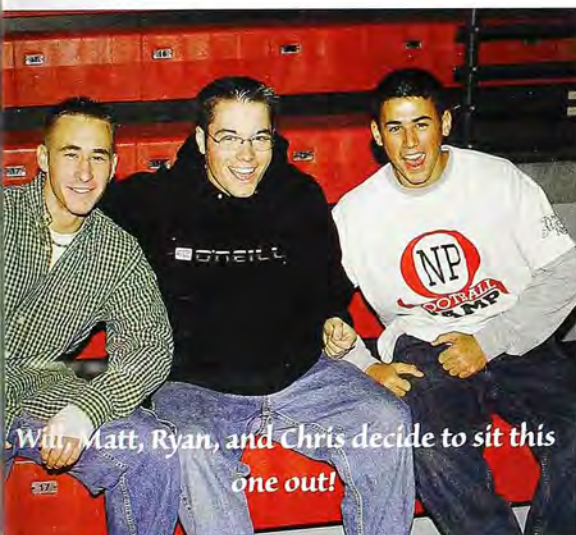

Jacie Klingler and Alison Lawver have some crazy moves!

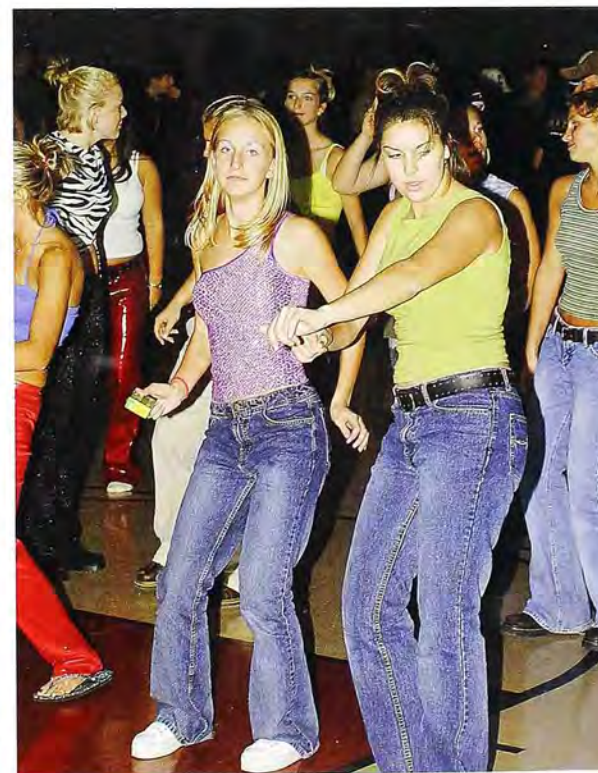

Janelle leads the pack in the "Electric Slide".

Couples Michele and Philip, Trevor and Elissa wait for a slow song.

Will, Matt, Ryan, and Chris decide to sit this one out!

Kristen Waddle and Maresa Crile get there Groove On!!

Curt and Shawn wait for a good song!

At least the girls know how to dance.

ACTING OUT...

In a whole new way.

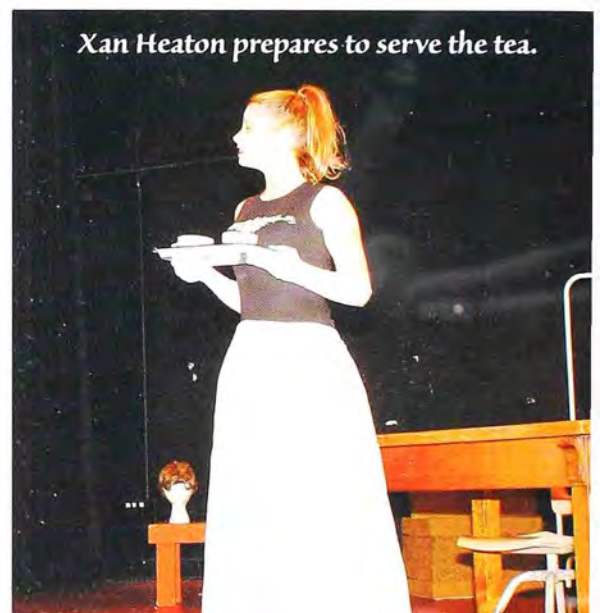

The drama club began the 2001 school year in a new direction. Under a new director, Miss Leeper, they took a different approach towards their performance. Instead of the traditional numerous-act play, the drama team chose to combine three, small, one-act plays. "Our Dreams Shall Be..." left each audience member with a better understanding of the common dilemmas faced in life.

Matt Ankney gives Derrick Beitzel a lecture on life.

Leslie Thompson
prepares to talk on "Up Late with Ryan".

Xan Heaton prepares to serve the tea.

The cast of "Up Late with Ryan" gathers to celebrate a great performance.
Luke watches the beginning of the fight.

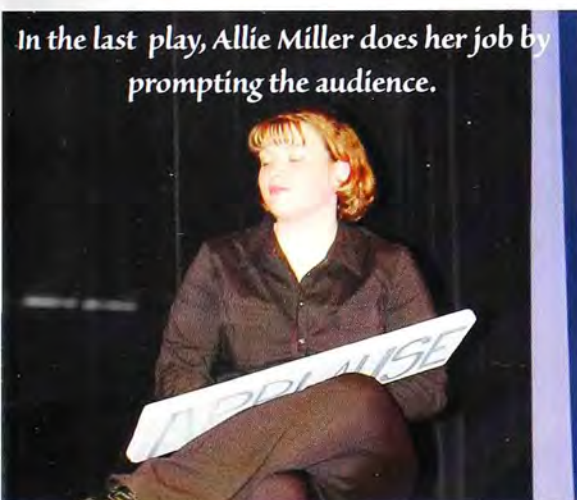

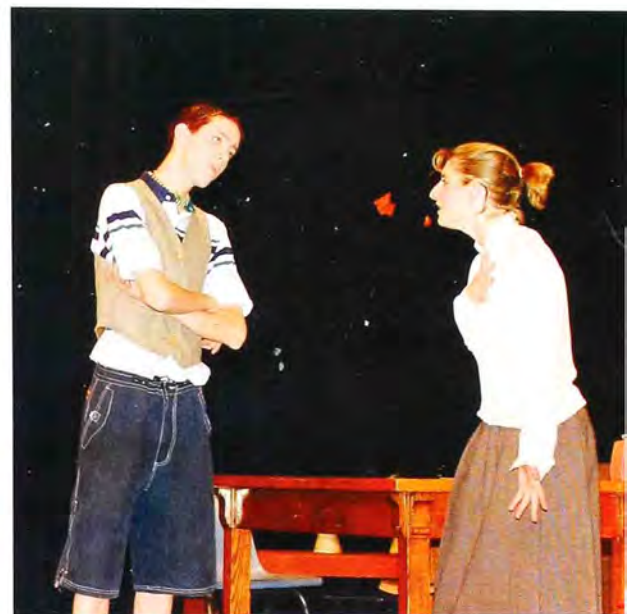

Alex and Adam criticize the actors in "their play".

Ryan and Andrew converse during the "talk show".

Watching nervously from the side, Adam gets a lesson on how to direct a play.

In the last play, Allie Miller does her job by prompting the audience.

Shelley tells it like it is.

The cast enjoys the applause at the end of the play.

BILLIARDS-BAND

Playing pool to music.

Pool/Rack Em up was the Marching Quakers award winning show for the year. Dressed in brightly colored uniforms the guard danced around on the field as pool balls on a gigantic pool table. They were accompanied by the band blasting out jazz selections such as "Birdland", "Moondance", and "Kiss Me". They received high ratings at every contest they attended.

Kara, Gretchen, and Ashleigh sit together in the bandshell.

STARRING

Everyone gets a chance to star.

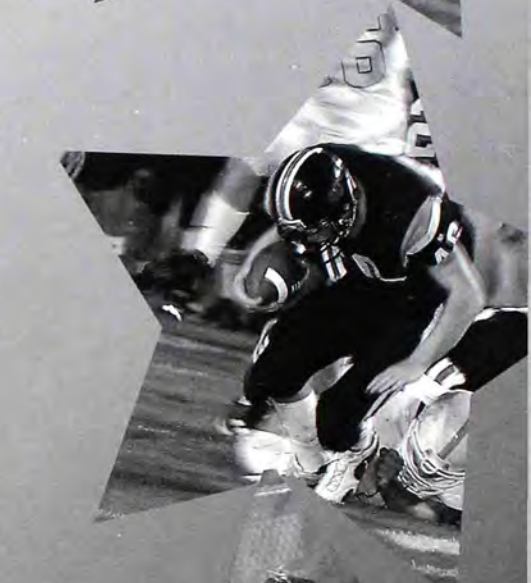

The yearbook staff made their best effort to get pictures of different people. It was often hard because some people always turned their head or made faces while others did not attend as many functions. In any case this book stars all the students of NPHS.

Their Place

The JV soccer team had expanded their team to a greater level. They now have their own page to be recognized. Although they started out slow, they managed to pick up the pace as the season progressed. Senior Hanson Sponseller commented that, "The JV team had a lot of tough games, but at the end of the season, we were better than when we had started. We became closer than two peas in a pod."

Playing the Game

The JV's put in effort all the way to the end of the season but came up short with some tough losses. They finished their season with a 1-6 record. On the other hand, the freshmen team had a decent ending to their season, finishing 6-3. Regardless of the scores, our teams are reminded that it's not always about winning or losing but how you play the game.

Come Together

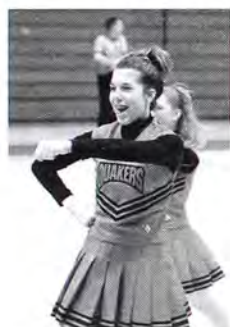

Both the JV and freshman squads had very rewarding seasons. They were both in for a change as they received new advisors. The transition brought many positive new things, for example, this was the first year for the separate competition squad. It consisted of cheerleaders from the Freshman, JV, and Varsity squads. Overall it proved to be a big success.

"Bring it On"

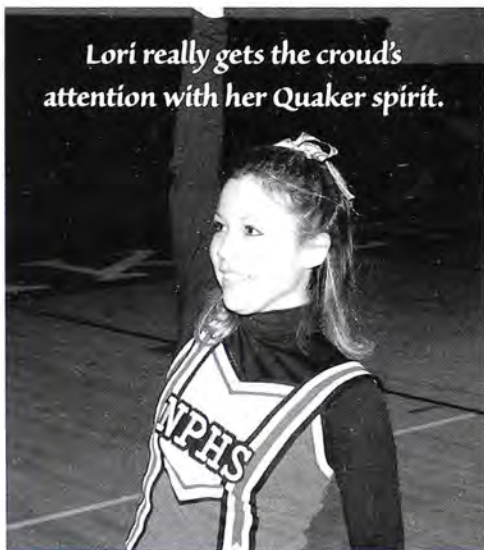

Although the change in advisors made the start of the season very hectic, the cheerleaders pulled together and received highest awards at camp including the Spirit Key. "My first year on Varsity was an awesome experience, we always had fun, especially when we sold a chair", commented sophomore Jess Beaber. Despite the rough transition, the season left the girls with many memories that they will cherish forever.

Dedicated Dancers

In July, the QT squad won 1st place and a bid for Nationals at their UDA camp. In Oct. they began 2 hr., 4 day a week practices to prepare for the competition. The girl's dedication was shown. The QTs received their highest rank ever at the National competition. They were awarded 11th place in their division and a superior rating for their original choreography. The QTs also sent their two senior captains to New York to dance in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. "It was a once in a lifetime experience that Lindsay and I will never forget," said Brittany Brinkman!

A new band director got down to...

Nuts & Bolts

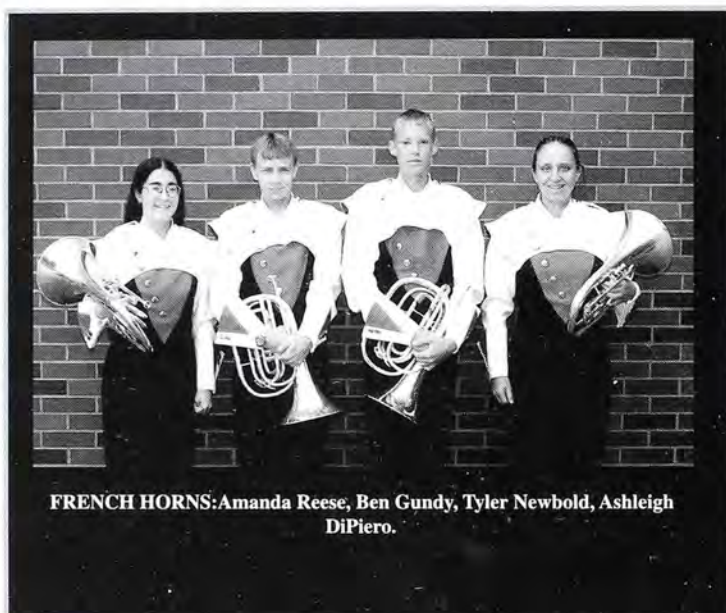

Under the direction of new band director Steve Angel the marching band built on its traditional style. The emphasis among band members was unity symbolized by the "wearing of the nut". It sounds a little corny, but each member of the band wore a metal nut on a cord around their neck. "At first I thought the whole nut thing was stupid, but I realized the importance of togetherness that was symbolized by the nut." said Cherylyn Nussbaum.

Dream Come True

The 2001-2002 JV's continued their 38 game winning streak by going undefeated. With the help of junior leaders Amber Furbay, Chynna Wright, Carrie Hawk, and Danya Rufener, and a lot of hard work, the team pulled together to meet their ultimate goal. The Freshman team's goal was learning new plays and getting use to a new level of basketball. With only 7 full time players, the girls received a lot of individual attention.

What Time is it?

The varsity team consisted of 5 seniors, all showing great leadership skills and an ability to win. The Lady Quakers won the first 4 games of the season, but suffered a set back when Jenna Lawver tore her acl. The transition was hard for the team, forcing players to learn new positions. The Ladies ended the regular season with a 10-9 record. In the tournament the Quakers showed great team work and pulled together to win the Sectional Championship. In the Field

The varsity softball team ended the year with a winning record of 14-8 overall and were 9-3 in the ECOL. The team was young with only five seniors, Nicole Dorsey, Sarah Sweitzer, Paula Beans, Tasha Tristano, and Brooke Immel, but still managed to pull through. They won their first game in sectionals against Marietta, but had a tough loss to Perry in the second game of sectionals. Katie Prysi lead the way in pitching with a 9-5 record and a 1.71 ERA.

Sarah Sweitzer puts on her game face.

Brittany Rotondo swings level.

Tasha Tristano fouls off the ball to stay alive.

Nicole, Tasha, Brooke, and Paula cheer on the batter.

Great Seasons

The 2002 Jv baseball team ended their season with a 13 - 2 record. While the freshmen team ended with a 10 - 2 record. The only thing that kept them from winning more games was the bad weather. This group of young men laid the foundation for our program to take the game to the next level. With all the talent moving up, the community and players are looking forward to a successful Quaker baseball team in the future.

Batter Up

Once again it was time to play ball with the New Philadelphia Quakers. The 2002 varsity baseball team ended with a 12 - 9 record. One highlight of the season was taking the championship at the Leo Gundy sports festival, where they played Carrollton and Riverview. Team honors went to Chase Hostetler and Chad Milburn who received 1st Team Eastern District, Sean Green was chosen for 2nd Team Eastern District and Scott Sulzener received Honorable Mention.

A Fresh Start

"Wrestling varsity and qualifying to districts was a blast." - Mark Sexton

Just as every year freshmen got a chance to be a part of all the traditions that went on at New Philadelphia. Winter was a great season for freshmen swimmers. Mitch Clark, Jack Elco, and Matt led the swim team to multiple victories over Dover and all qualified for districts. It seemed like all of the sports teams had the JV class or varsity level which was an indicator of the athleticism of the 2005.

Back on Time

"I couldn't drive, so getting back from lunch on time wasn't always easy." - Tyler Eynon

The key to going out to lunch was getting a ride or drive. It was hard to walk to Dairy Queen, or even the Goshen Dairy and get back on three tardies meant a lunch time detention which thank God for Wally's Pizza just across the street so we et some food quick and make it back for 6th or 7th

Making the Grade

"With college looming closer and my senior year just around the corner grades became more important to me." - Jenn Mc Math

Big tests like the ACT and the SAT were just one of the things to prepare for. Classes seemed to get a lot harder. But our grades seemed to get better. Our parents said we were finally growing up. We started seeing the big picture. Instead of just school we realized we were preparing for the rest of our lives.

Journalism and Yearbook

Digitizing

In the last year, computers were a major part of the journalism and yearbook class. The journalism class was able to edit their videos and do special effects on the computer. For the first time the yearbook staff was able to complete the whole yearbook digitally. This made the job a little bit harder, but the staff pulled through and got it done.

National Honor Society

What It Takes

In the spring of the school year students anxiously wait for the day of tappings, which is supposed to be a secret. The students that are inducted must have maintained a 3.5 accum. GPA throughout high school. Once inducted members are required to maintain their GPA and participate in the activities of NHS.

Lori gets a surprise in chemistry class!

Fred and Rosie wait for the tappings to begin.

What's wrong guys??

Office Assistants, Academic Challenge

Better Than Studyhall

H'mmm the choices were sitting in studyhall or working in one of the offices. If you had good grades and were dependable working in the library or in one of the offices offered you a chance to help out around the school. The reward for the work was being able to socialize as opposed to the silence of SH.

Class Officers, Student Council

Taking the Lead

During the year student council and class officers sponsored a variety of activities. Student council planned the annual Homecoming dance and many other dances throughout the year. Juniors took on the responsibilities of the concession stand to raise money for a memorable prom for the seniors. All in all everyone in both student council and the student body played their part as leaders.

Buckeye Career Center

Back and Forth

Several students who attended Buckeye Career Center also took classes at NPHS. After a long morning of hard work at Buckeye, these students had to make the trip across town to finish off their studies at the High School.

Matt Wetzel, Travis Roth and Keri Jenkins are computer experts of the future.

Tori Chapman gives all her attention to her little student.

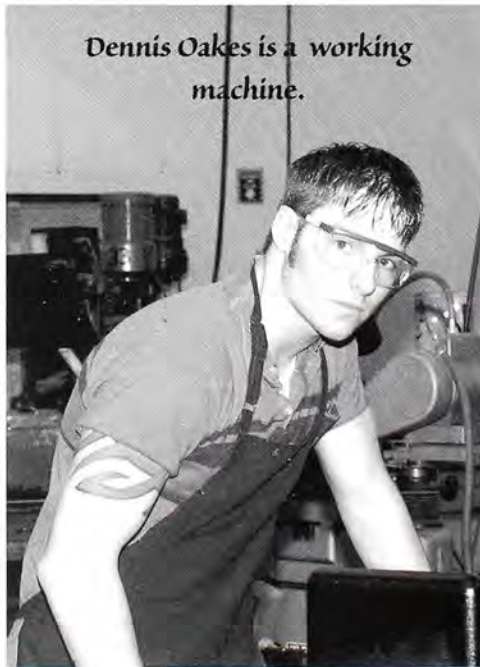

Tara is stressing to get done before class ends.

Chris May knows how to make sparks fly.

Dennis Oakes is a working machine.

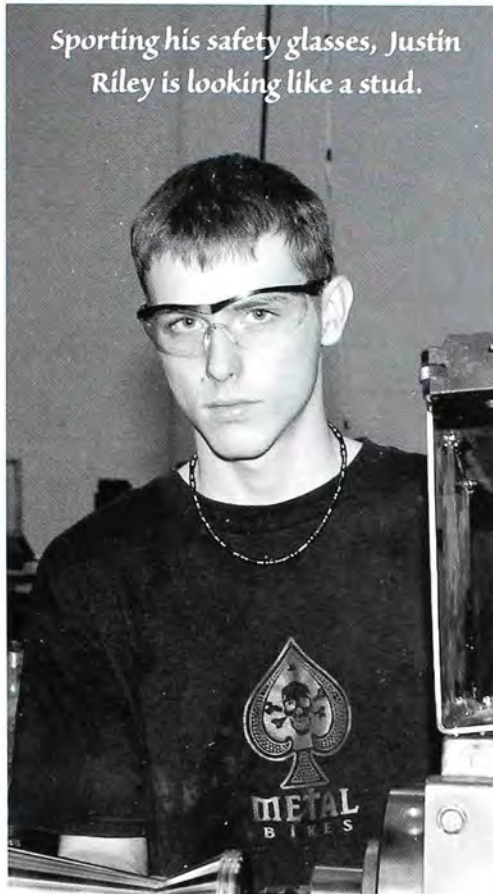

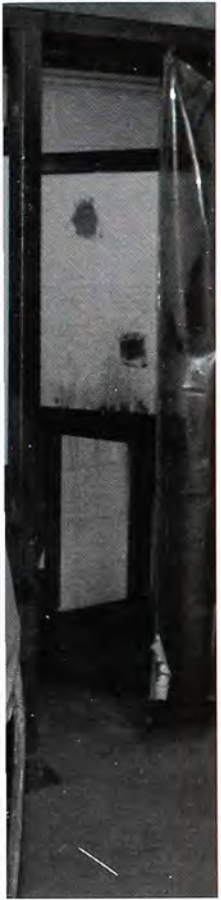

A sweet scent fills the room as Dara, Casey, and Tiffany finish up their flower arrangements.

Brennen Cline smooths out some bumps.

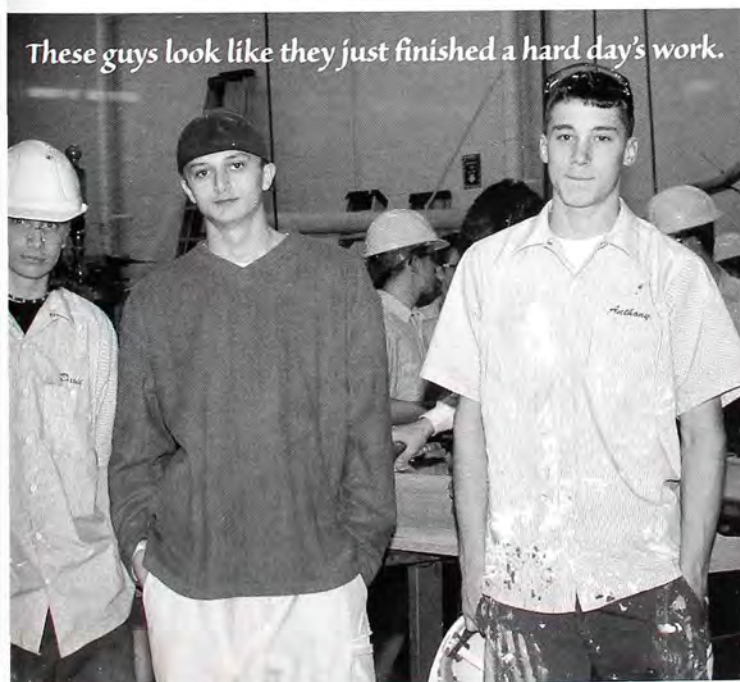

Chris Lahm is gettin technical.

Sporting his safety glasses, Justin Riley is looking like a stud.

Lucas Fox says, "PE-UWE these fish tanks stink"!

These guys look like they just finished a hard day's work.

Darcy Krieger thinks she's a computer genius.

BJ Parson says, "This electrical work is a shocking experience".

Bel Canto, Concert Choir

One Voice

In choir not only is it important for you to have a decent singing voice, it is also important to sing together. The quality of the choir is the sum of all voices blended together. With that in mind, the Women's and Men's Chorus joined together to form the first ever combined concert choir.

Bel Canto

Michelle Kuhn
concentrates on her next note.

Giving it all she has, Missy Woods
belts a high note.

Amber Pottmeyer sings a solo at the collage concert.

The Concert Choir blows the crowd away with their overwhelming performance.

Ben and Tyler get into their patriotic song.

Bel Canto sings their hearts out.

Miss. Meinhart is proud of her choir's performances.

Bel Canto is eager to give it all they've got.

Eric Hershberger beats his bongos to give an added touch to the performance.

The freshman girls get everyone's attention as they toot their kazoos.

Concert Choir

"This song is intense", says freshman Kelli Devore.

Concert Choir boys make a joyful noise!

Hunter, Rob, and Ben look sharp in their blazers.

Concert Choir gets the crowd involved by clapping their hands.

Ladies Ensemble, Delphian Chorale

Ground Zero

The Delphian Chorale had planned their spring trip to New York City long before the events of Sept. 11. In March they traveled to NYC and had the opportunity to shop, sight see, and share their music.

Ladies Ensemble

The altos concentrate on hitting the low note.

Before setting off for their journey to New York, the Delphian performs at the collage concert.

The Ladies Ensemble use the Collage concert as a practice round for contest the following weekend, where they qualified for state.

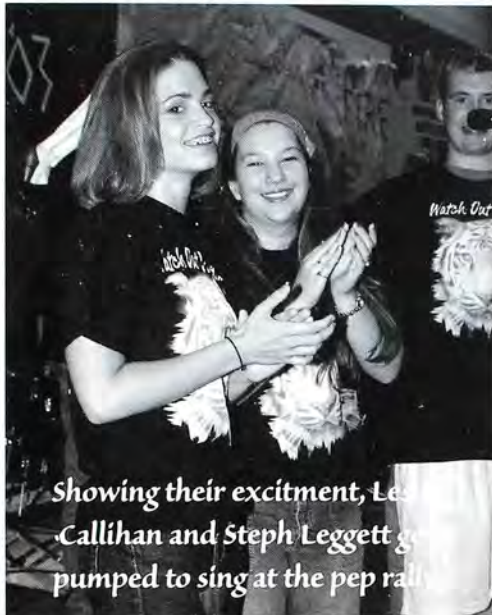

Kristin McKnight's smile adds some enthusiasm to the spiritual song.

Steve Plotts doesn't hold anything back as he blasts out his low note.

The first sopranos are relieved after belting out a high note.

Showing their excitement, Leslie Callihan and Steph Leggett get pumped to sing at the pep rally.

Delphian Chorale

Miss. Meinhart compliments Mrs. France on her skills.

Scott takes a quick breath after the exhausting dance routine.

Dancing to "The Eye of the Tiger", Meghan O'Farrell says, "get your groove on".

In a time of tragedy, the Delphian Chorale sings at the Court House to show their pride for America.

Moondancing

Winter Guard and drumline had very successful seasons. They were finalists in MEPA and WGI events. The drumline's show was a cross between marching band and indoor drumline. In Winterguard not only did you have to be able to dance you also had to spin and catch equipment (guns, sabres, and flags). Senior Rosie Miller said, "The key to a good performance was, finishing without any broken fingers. ha ha" The Winterguard danced to different versions of Van Morrison's Moondance for their competitions.

Kyle Mattevi really gets into his drum solo.

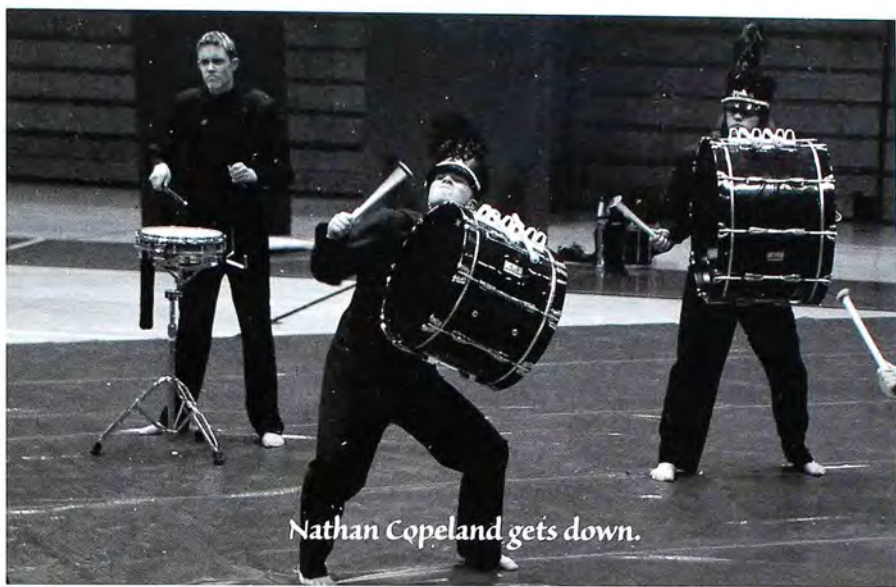

Eileen Grindle watches her rifle carefully as she waits to catch it.

Michael Case keeps his concentration during the show.

Mr. Furbay hangs one of the drumline props.

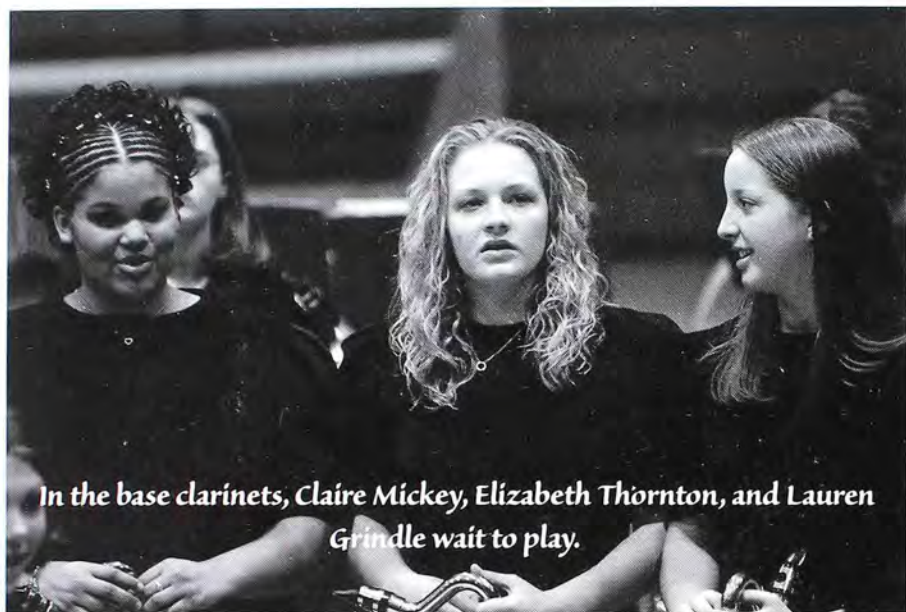

In drumline competition formation is key.

Kara Hubbard makes sure to keep perfect form for the judges.

Symphonic

After marching season, members of the band were far from finished. It was time for the Symphony Band. Members traded in their marching instruments for concert instruments and practiced three hours every Wednesday for the upcoming concerts.

In the base clarinets, Claire Mickey, Elizabeth Thornton, and Lauren Grindle wait to play.

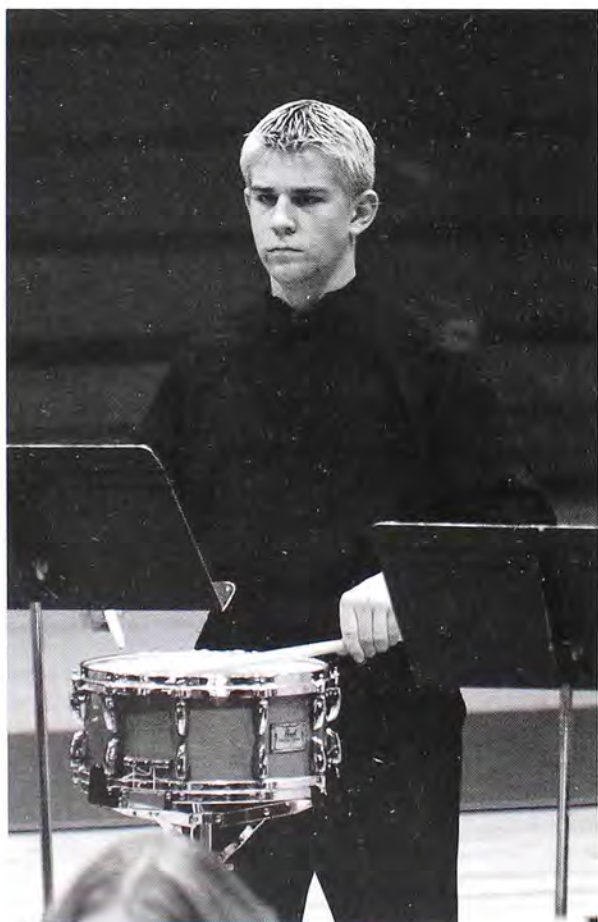

In the woodwind section, Gretchen Kreinbihl, Kara Dreher, and Ashley Studer wait for instructions.

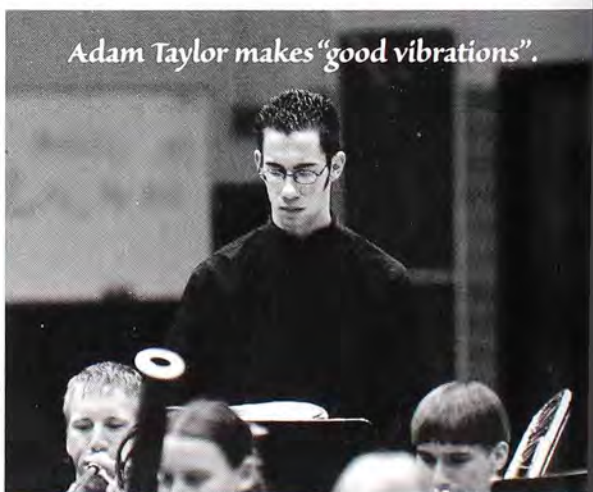

Kristen Barcus plays "with" her music.

Going blonde, junior Ryan Metzger, plays the snare.

Myndi Moore shows off her skill playing the flute.

Adam Taylor makes "good vibrations".

Chime time for Amanda Weigand.

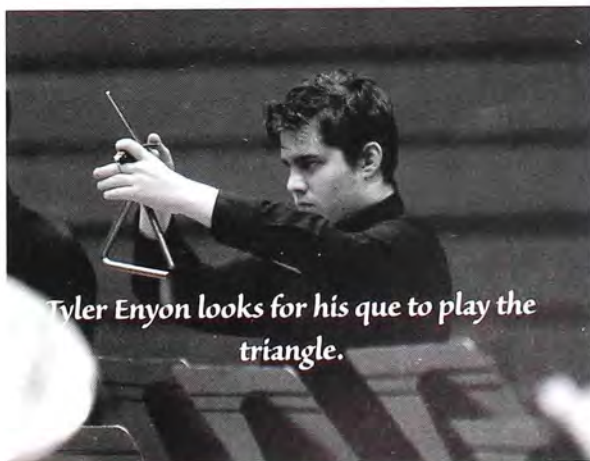

Mr. Angel conducts.

Krystal Cox plays "Prism" on the Basoon.

Danni Ross on the flute.

Tyler Enyon looks for his cue to play the triangle.

First chair saxophonist, Lindsay Carlisle, waits to be seated.

Perspective

What is it about art? So few people can draw or paint but we are all attracted to good art. There are a lucky few who can turn globs of paint and graphite into wondrous works. Some of New Phila's finest artist walked the halls unknown to the student body. The art projects in the Fine Arts show covered the spectrum from traditional to bizarre.

Twin, Kyle Hostetler shows off his self portrait, or is that Chase?

Justin Waddle displays his emotional side.

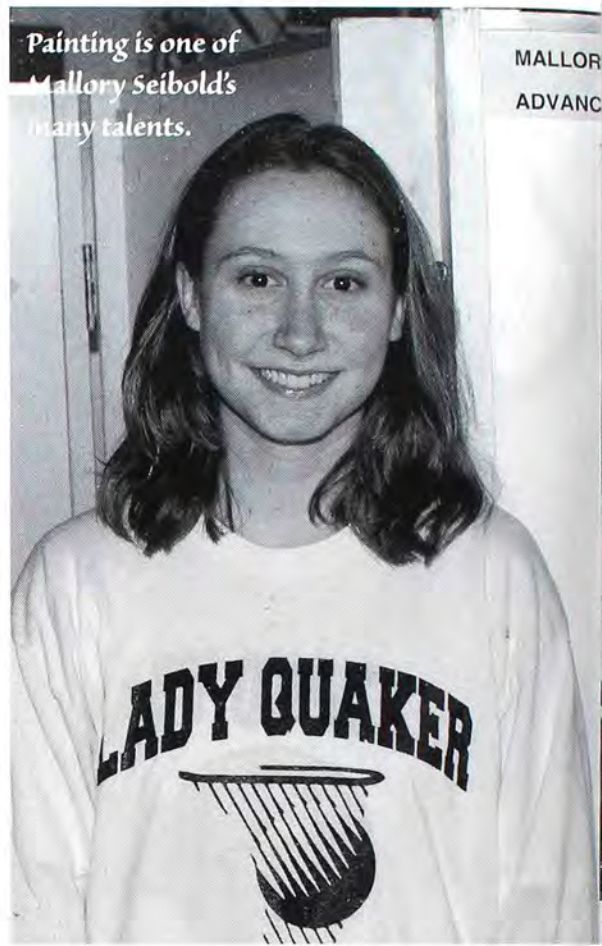

Ben Cox is proud of his great art work

Two heads are better than one.

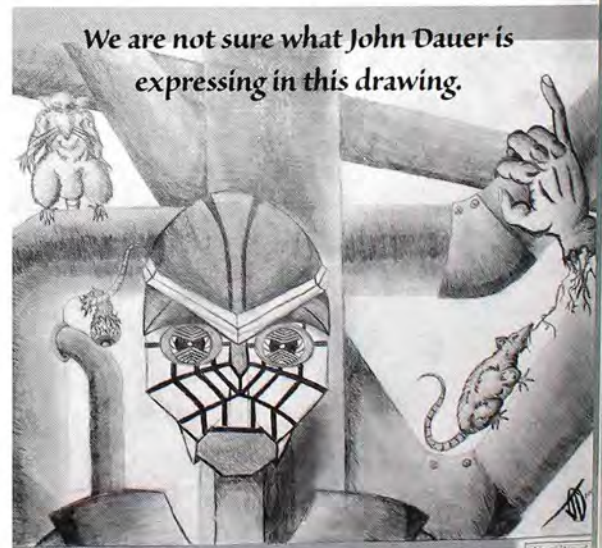

Painting is one of Mallory Seibold's many talents.

MALLORY
ADVANCE

Mike Matthews sees things a little different than the rest of us.

We are not sure what John Dauer is expressing in this drawing.

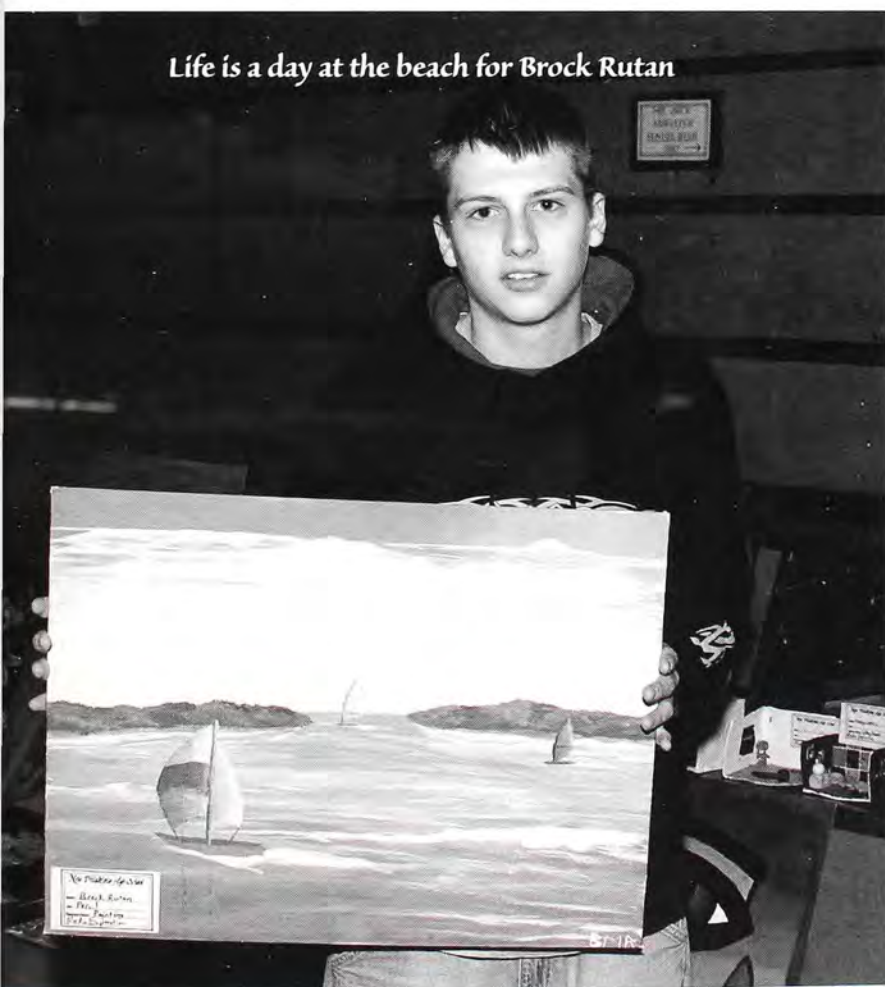

Looking at some of John's art could give you nightmares.

If you didn't feel like painting you could clown around and sculpt.

Life is a day at the beach for Brock Rutan

Luke Menapace tries something a little different.

Chad Milburn tries to capture the tragedies of 911.

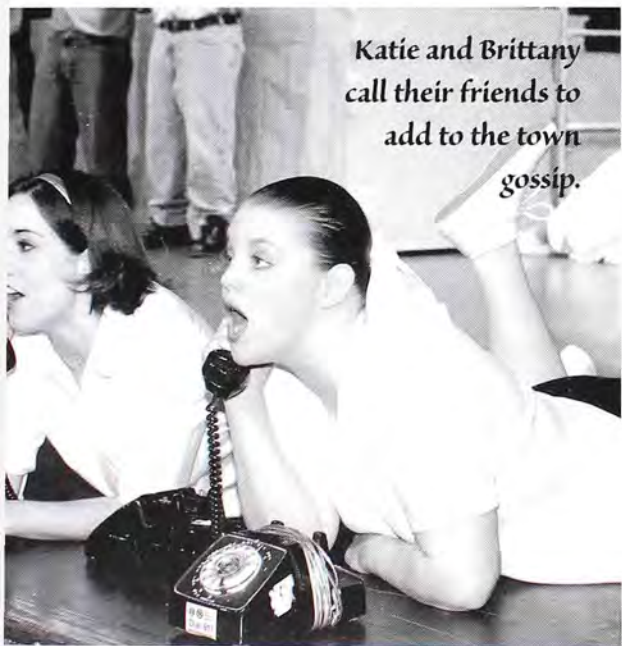

Music All

The 2002 spring musical, Bye Bye Birdie, consisted of a very diverse cast. "The best part about being in the show was all the new people that I got to work with, and the friendships that I made", commented senior Katie Smith. Although the people involved were very different they worked well together, and managed to put on an amazing production.

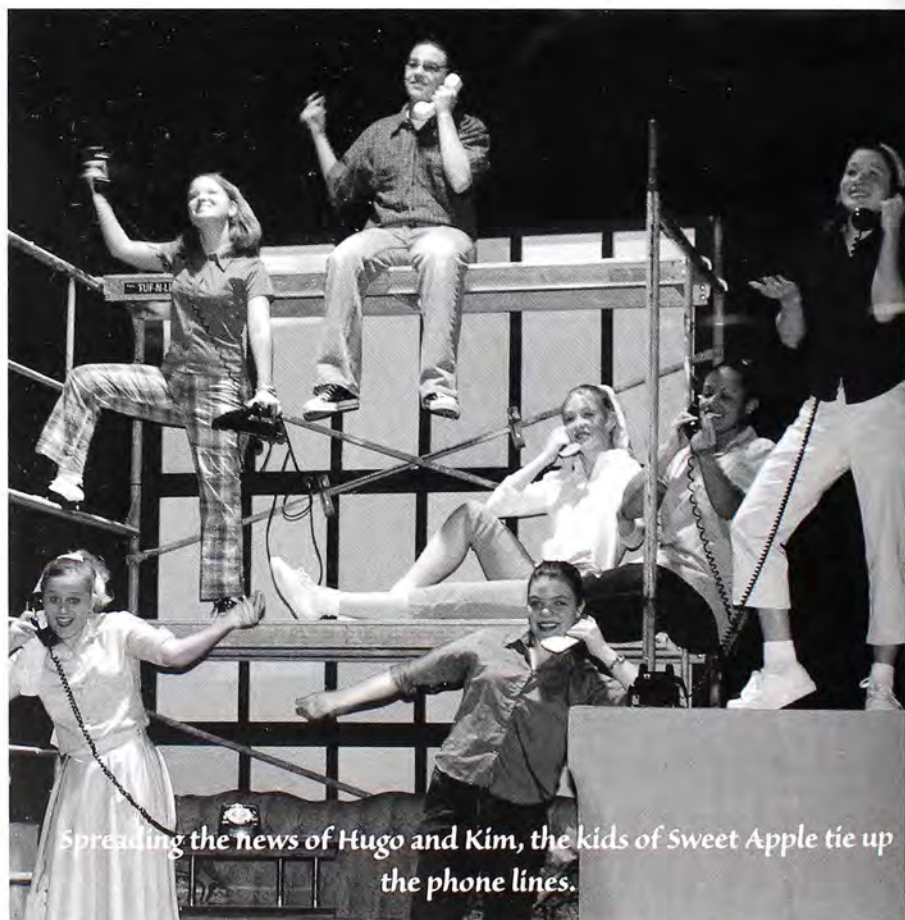

The New York girls sing to their idol, Conrad Birdie.

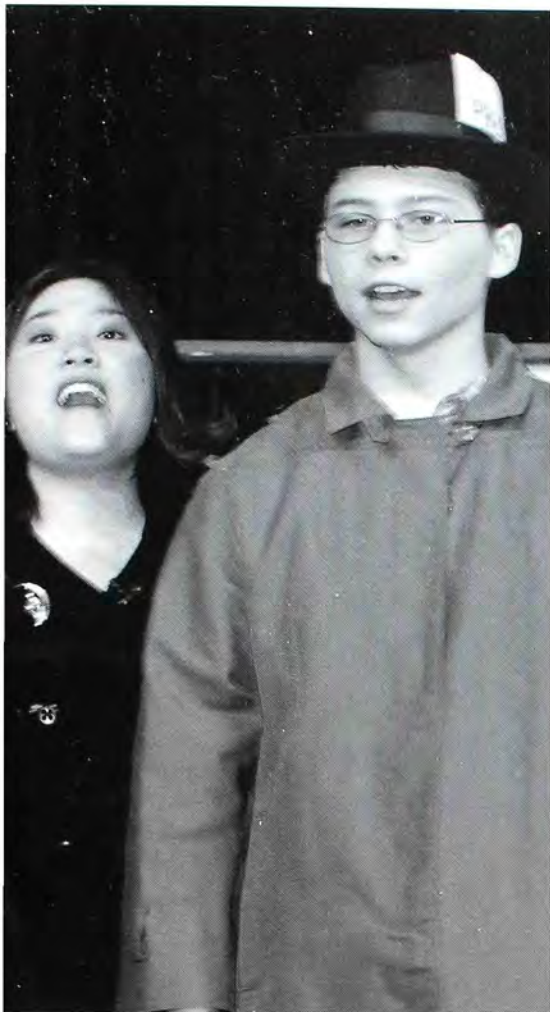

Katie and Brittany call their friends to add to the town gossip.

Allie Miller, otherwise known as Mama, gives her opinion on relationships.

Spreading the news of Hugo and Kim, the kids of Sweet Apple tie up the phone lines.

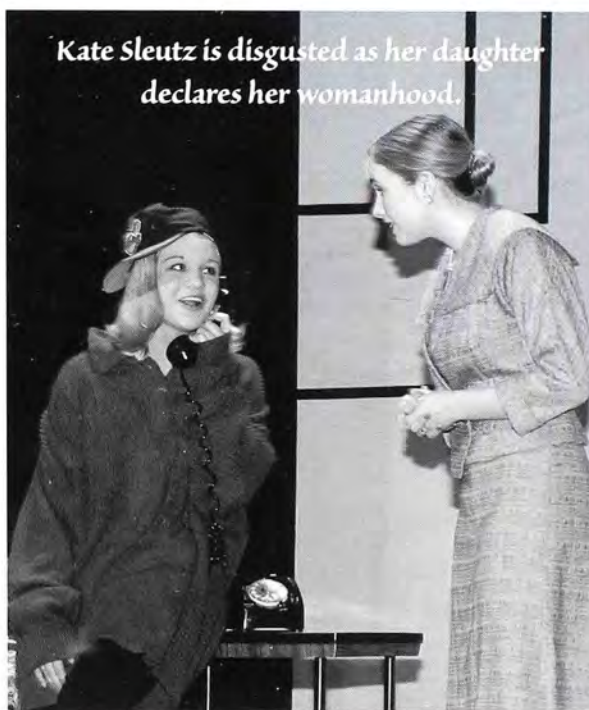

Being mobbed by reporters, Evan and Mandy are forced to cover for Conrad.

Evan Cihon convinces Shannon and Katie to put on a happy face.

Christina Fait says, "I love you Conrad!"

Kate Sleutz is disgusted as her daughter declares her womanhood.

Ryan Still is shocked when he hears about Conrad and Kim.

Kristin McKnight, playing Ursula, is Conrad's #1 fan.

Shannon Ullis pouts as she realizes that Conrad is leaving for the army.

Jim F

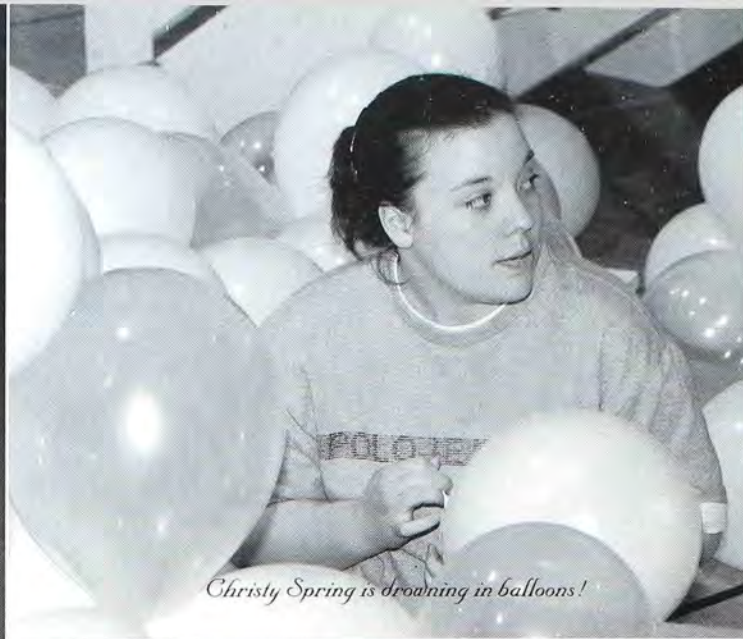

or The Stars

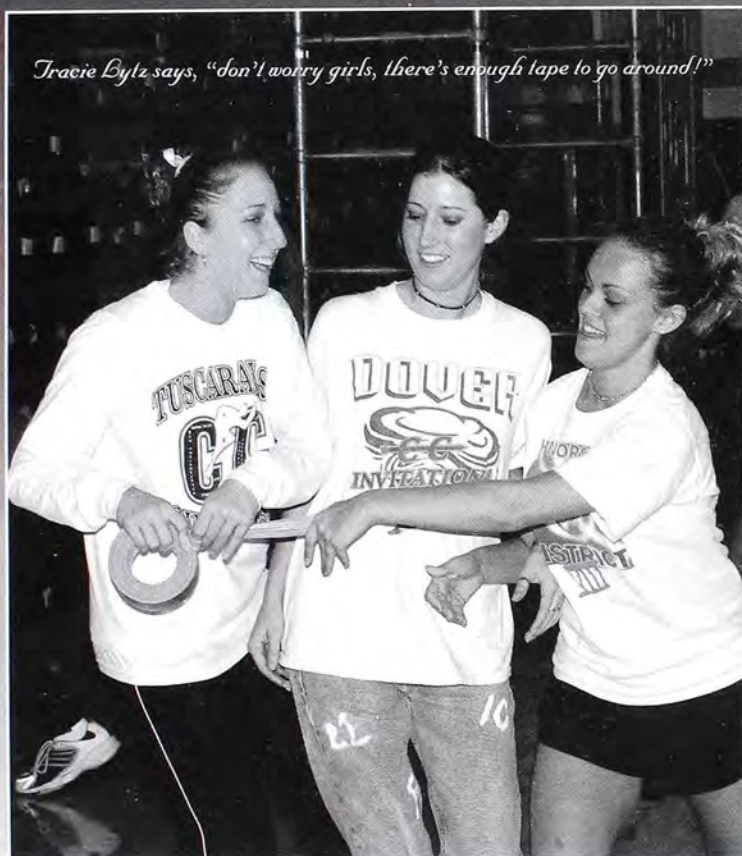

Ryan and Kristin argue over where to put the light post.

Christy Spring is drowning in balloons!

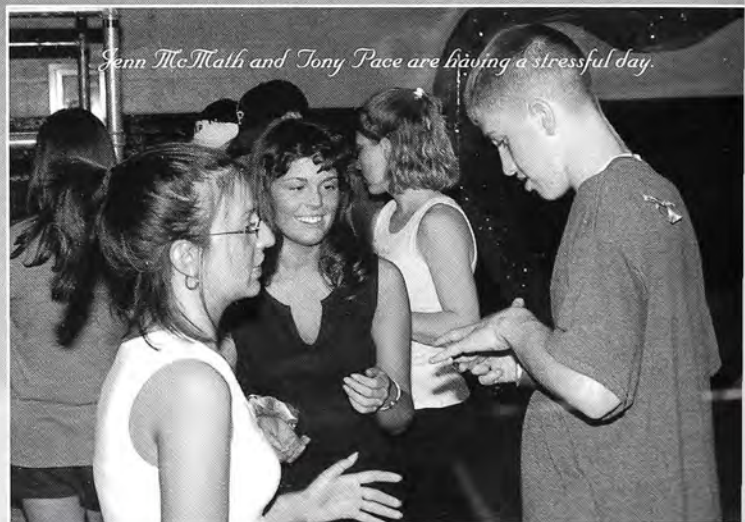

Tracie Byltz says, "don't worry girls, there's enough tape to go around!"

Lacey Sickinger and Jenni Albaugh make a plan.

Jenn McMath and Tony Pace are having a stressful day.

Mr. Fowles on his knees begging for help from the juniors!

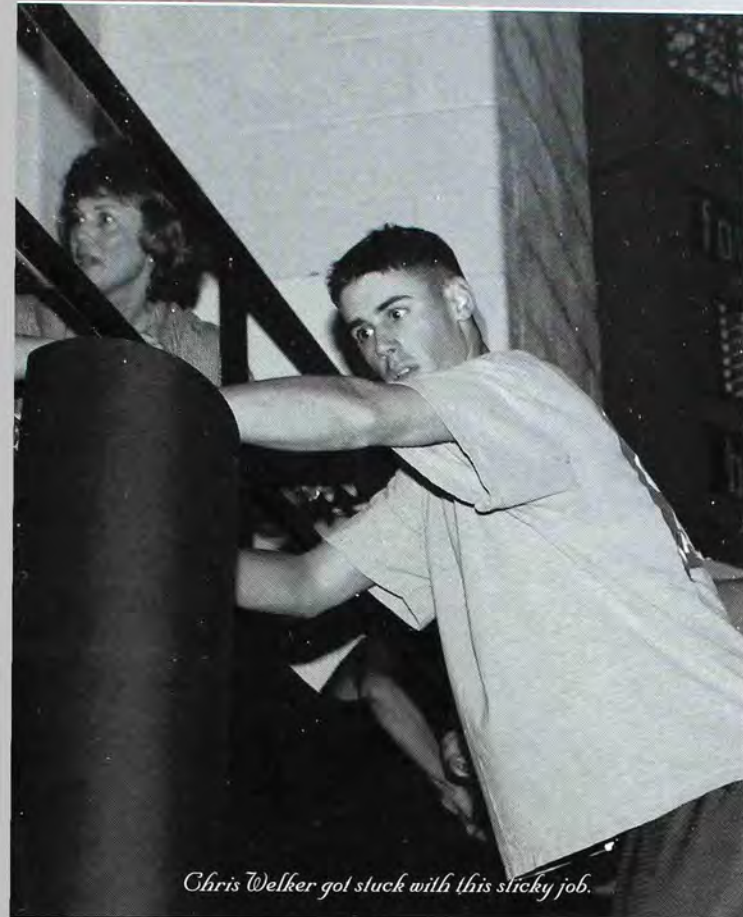

Amanda laughs at Jake's jokes.

Kyra Haas looks a little blue in the face after a long day of balloon blowing.

Chris Welker got stuck with this sticky job.

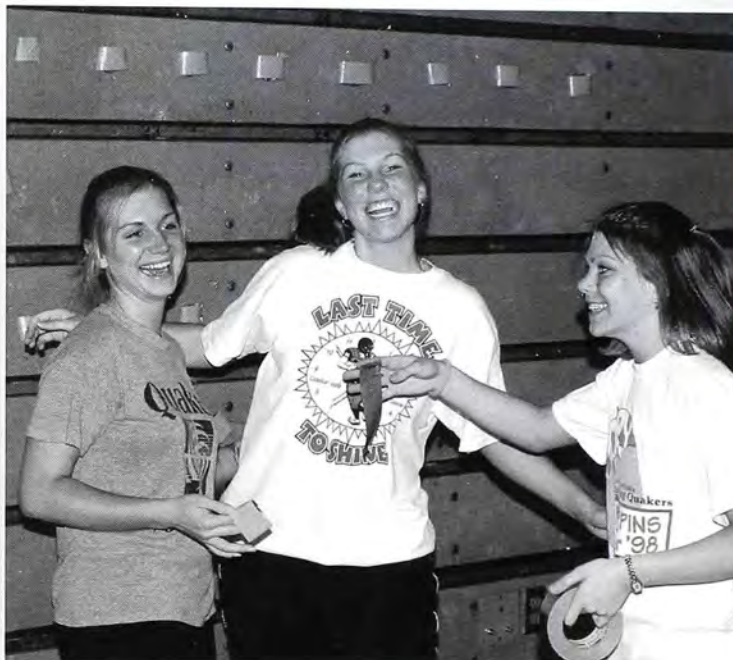

Adam Rupe directs traffic.

Chentelle Jackson is all tied up.

Leslie, Jenna and Kara are having a little too much fun.

Dizzy Times

Prom Setup 2002

Blowing up balloons for hours made for a lot of light heads for the junior class. With a theme of New York City the class chose to construct some of the traditional landmarks of New York such as the skyline, the Statue of Liberty and the Brooklyn Bridge. They still needed about a gazillion balloons which meant a lot of lung power. They finally got smarter and found an air compressor, but not until their lips were stuck in a permanent pucker.

Scott Sulzener shows Amber Ifft which side of the river is more fun.

Richelle Wigfeld and Ashley Macomber found some out of town dates.

Black was the in color for Blake Sattler and Shalyn Hooker.

Ashley Brooker and Chad Milburn take a break from dancing.

Kiris Ifft reaches Billy Robinson down the dance.

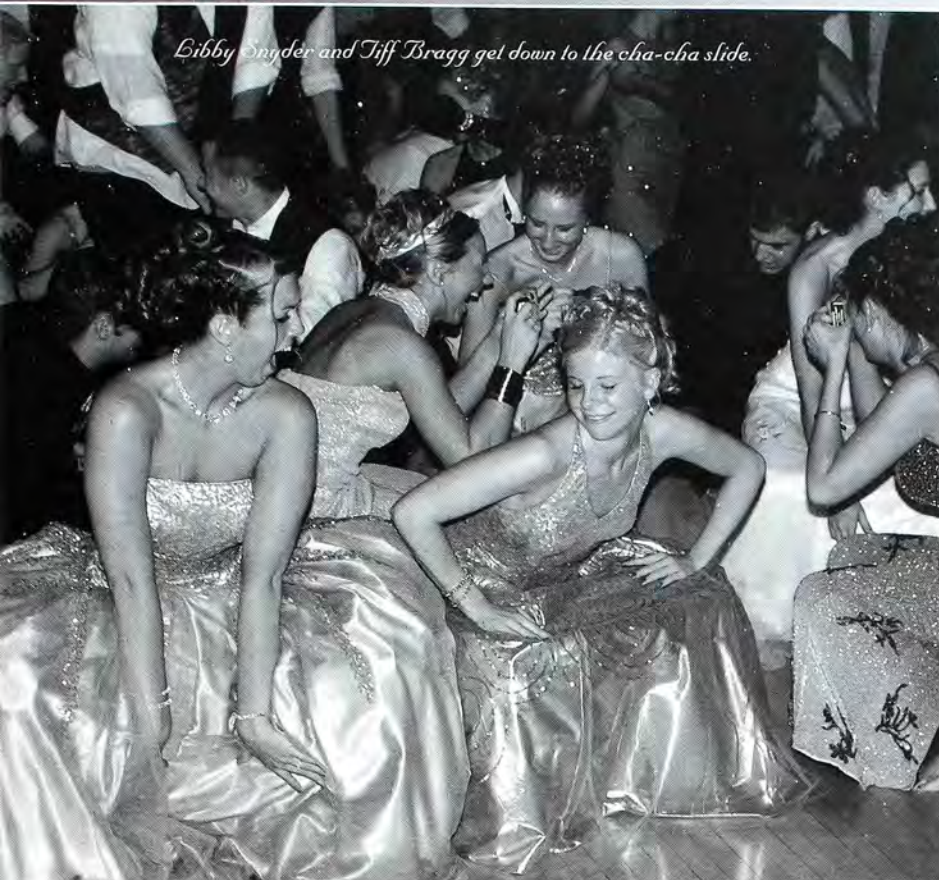

It's all about feathers for Mark Miller and Megan Lusic.

UNDER THE LIGHTS

Entering New York City via the Brooklyn Bridge the first thing prom goers noticed was the traditional overhead paper had been replaced by a myriad of lights. On a perfect spring evening couples got a head start with a 7:00 start time.

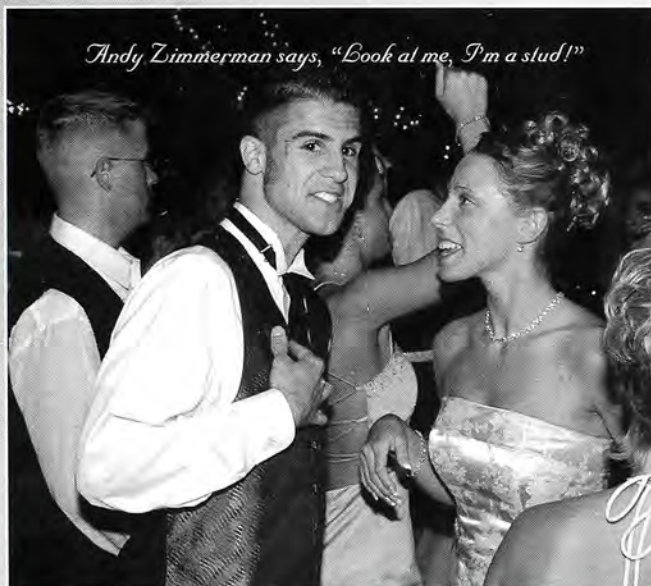

Ashley, Dennis, Brock, and Jinnalee swap dates after walk in.

Libby Snyder and Tiff Bragg get down to the cha-cha slide.

You don't have to be young to have a good time!

Andy Zimmerman says, "Look at me, I'm a stud!"

Kyle Hastetter is a thorn among roses.

WINDING DOWN

A gathering of Matt's.

Parcee Sulzener's favorite part of the day, 2:45!

Phillip Erb, Tony Pace, and Michele Gasser head home.

Tracie Lytz looks excited to go home.

Best buddies Ashley Macomber and Richelle Wigfield

Nikki Antonucci takes home a folder of homework.

Kim Zell just can't decide.

Chad Hughes on his way to the skate park.

Kyle Legget has all trump.

Shannon Ullis guards her locker.

Sophomores, soon to be juniors J.D. Roll, John Mako, Tyler Warner, and Ryan Holmes.

Russell Buehler seems sad to be leaving school?

One Last Point

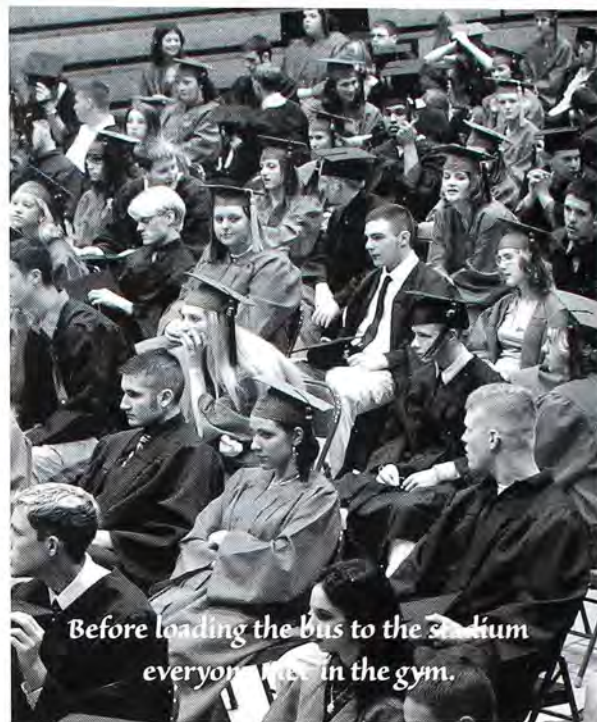

After a cold and rainy spring the annual Cedar Point trip was most anticipated. Not only did it mark the end of the school year for the seniors, a week earlier than the underclassmen but it was also the last school function the seniors participated in before becoming graduates of New Philadelphia High School.

With graduation near everyone was all smiles.

Before loading the bus to the stadium everyone was in the gym.

Waiting in line on a perfect Sunday afternoon.

Class President Katie Zeller

Field of Greens

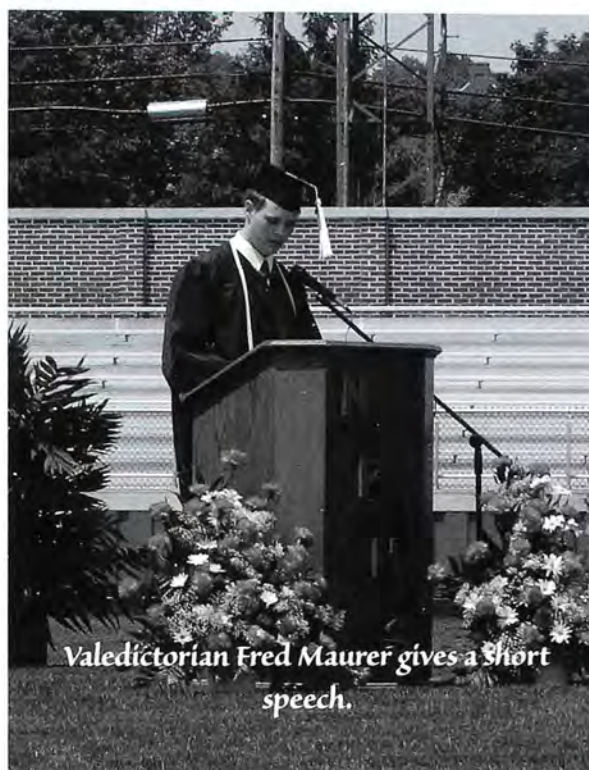

Anyone who drove by the stadium in early spring was sure that they would never get grass onto the field in time for graduation. We were going to be forced to graduate in the gym. In early May Danielle Edwards' father came to the rescue and spearheaded the placing of sod on the field giving the seniors a chance to graduate at the stadium.

Salutatorian Tia Rufener

Walking with their diplomas.

Valedictorian Fred Maurer gives a short speech.

Way to go Will!

A last "group hug" before graduation.

Britt receives her daisy.
