Foreword

This year, we, the Staff, have tried to give you something new and different in the Delphian.

We have used the newspaper for our theme, and have attempted to show you our school somewhat like a daily paper with its board of directors, editorial staff, subscribers, and news. We have chronicled our daily interests and activities as we as reporters have seen them. If we have not done this as you would have done it, we ask your indulgence, for after all, we are only amateurs.

PAJAMAS were invented by a woman who decided that if her husband wouldn't take off his shirt when he went to bed he might as well have some pants to it, so she ran up a pair. The shirt wore out, she left over from oriental sleeping suits at once? With a night shirt, you either find it or you don't—and if you don't find it you get your other night shirt out of the drawer and that. But with pajamas question of being halves at

Class History

As the end of our high school career is coming nearer and we see graduation just around the corner, we realize more and more that our high school days are the happiest in our life. If anyone had asked us a year ago how we liked school, we would no doubt have said, "Oh, it's all right, but I'll be glad when next year is over." But now since the time has come and we are faced with the problem of what to do after graduation, there are very few of us who, if given the opportunity, would not come back to school next year.

There were about 210 of us when we entered the Senior High School in the fall of 1936. Like any other group starting in on a new enterprise, we were a little hesitant about doing things here. It wasn't long, however, until we felt that we very definitely had a part in everything that happened.

We have certainly proved this from every standpoint. We have given to our school outstanding athletes in both football and basketball. Many of our number can boast of great scholastic attainments. We have given our musical organizations—the band, the orchestra, and the chorus—many of its best members. Nearly all of us have taken an active part in at least one and perhaps several clubs.

In our Junior year, we gave the annual Junior-Senior Prom, which we feel was definitely a success. Several times in our three years, we have sponsored programs to raise money for such worthwhile projects as the Prom and the Delphian.

As Seniors, we have tried to be very democratic in that we give each and every member a part in planning for graduation. This is done by means of committees, with every member serving on at least one committee.

Graduation will be a sad affair for most of us, but we should be happy; for, if we stop to think of our scholastic and athletic records, we should certainly be proud of our class. With that feeling, we should be ready to begin something newer, bigger and more important.

Many of us will continue our education, while others may not be so fortunate. In either case our high school education will have played a big part in our lives and will have laid the foundation for going onward to bigger things—

Senior Will

We, the class of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, realizing our weaknesses, but still mentally alert, do hereby make our last will and testament known to all men.

We hereby bequeath:

- Article I— To the Junior Class, our beloved text books, battle scarred desks, and our dignity as Seniors.
- Article II— To "Jake" Curtis, Frank Kinsey's good nature and joviality.
- Article III— To Ellen Cole, Ferne Schumacher's distinguished gait.
- Article IV— To George Robb, Jack Swisshelm's dignity and bearing as an able class officer.
- Article V— To the Juniors, the newest and best dictionaries for use in Miss Maurer's civics classes.
- Article VI— To Glenn Barker and Don Brown, Earl Fisher's and "Chuck" Swihart's basketball ability, which brought them state-wide recognition.
- Article VII— To Anne Hawk, "Libby" Cordray's athletic ability.
- Article VIII— To two fortunate boys, the good times had by "Bob" Price and "Kenny" Diefenbach as lab assistants to Miss Helmick.
- Article IX— To next year's tournament goers, all the hotels we didn't get a chance to make use of this year.
- Article X— To Louise Nolt, Merle Graff's studious inclination.
- Article XI— To Tom Shuler, all the headaches suffered by "Dottie" Reiser as editor of the Delphian.
- Article XII— To Lloyd Dinger, Louis Robson's rollicking laugh.
- Article XIII— To "Skip" Parsons, "Bea's" golden locks.
- Article XIV— To someone (???), Jack Price's ability to "strut his stuff," leading our classy N. P. H. S. band.
- Article XV— To Lucy Yaggi, "Snooks" Lile's way with our he-men.
- Article XVI— To the Sophomores and Juniors, the faculty, which is glad to see us graduating.
- Article XVII— To "Bill" Fagley, Bob Host's ability to juggle the Delphian finances.
- Article XVIII— To Mary Moffitt, Janet Bucher's sense of humor.
- Article XIX— To the Juniors and Sophomores, our school spirit shown in all sports events.
- Article XX— To Milton Fisher, "Chuck" Miller's view of the world.
- Article XXI— To Maxine Specht, Catherine Baker's ready smile.
- Article XXII— To next year's Delphian Staff, the task of composing and compiling the Delphian.
- Article XXIII— To a future class, our class advisers, Miss Beaber and Mr. Stoughton—but give them several years to rest.
- Article XXIV— To the Senior High School, our scholastic and athletic attainments to look upon with pride in years to come.

We do hereby appoint Miss Beaber and Mr. Stoughton, our esteemed advisers, as executors of this will, and do affix our seal to said will this twenty-eighth day of March of the year Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-nine, Anno Domini.

Life On the Campus

Gee, what a grin! Copying? All right, stingy Man, what a view! Posin'
Gee, that's a tough one Who zis comin'
The love bug 'll get ya if ya don't watch out Look pretty Please, marry me! Two of a kind Is that what school's like? What do you see? She's popular Am I bored?
. School again Do sisters always get along this well together? Tell us the joke . .
. . . . Poor boys Oh, is that the way it is?

This page is devoted to those who are blessed with a likeness. Although we are not all granted this privilege, we look with admiration upon these "Duo Personalities."

We regret that it is not possible for them to gain fame such as the quintts have, but we feel certain that they will go through life with some distinction. It is with this thought in mind that we feature them on this page.

"Could swell the soul to rage or kindle soft desire."

The poet might have been writing about the Senior Chorus in the lines quoted above. This organization gives to those students who desire it, training in the use of the voice to interpret and arouse in others the various emotions to which human beings are subject. It also gives them an opportunity to give vent to their own emotions in a beneficial way.

They also have a chance here to make several public appearances during the year, and to show the citizens of New Philadelphia that they can sing.

Miss Shaw

This organization, which is new this year, fills a need which has been felt for some time. Here the tenth year students who have had no outlet for latent ability can find out whether they have any aptitude for singing.

They get their training under the direction of Miss Shaw. Several times during the year they performed before audiences and were invariably received with enthusiasm.

Each month this club meets to present French plays, speak French, and play French games.

In this way the students become better acquainted with the French people and their customs. Also, by corresponding with French people they have learned more about reading and interpreting French.

By furthering this project in the school, their adviser, Miss Wicks, has increased the students' interest in French.

The German Club serves as an added incentive to those who wish to learn German. This club has the distinction of being the only language club in which the members speak that language exclusively.

Each year the club has a banquet for those members whose grades are A or B. This banquet is the big social event of the club.

Miss Felton, the adviser of the club, keeps the students entertained at each meeting by always having something of interest on hand.

Your correspondent happened upon a scene of very queer consequence one day last March. He was confronted by the sight of what appeared to be a hilarious street parade. But, upon further investigation it was found to be a re-living of an ancient Roman funeral procession.

Delving further into the activities of this club, which is by the way, the Latin Club, I found that such things as this were common occurrences in the club's meetings. Each meeting is taken up by looking into the lives of the ancient Romans and studying their language.

Miss Rutledge, its adviser, always has some interesting subject to discuss in the meetings, and the popularity of the club has rapidly increased, due to her excellent leadership.

Despite the fact that this year's debate team is made up almost entirely of new members, it has again, as in years gone by, come through with flying colors. It has, in truth, had a very successful year with only a few losses and a number of victories.

The team found this year's debate question, "Resolved: That the United States should establish an alliance with Great Britain," interesting.

May next year's debate team do as well as, or better than, this year's, and again shower New Philadelphia with fame and glory.

We are glad to welcome into the circle of clubs this year, our newest activity, the "Central News." Although this is not our first school paper, it is published this year under a new policy. Heretofore, it was a Girl Reserve activity. Now it has become a school project, and boys and girls work together to give us a bulletin of the daily activities of the school.

Under the direction of the adviser, Miss Shumaker, the editors, John Lawler and Dorothy Harris, and the business manager, Milton Fisher, this paper has been given a good start. We are expecting big things from it in the future.

As a reward to the students who find it worth while to work for outstanding grades, New Philadelphia High School offers the Honor Club.

Its leaders, Miss Felton, Miss Helmick, and Mr. Williams, endeavor in every way to help those students who have "helped themselves." They have seen to it that the standards of the club are held high and that only the worthy students are admitted.

There are two kinds of members, associate and active. Any person who has maintained a grade not lower than two A's and two B's for one semester becomes an associate members. Students who maintain this standard for three semesters become active members. Those who maintain it for five semesters become life active members.

The numbers after the names of the members indicate the number of semesters the person has maintained this standard.

As a recognition of the achievement of this group of students, the College Club of the city holds a reception each year for the Honor Club members.

The Hi-Y, which is the oldest club in the school, boasts of the fact that its treasury is always full. Due to the work and interest of the members, this club has made its wealth through dues and selling programs at the football games.

At various intervals during the school year the boys have heard very entertaining and educational talks given by Mr. Ortel of the State Highway Patrol and Judge Lanneck, who presides over the Juvenile Court of this county.

Each summer delegates from the club go to the Hi-Y camp at Nelson Dodd. Also, for the first time, the club sent delegates to the State Hi-Y Convention held at Massillon this year.

This is an all-boys' club, whose ideals closely resemble those of the Hi-Y. This year the club has greatly enlarged its membership and seems to have set out to blaze a trail of glory for the club as well as for the school. It might well be called the Varsity P Club, as it is made up largely of athletes.

Mr. Stoughton and Mr. Steffen are the faculty advisers of this group.

If you walked past the auditorium during the sixth period on the fourth Tuesday of any month, you would probably hear such sayings as these:

- "Minutes are pennies."
 "Obtain and keep a good credit rating."
 "Always be accurate in your work."

The Commercial Club would be meeting with their adviser, Mr. Steffen. Sometimes they have speakers to talk to them about business and business firms.

But they do not stick entirely to business. They also have social affairs, such as theater parties, social gatherings, and a farewell banquet for the senior members.

This group chosen from among the women of our city serves to advise the Girl Reserves on their activities.

Their effective work has had much to do with the growth and success of the Girl Reserves in our schools.

Due to the efficient labors of this Council, the Girl Reserves of New Philadelphia can boast many extra activities not found in the Girl Reserves of many larger schools.

This is the Triangle of the Girl Reserves that teaches the girls how to dress and act to become more charming. This year they have had Mr. Abel, Mrs. Taylor, and Miss Bean to tell them about their personal appearance, and Miss Alberson and Mrs. Getter to tell them something about etiquette and conversation with boys. This Triangle is guided by Miss Myer.

The Dramatic Triangle, which is one of the outstanding Triangles of the Girl Reserves, is popular with many of the girls because it shows them how to be the footlight heroines of tomorrow.

The finest project which they undertake each year is presented at Christmas time, when they blossom forth with a crowning stage success for the benefit of the younger citizens of our fair city. However, they also receive favorable ovation when each spring they act for those present at the Mother-Daughter tea.

Each year the girls look forward to visits from people interested in the stage. Mrs. Paul Roby, Mrs. Erma Maughiman, and Miss Bertha Kinsey have favored them with visits this year.

For the girls with an artistic inclination, the Girl Reserves offer the Crafts Triangle, which furthers and stimulates the girls' desires to knit, sew, embroider, and make articles of artistic value.

This club is very efficiently led by Miss Steiner, who unselfishly gives much of her time and energy toward building one of the largest Triangles in the Girl Reserves.

The meetings of the Triangle are always dominated by the busy hum of activity as the girls work on their projects.

Though this Triangle is one of the youngest of the Girl Reserve Triangles, being only two years old, it has already become very popular with the musical prodigies of our school.

Led by Miss Helmick, the girls have really given out those sweet notes which constitute many of the favorite songs of the students of New Philadelphia High School.

We believe this Triangle has made great progress in the musical field, due to the efforts of its leader and to the excellent co-operation of its members.

Story

Spring fever hits Brookfield College the day before Commencement, and a great deal of excitement is the result. At Mrs. Spangler's boarding-house, Howard spends the day worrying about his graduation, for Professor Bean plans to flunk him in zoology if his theme papers are not handed in on time.

He has a hard time working on his paper, for Ed Burns, a major in chemistry, sets off continual explosions. Lou Herron, a major in journalism, runs in occasionally to use the typewriter.

Anne Purcell, Howard's girl friend, asks Howard to give his room to her father for the night, as she has forgotten to reserve rooms for him. Vic Lewis, a major in art, is expecting a model to pose as a Bolshevik spy, and mistakes Mr. Purcell for the model. The results are disastrous, for Mr. Purcell withdraws his offer to present the school with a new science building. Mrs. Purcell comes searching for her husband, who she believes has been kidnapped.

All these interruptions cause Howard's paper to be late, but his Aunt Maude arrives and fixes up everything by flattering the professor. Then president Dixon refuses to let Howard graduate because he blames him for the trouble with Mr. Purcell. Anne steps in and becomes the leading character in a death-bed scene. As a result, Mr. Purcell signs the paper endowing the new science building and allowing Howard to graduate.

All turns out well, and all go to the Commencement Ball; that is, all but Lou. Ed's room blows up at the last minute, and Lou, very angry, is left without an escort.

The Girls' Athletic Association is a club organized for girls in the Senior High School who are interested in sports. To become a member of the club, one must earn one hundred points by hiking, skating, basketball, volley-ball, baseball and the like.

At the beginning of the year Miss Parson and Miss Lincoln were the advisers, but California and married life beckoned, so the club lost Miss Lincoln, and Miss Parson carries on alone.

The club holds its meetings the third Friday of each month, and at the end of the year, a large letter is given to all girls having earned the required number of points.

An Almost Perfect Record

Since 1934 New Philadelphia has become firmly established in the annals of Ohio's sports scribes as one of the outstanding football towns in the state. In that year was begun a string of seldom-interrupted victories that has continued for the last five years, and to all outward appearances will continue for some time to come. The 1934 aggregation started it all by emerging from a stiff campaign with a record unblemished by defeat. Only two teams had the distinction of scoring one touchdown against them, Newark and East Liverpool. 1935 saw the men of the Red and Black suffer their only defeats at the hands of Akron South and mighty Massillon High. In '36 Bellaire was the only team to turn the trick. A great team bogged down in 1937 to suffer an undeserved reversal at the hands of Lorain, 14-6. During the last campaign, Lorain again was the team to spoil an undefeated season. Looking at the cumulative record over the period of five years, we see Phila teams entering the fray fifty times and emerging victoriously forty-four times. May this record continue to gain momentum in the years to come.

The Games

Sept. 16 QUAKERS EDGE DENNISON 13 TO 6 IN OPENER

A green and inexperienced Quaker eleven edged out a fighting crew of Dennison Railroaders in the season's opener. Bud Stonebrook, varsity halfback, was injured in this game, and after attempting to play in the next three games, had to lay aside his uniform for the rest of the year.

Sept. 23 QUAKERS SMASH ZANESVILLE ELEVEN 21 TO 0

Showing marked improvement over their play against Dennison, the Golden Wave of N. P. H. S. smashed down the Blue Devils of Zanesville 21 to 0 in the second game of the season. An air-tight defense and an offense that improved as the game progressed spelled defeat for the Spartans.

Sept. 30 POWERFUL LORAIN CLUB TOPS QUAKERS 14-7

Experience was the margin of victory in this thriller. Offering no alibis, we say that Phila would have beaten the Lavenders if the game had been played later in the season. As it was, the winning touchdown was made on a lateral pass that was, to say the least, questionable.

Oct. 7 QUAKER ROUGH RIDERS ROLL OVER LINDSLEY 20-0

With their old coach, Johnny Brickels, sitting on the bench to inspire them, a crippled Quaker eleven played inspired ball to register their third victory. Two regulars were on the bench and four others were hampered because of injuries and colds.

Oct. 14 QUAKERS ROUT E. LIVERPOOL POTTERS 24-14

Entering the game strictly as underdogs, the Phils rose to glorious heights to mar the Potters' unblemished season record. A deadly offensive weapon was unleashed by the Quakers which proved too much for the Rivermen to handle.

Oct. 21 QUAKERS ROUT DAYTON ROOSEVELT 40-7

In the last nocturnal game of the season, the Quaker reserves got their long awaited chance. Playing more than half the game, they sparkled in every department as the regulars watched from the bench with envy.

Oct. 29 QUAKERS CRUSH POWERFUL NILES HIGH 13-0

Boasting the best defense encountered by the Red and Black up-to-date, the Niles outfit almost proved a stumbling block to the fast-stepping Quakers. However, the regulars played as a unit less than three quarters.

Nov. 5 QUAKERS CRUSH BELLAIRE'S BIG RED 14-0

If ever a football team approached perfection, the Quakers did in this game. Eleven men played the entire game; not a substitution was made. Bellaire was out-classed in every department. The nearest they came to Phila's goal was the 32-yard line.

Nov. 12 QUAKERS EDGE STRONG STRUTHERS CLUB 7-0

Shades of Frank Merriwell! In the most thrilling finish seen here in many a year, the battling Quakers barely managed to squeeze under the wire with a touch-down pass in the last minute of play. However, the score does not indicate the true margin of victory, for it was a most decisive victory as far as statistics go. What a game!

Nov. 24 QUAKERS DEFEND COUNTY TITLE 7-0

Playing on a field lined with snow-drifts, on a day that was meant for anything but a football game, a gallant New Philadelphia team closed another highly successful season by defeating its arch-rivals, the Dover Crimson, 7-0. Again the margin of victory was not justly recorded by the score. Dover actually gained, in net yardage, a mere 5 yards. Again and again Phila threatened, only to be repulsed by a game Dover line.

support, a newcomer to pound the other American ball owners had been unretiree players on him as manager. For nineteen years he held the job, buying and assembling the team that helped the Yankees win in 1921, '22, '23, '26, '28, '36, '37 and '38. He took his elevation calmly, words to reporters were, "I haven't changed any, my new job will still be to get the best players in the league." In agonies of the ball club (same as they have been).

Angered Red Sox

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Jan. 17—Riding the crest of a ten-game winning streak, New Philadelphia's Quakers have this usually peaceful countryside all agog over basketball.

One of the state's few unbeaten scholastic cage teams, the Quakers rode to victory of this rail road town's Ohio Class A championship which eluded its grasp in the finals last year. Newark High's Wildcats repeated the locals, 23 to 27, in the 1938 final at Columbus.

New Philadelphia's basketball, in a city where schoolboy football perennially has been the major issue, was begun last year when New Philly captured fifteen of seventeen games during the regular season and captured the first eastern Ohio district crown at Dennison O.

Here are details of the victorious winning streak:

- New Philadelphia 61, Zanesville 30.
- New Philadelphia 60, Akron 49.
- New Philadelphia 69, Massillon 34.
- New Philadelphia 60, Akron 50.
- New Philadelphia 60, Cleveland (outlets) 52.
- New Philadelphia 24, Green 22.
- New Philadelphia 60, Massillon 34.
- New Philadelphia 63, Akron 49.
- New Philadelphia 60, Massillon 34.
- New Philadelphia 58, Port Huron 40.

The fast-stepping Quakers' season after season has been a home town boy who makes good here in a big way and the local fandom will attest.

Hoernemann, who graduated from Heidelberg College only last year, is the first player to be named Johnnie Bricks' man of the year to Huntington (W. Va.) last year.

The onrushing Red and Black game machine is built around three wheels. The top wheel is the record book, the middle wheel is the season's top players, the bottom wheel is the state's top players.

COLUMBUS TOURNAMENT

BELLEFONTAINE CRUSHES NEW PHILA'S CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES

With a center that made "Bronco" Reese look as small as a sixth grader, Bellefontaine utilized superior height to good advantage and succeeded in eliminating our Quakers from the Columbus meet by a score of 40-32. Playing for the first time without All-Ohio "Chuck" Swihart, the boys just couldn't click. During the last half Phila, a team that is noted for sharpshooters, missed enough easy shots to win two or three ball games. To Bob Ferguson goes a whole carload of credit. This lanky center, who never played a full game in his life, took "Chuck" Swihart's place and not only played the entire game but was one of the individual stars as well. Glenn Barker, scrappy little dead-eye, led the individual scorers with 10.

The Cheer Leaders

Billie Diefenbacher, Clara Haman, Julia Nicola, Milford Carson

A flash of color, a roar of the crowd, and into view comes the noise of our school! This means our cheer leaders!

Using many new cheers and several new "tactics" this year, the cheer leaders have fired our school spirit as never before and have at all of our sports events brought forth magnificent roars from the followers and fans of New Philadelphia High School.

Though they are all new this year, they have succeeded in leading cheers which have helped to spur the team on to victory. We sincerely hope they may continue with as much success.

The Year's Highlights

SEPTEMBER

6. School starts with a bang!
7. Regular classes today. Sort of nice to get back, though.
9. Band drill and more band drill.
12. We're getting acquainted with the new teachers.
16. Hi-Y gets under way. New Philadelphia humbles Dennison 13-6.
21. G. A. A. organizes for the year.
23. The band, team, and students take Zanesville over for a while. Score 21-0. Many new friendships made, too.
30. Lorain is surely our stumbling block. Defeated 14-7.

OCTOBER

7. Defeat Lindsley Institute 20-0. Those uniforms were stunning; weren't they, girls?
14. Junior class meeting.
Wallop East Liverpool 24-14. Band struts their knock-out "Stardust" stunt again.
17. First assembly of the year.
19. Sophomore class meeting.

What Becomes of Our Seniors

Cleveland Plain Dealer, Cleveland, Ohio

June 2, 1949

Several months ago the editor of my paper called me into his office and gave me an assignment which I certainly have enjoyed. The task given to me was to travel over the United States to find out who were some of the most famous and well known people. As I traveled from city to city, I found some items that will be of interest to the Class of 1939. I herewith offer them to you.

RICHARD BEABER

Funnies

Dense Sophomore: "If a sophomore passes and becomes a junior, what does a senior become when he passes?"

Howard Phillips: "Surprised."

In a test given by Miss Baker, this question was asked: "Give the name of a poem that deals with the life of the common people." The name of the poem was "Cotter's Saturday Night."

"Chuck" Sturtz wrote: "Saturday Night at Cotterman's."

"Windy" Trimmer: "Yes, sir, our house is so small we have to use folding tooth brushes and condensed milk."

"Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
Riding in a motor car,
Who the heck do you think you are?"
"Castignola!"

Bob Host (swinging his partner away from him at a dance): "How does it feel to dance on your own feet for a change?"

Betty Lou Lehr: "Don't be sad, honey. Every cloud has a silver lining."
Max Waddington: "Did you ever see one in a hock shop?"

"Woody" Hayes: "Do you think that elevator boy stole your watch?"
"Doc" Stoughton: "He swore up and down he didn't."

"Dot" Miller: "When can I hope to receive that money you owe me?"
"Louie" Robson: "Always."

"Bea" Parsons: "If you can't swim, how come you weren't drowned when you fell off the dock?"
Bernard Winters: "I had on a pair of duck pants."

Mr. Bliss: "What is classical music?"
Norma (jitter bug) Ray: "It's a piece that threatens every minute to be a tune and then isn't."

Ann Ress: "Oh my, I feel sorry for those band members."
Erma Johnson: "Why?"
Ann: "They'll never get anything else done."
Erma: "What do you mean?"
Ann: "Mr. Bliss just said they were going to play "Stars and Stripes" forever."

Father: "Well, son, how are your grades?"
Sophomore: "They're under water."
Father: "What do you mean?"
Sophomore: "Below "C" level."

Funnies

Mr. Bender: "He's a star as an after dinner speaker."

"Jim" Galbraith: "Not a star; he's a moon."

Bender: "What do you mean, a moon?"

"Jim": "He gets brighter the fuller he gets."

Lloyd Reese: "Give me four pork sandwiches to take out."

Waiter (calling to cook): "Dress up four grunts to go walking."

Tom Shuler: "Where are you working now?"

Milton Fisher: "I'm a model in a furniture store."

Tom: "A model in a furniture store? What do you do?"

Milton: "Oh, I try on bedroom suits."

Mrs. Phillips: "Dear, I saw the sweetest little hat down town today."

Mr. Phillips: "Well, put it on; let's see how you look in it."

Olin Kaiser: "What is a fortification?"

Miss Maurer: "A fortification is a big fort."

Olin: "Then is a ratification a big rat?"

Miss Rutledge: "What is the Latin for 'He pretended he wanted to walk'?"

"Bill" Fagley: "Hitch, hike, hokum."

COMPARISON

If you want to see some laziness and drowsiness around,
Just take a look at the seniors sprawled out all over the ground.
If you want to see some freshness and energy sublime,
Just take a look at the sophomores who haven't served much time.

N. P. H. S. NEW DEAL FOR STUDENTS

1. Air cushioned seats.
2. Half-hour periods.
3. Private secretary and dictaphone for each student.
4. Refreshments served between classes.
5. Escalators.
6. Motor scooters for transportation to and from school.
7. Movies for book reports.
8. Chewing gum dispensers in each desk.
9. Radios in every room.
10. Four months' vacation.

The teacher in class was discussing pessimism and optimism.

She asked: "Are you a pessimist or an optimist?"

"Neither," replied Elizabeth Lintz. "I'm a Methodist."

Janet to "Libby": "What is your idea of a clean sport?"

"Libby": "Swimming."

Funnies

Addressing a meeting, Mr. Bender gave his hearers a touch of the pathetic. "I miss," he said, brushing away a not unmanly tear, "I miss many of the old faces I used to shake hands with."

Miss Rutledge: "Clyde, what do you consider the greatest accomplishment of the ancient Romans?"

Clyde Durbin: "Speaking Latin."

Mr. Howey was lecturing on charity. "Louie," he said, "if I saw a boy beating a donkey and I made him stop, what virtue would I be showing?"

Louie McClaskey (promptly): "Brotherly love."

Citizen: "Do your men get up bright and early?"

Coach Hayes: "Just early."

"Bob" Stein: "Let's cut classes and take in a movie."

"Bill" Barnett: "Can't do it, old man, I need the sleep."

Miss Wicks: "What does 'Mon Dieu et mon droit', mean?"

Ted Graff: "My God, you're right."

Martha Getter (comparing watch with town clock): "Hurrah! It's not as late as it would be if my watch weren't fast!"

"Doc" Stoughton: "There's no difficulty in the world that cannot be overcome, if you try hard enough."

Lloyd Reese: "Have you ever tried squeezing toothpaste back into the tube?"

LOST

A report card. If found please return to pupil at school. No reward if returned to parents.

"What model is your car, Frank?"

"Model! It's a horrible example."

Mr. Knisely: "What are the three most common words used in Sophomore conversation?"

Dick Kaiser: "I don't know."

Mr. Knisely: "Correct. Sit down."

Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and it laughs at you.

A LOVER'S QUARREL

A miss understanding and a man misunderstanding.

"'S funny it never repeats itself to me," said Coleman, poring over a stiff history exam.
